Jane Wyman Good, Story Falls Apart

By EVE STARR
HOLLYWOOD CRITIC'S CORNER: It's always a pleasure, if a rare one in this business, to welcome a show that apparently has class written all over it—especially a show whose predecessor was no great shakes. I'm talking about Jane Wyman's "Fireside Theater."

The most pleasant surprise, however, is a behind-the-scenes one. The producer of this new series, Bill Asher, directed "I Love Lucy" the last three seasons. It's no particular secret that Lucille Ball herself actually directs her show, however subtly, and there was some doubt in the minds of a lot of Hollywood people that Asher actually was capable of taking over such an important job as producing a series on his own.

Crop Loan Limit Eyed By 2 Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio congressmen are thinking in terms of legislation to limit the size of government crop loans. Such a move, if successful, undoubtedly would have its effect on Pacific Northwest wheat growers.

Rep. Polk (D-Ohio), a member of the House Agriculture Committee, says he thinks both big wheat and corn farmers are getting an advantage under the present program. Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) agrees and has suggested a loan ceiling.

Each contends farm price supporters were designed primarily for the little fellow—not the big corporate farm.

Washington's largest wheat growers are in a hassle again, but this time it is not his fault. He has star billing for NBC's "Our Town." But Eva Marie Saint is also demanding star billing. So now it's a question of whose name comes first—and it's going to look awfully funny in more ways than one if it winds up reading "Saint-Sinatra."
