Unemployment Coverage Sets New Record

Payrolls covered by the Oregon unemployment law reached $307,778,633 in the first quarter of 1955, highest in history for a winter quarter, the state unemployment compensation commission reported Tuesday.

Gain in wages paid to covered workers from 1954 to 1955 amounted to $30,892,000 or about 7.3 per cent, but the increase in average employment was only 8,222 to 302,947 or 2.8 per cent. Payrolls were about 4 per cent higher than in early 1953, which was the previous all-time high for the period.

Average monthly pay for covered workers jumped to $338.50, highest figure for the winter months but about $30 below the all-time high in the late summer of 1954.

Logging and lumber operations provided much of the force behind the economic pickup last winter, according to tabulations from 2,882 firms in Oregon's main industry. Employment averaged 72,224, about 5000 more than the previous year but slightly below 1953.

Boy, 14, Booked On Three Charges

A 14-year-old boy was booked on three charges early Tuesday morning after he was spotted riding a bicycle in the 1800 block of Portland Road, city police reported.

Officers said the boy was charged with larceny of a bicycle, curfew violation and parole violation. The arrest was made about 3 a.m.

The boy was on parole from a correctional home in Washington, police said. He was turned over to Marion County juvenile authorities.

Phone Operators to Spin 'Wheel of Fortune'

Telephone operators like Loretta Leonard (above) will spin the wheel in a new-type Pacific Telephone Co. exhibit at Oregon State Fair this year. Spectators chosen from the audience (one each hour) will be given a free long-distance telephone call.

Telephone Display at Fair to Give Free Long-Distance Calls

A free, three-minute demonstration long distance telephone call will be one of the main attractions of the Pacific Telephone Co. exhibit at the State Fair which opens here Saturday.

Long distance telephone operators, once every hour, will spin the "Tele-Wheel of Fortune" to select a person from the audience to make a call to any place in the United States.

The telephone company's Salem manager, Elmer A. Berglund, suggests that persons planning to watch the show have ready the phone number of a friend or relative whom they would like to call. If a child should win the free call, one of his parents, or an accompanying adult, will be asked to make the call.

Another popular feature of the telephone display will be demonstrations of current technical improvements in the telephone industry. Pretty attendants will show such innovations as a telephone with a lighted dial, handy for use in a bedroom at night.

Also on view will be the newest telephone invention, a "speaker-phone" that comes equipped with a microphone and separate speaker. By merely pushing a button a person can hear, and be heard, without lifting the phone receiver.

An automatic answering device, which answers calls while a person is away from home or office, will also be seen.

Gay Nineties Revue Planned At State Fair

A free, two hour Gay Nineties revue featuring the Forest Grove Gleemen will be presented Sunday at the Oregon State Fair.

Big Toot and Little Toot, comedy instrumentalists, and top barbershop quartets from Forest Grove's annual barbershop contest and festival will perform in addition to the popular Rhythmaires quartet.

The show will be presented on the stage in front of the grandstand at 2 p.m. for one performance only.

Gay Nineties costumes, hair styles, music and atmosphere will be emphasized by the revue in keeping with the Gay Nineties theme of this year's fair. General pattern of the show will be similar to that presented during Forest Grove's original, all-north-west barbershop contest and festival.

A free show by the Oregon Folk Dance Federation will also be presented Sunday at the fair. An extra afternoon performance by the Bailey Brothers and Cristiani circus will be presented at 4 p.m. in addition to the regular shows at 2 and 8 p.m.

A total of six complete shows by all entertainment groups will be in progress Sunday, plus all other activities.

Train Mishap Snarls Traffic

A broken train coupling resulted in a snarl of traffic early Tuesday at the State, Court and Chemeketa Street grade crossings, city police said.

The coupling broke on one car of a 40-car Southern Pacific freight train on the 12th Street mainline, forcing the train to a halt and blocking the busy intersections.

Traffic was blocked for several minutes before a yard engine cleared the tracks.

Railroad officials explained that a broken coupling automatically sets brakes on all cars. Fortunately, the traffic blockade missed the morning rush hour, police said.
