Angels Blast Portland Twice; Seattle Splits

PORTLAND (AP)—Los Angeles won both ends of a doubleheader, 6-2 and 7-2, Monday as it opened its final Pacific Coast League baseball series with the Portland Beavers.

Broncs Rapped By Wenatchee

Yakima Takes Two From Spokane Club

WENATCHEE (AP)—The Wenatchee Chiefs closed out their 1955 Northwest League baseball schedule Monday by whitewashing the Lewiston Broncs on both ends of a Labor Day twin bill, 8-0 and 2-0.

Bob Roerts 3-hit the Broncs in the opener and Gene Hayden dished out the 7-inning nightcap. The twin bill was completed in the exceptionally fast time of two hours and 51 minutes.

The Broncs didn't get a man past second base during the two games, and only four men managed to get past first.

Wenatchee wrapped up the opener with five runs in the fifth inning on five singles. Jack Bukowatz' 2-run single was the key hit.

The Chiefs put more frosting on the cake with three runs in the sixth.

In the nightcap, the Chiefs got their first run in the fourth on Joe Rossi's single. Doug Boehmer's double and Phil Marvier's sacrifice fly.

Boehmer scored the second and final run of the game in the sixth when he scored from first on a throwing error.

A crowd of 2,676 witnessed the Chiefs' final game of 1955 bringing the season's attendance total to 79,421.

The Yakima Bears hammered out twin victories over the Spokane Indians Monday night in the windup games for both squads in the 1955 Northwest League baseball season. The scores were 4-3 and 7-3.

Siegel Grabs IE Golf Crown

HAYDEN LAKE, Idaho (AP)—Fred Siegel pulled no upset victory Monday when he downed Chuck Henton of Spokane 7 and 6 for the Inland Empire golf championship.

For Siegel, who went to lunch after the morning 18 holes with a comfortable five-up margin, this was his fourth straight Inland Empire title.

The champion's birdie shot at the 11th, after a second shot that spun to within four feet from the cup on the elevated green, made him seven on up with seven to play. Siegel and Henton then both hit the 185-yard par three 12th, and the match ended as they both came home in par.

Writer Wins Flight First flight winner was golfer-newsman Harry Missidine of Spokane who beat Harry Ruble of Seattle 2 and 1. In the semifinals, Ruble beat Lindsay Crosby 3 and 2 while Missidine took a 3 and 2 victory over Pullman's Buck Bivley.

In the second flight, Dick Uhlmann of Hayden Lake downed George Gray of Spokane 4 and 2. Jack Cronin of Fairchild Air Force Base at Spokane took the third flight with a 2-up win over the 1951 Inland Empire champ, Bob Lyons.

Cougars Show Offense Power

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Ray Alverado, a sophomore halfback, ran 60 yards for a touchdown around end Monday in a Washington State College football scrimmage that showed plenty of offense.

Bob Iverson, Bob Miller, Bill Kramer and Dewey Keith also scored and end Pete Toomey, a converted halfback went over twice on passes from Iverson.

Coach Al Kircher was pleased with sophomore Clarence Coplin, a halfback from Seattle who played the whole scrimmage. Dick Temby, a sophomore quarterback, also looked good. So did Ev Gust and Jim Hagerty in the backfield.

The veteran Cougar line, which worked in front of the first run backs, yielded only one touchdown to the reserves.

While the offense sparkled, it raised the question of defensive depth for the Sept. 17 opener at Los Angeles against USC.

Kircher said Keith came out of the rough scrimmage with a foot injury and that X-ray pictures will be taken to determine how serious it is.

Gal Tops Money Winners in Derby

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—Virginia Morgan of Portland was one of the top money winners in the Lower Columbia River salmon derby, which ended Monday.

Her 47-pound, 4 1/2-ounce salmon was the biggest fish caught in the Chinook, Wash. derby. It brought her top prize money of $1,000. She also won an additional $100 for turning in the largest fish caught by a woman.

Jerry Nelson, Sunnyside, Wash., won the Astoria competition and $1,000 for his 45-pound, 12 1/2-ounce fish.

Norman Myers, Portland, won the Warrenton, Ore., $1,000 derby with his 50-pound, 4-ounce salmon.

Vandal Tackle Breaks Ankle

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho football team scrimmaged for the first time Monday and it put sophomore tackle Bob Prestel out of action for the rest of the season with a broken ankle.

Prestel, a promising 205-pounder from Indianapolis, Ind., was hurt in a 30-minute contact drill. The team doctor said his ankle will be in a cast six weeks and Coach Skip Stahley said he is out for the year.

The Vandals, practicing twice a day for the opener at Washington Sept. 17, scrimmaged an hour in the afternoon.

"I wasn't exactly pleased with the scrimmages," Stahley said, "but I can't say I'm unhappy either. We have made some progress in the first five days."

He started the offensive scrimmage with a backfield of Gary Johnson, Wilbur Gary, Ray Biltner and Bill Baxter.

Antonelli Back In Good Graces

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants was back in good standing Monday after apologizing to Leo Durocher for his outburst against the manager during a game with the Phillies in Philadelphia Saturday night.

The penitent southpaw, suspended "indefinitely" and sent home for "insubordination," arrived early at the Polo Grounds before Monday's doubleheader with Pittsburgh and held a 20-minute conference with Durocher behind closed doors.

At the end of the confab, Durocher announced to newsmen he had lifted the suspension on Antonelli and the pitcher was back in good standing.

"Everything is straightened out," Leo said. "Antonelli told he's sorry he popped off. He said he realizes he said things he shouldn't have said and wanted the entire episode forgotten. It's forgotten as far as I'm concerned. I think Johnny realizes now that a team can have only one manager."

Asked whether Antonelli had actually apologized for his criticism of Durocher when he was lifted in the fifth inning and his subsequent statement that he "can't pitch for this blankety-blank club," Leo said: "There was no need for him to apologize. Let's say we just had a talk."

TKO Stops Puleo NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Courchesne, a spunky Holyoke, Mass., lightweight stopped Tony Puleo of Brooklyn on cuts to win a technical knockout in 1:29 of the ninth round of a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. Puleo weighed 135, Courchesne 131.

'Cas' to Hold Secret Drills

EUGENE, Ore.—Coach Len Casanova announced Monday that future morning practice sessions by the University of Oregon football team will be held behind locked gates.

The Ducks, he said, will be working on plans for their opener against Utah in Salt Lake City later this month.

Meanwhile, the scramble for guard positions continued. The leading contenders are Reanous Cochrane and Spike Hillstrom. But six others also are being considered, Casanova said.

Handicap Won By City Flyer

Form players fared better in the fifth and sixth races, won by Napolad and Nilmelior respectively. Both were short-priced favorites.

Aspen, another long shot, also tied the track record for five furlongs when he romped home first in the seventh race, paying $34.50. The quinela was $127.10.

George Ramp, veteran Brooks harness racer, escaped with bruises when Dolly Madis dumped him from his sulky at the start of the second race. The spirited horse finished the entire mile race with one wheel of the sulky bent under and was in third at the half-mile mark.

Alex May also was shaken in the opening harness race when Wire Edge tripped and fell.

Another 10-race program is scheduled here Tuesday with the five-furlong Speed Handicap in the featured role. Efforts Duety looms as the morning-line favorite.

1st race—Harness, 1 mile, first, Priestacott Pete, 3:50, 3:40, 2nd, second, Lyndon Wooten, 4:10, 3:50, third, Bettie Rose Maxy, 3:70, time 2:15, quinela $12.00.

SPORTSLIGHTNER by Al Lightner

(Continued from preceding pg.) veteran Johnny Williams checked into the Giants' camp here. Berry's days were numbered. There wasn't any room for Berry, with such defensive operators as Em Tunnell, Dick Nolan, Jim Patton and Williams around. And that isn't even mentioning Tom Landry, the squad's defense coach who annually makes the all-Pro team as a defensive back.

Putman may have made the grade as a defensive tackle had he not suffered a broken foot early in the local workouts. The wound threw him for an extensive loss, one that left him far behind the others in the squad's training and conditioning. There just isn't enough time left for him to make it up, and the big guy realized that he just wasn't quite up to the caliber expected of defensive tackle in the rugged pro ranks.

When the Giants left here they numbered well over 40. They must be down to a 33-man limit by the time they go against Philadelphia September 24. So other heads will roll between now and then. One might belong to Don Heinrich, despite the fine day he had against the 49ers at Seattle. The Giants are sure to make some sort of a deal in which either Heinrich or Bobby Clatterback is involved, and we've a suspicion that they think more of Clatterback's ability even though not a word was even uttered (officially) on the subject during the squad's 6-week stay in our town . . .

Football Season Arriving Too Fast

The football season is fast cascading upon us. In fact, too dang fast. When one realizes that both local high schools have their opening games this week, before the baseball season is over and before Leo Spitzbart's Fairgrounds extravaganza has joined history, it's quickly emphasized that things athletic in our area are out of kilter.

Seems that the prep football campaigns are getting under way earlier each year. Which is silly, so far as a sports editor with limited staff and limited printing space is concerned. At the rate they're going, first thing you know the "North vs. South" prep grid titanic here will be a Fourth of July feature, combating the St. Paul Rodeo, the Molalla Buckaroo and the Wallace Marine Park boat regatta.

Claire Goodwin, the Pacific Coast League baseball president who succeeded "Pants" Rowland, is supposedly endangered by this, with the future of his position depending upon how he handles the ugly situation existing at San Francisco. The SF Seals (as well as their neighboring Oakland Oaks) haven't been doing as well as the gate lately as have our resident Senators.

All things concerned, Goodwin would probably be doing himself a great favor were he to botch the situation completely and get himself fired. After all, would you like to be president of the Coast League these days?

Even though Congress is no longer in session, we're surprised that no verbal hammer has been swung by Sen. Neuberger concerning the nine drownings in two week-ends during the Astoria fishing derbies. You'll recall that Neuberger hissed and hollered awhile back, when auto racing across the nation was taking its annual toll. He wanted the sport stopped . . .

Dodgers Dump Phils Twice; Newk Victor

Piersall also got a single and three walks while the Bostons, who batted around in the second and third innings for an 8-2 lead, pushed their attendance over the million mark with a crowd of 29,769.

Cleveland battled back for a 4-4 tie on Larry Doby's three-run homer in the sixth inning of the opener, but singles by Elmer Valo and Harry Simpson and Hector Lopez' sacrifice fly gave it to the A's in the ninth.

Score Fans Eleven Southpaw Herb Score was in charge in the second game, fanning 11 and giving just two hits for eight innings. Lopez' two-run homer ruined his shut-out bid in the ninth and the young rookie wound up with a four-hitter.

Doby and Al Rosen hit back-to-back homers in the seventh after the Tribe had run off with a 6-0 lead in the first five frames.

Baltimore egged the Yanks when Gil McDougald was charged with interference and runner Chuck Diering was waved home from third in the 11th inning.

Earlier, Umpire John Rice decided outfielder Hank Bauer had trapped a low liner and Baltimore scored twice on the play. Jim Wilson went all the way for his ninth victory.

Byrne Gets Victory In the afterpiece, the Orioles made five errors and couldn't make them up even though outthumping the Yanks 11-7. Tommy Byrne, shelled in the first inning of the opener as each club scored three runs, came back in relief in the fifth inning of the nightcap and took the victory, his 14th.

The White Sox tumbled to their fourth straight defeat in the opener as Ray Boone drove in three runs with a double and home run for the Tigers. Southpaw Billy Hoelt spaced five hits for his 15th victory while Chicago starter Virgil Trucks failed to last a four-inning Detroit first inning.

Bob Keegan and Billy Pierce teamed to whitewash the Tigers in the nightcap of the twinbill, which drew 30,309 at Detroit. Keegan went the first 5 2-3 innings for the decision.

Pierce saved it, retiring Jim Delving with two on in the sixth and allowed just one hit the rest of the way. The Sox had only four hits off loser Frank Lary, but turned a walk and a hit-batsman into runs.

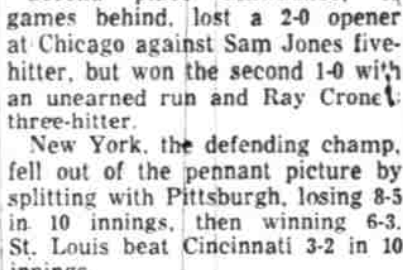

Newcombe Wins 20th In the National, Brooklyn reduced its magic number to 3, sweeping two from Philadelphia 11-4 and 8-2. Don Newcombe won his 20th and set a league record for pitchers with his seventh homer of the season in the opener.

Carl Erskine gained his 100th major league victory in the nightcap, while Robin Roberts, who won his 22nd Friday, lost his 11th.

Second place Milwaukee, 15 games behind, lost a 2-0 opener at Chicago against Sam Jones five-hitter, but won the second 1-0 with an unearned run and Ray Cronk's three-hitter.

New York, the defending champ, fell out of the pennant picture by splashing with Pittsburgh, losing 8-3 in 10 innings, then winning 6-3. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 3-2 in 10 innings.
