

Michigan Raps Army, 26-2; Ohio State Downs Illinois

LANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Pant up Michigan, releasing more than a decade of football frustration, finally shattered its Army jinx Saturday, whipping the Cadets 26-2 behind the violent running of halfback Terry Barr.

Stopped by a Leg Hold

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Michigan State halfback Dennis Mendyk is stopped by a leg in the second period by Stanford back Jack Douglas (10) who reached up and grabbed him. Mendyk fumbled the ball when tackled but his Spartans went on to down Stanford, 38-14. (AP Wirephoto)

A futile fumble only two short weeks ago, Barr, a 20-year-old junior scored two touchdowns as the Wolverines ground Army into submission for the first time in their six game series which started in 1945.

With a sellout crowd of 97,239 roaring its approval, Barr slammed one yard for Michigan's touchdown in the opening quarter, then raced 82 yards with a punt in the second quarter for the second score.

The Wolverines, the nation's No. 2 team in this week's Associated Press poll, added a third touchdown on fullback Ed Shannon's one foot blast at the start of the fourth period and scored again late in the game on a four yard end sweep by sophomore Jim Pace.

Army's point-a-minute machine, which had rolled up 116 points in 120 minutes this season, was reduced to fumbling ineptness by the Wolverines' tight defense. The sixth-ranked Cadets didn't dent Michigan territory until the third minute of the final period.

Purdue Blanked
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Wisconsin fullback Charles Thomas, another Alan Ameche, pounded through the Purdue line for a second-quarter touchdown and Paul Schwaiko kicked an 18-yard cushion field goal Saturday for a 9-0 Badger victory that wilted 45,000 Purdue homecoming fans.

Each team intercepted three passes and they threw 54 between them.

Pass defenses of both teams were magnificent, but it was Jim Miller's 13-yard toss to end Dave Howard that set up Thomas's big touchdown. The hard-charging Badgers almost blocked a punt by Purdue quarterback Lennie Dawson to get the drive started in its long series with the Boilermakers and its third in three starts this year. Purdue went into the game undefeated in its first two games.

Cassady Goes Wild
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All-America halfback Howard (Hop-along) Cassady put on one of his finest shows Saturday as he paced Ohio State to a 27-12 victory over Illinois.

The freckled, red-haired speedster scored his team's opening touchdown on an 18-yard run in the first period, clinched the victory with a 3-yard scoring jaunt at the start of the fourth, and in between ran the Illinois defenders ragged. The game, Ohio's first in defense of its Western Conference championship, was played before a crowd of 82,407—sixth largest in Ohio Stadium history—and swept the Illini from the undefeated ranks.

Gophers Win, 18-7
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A third string sophomore, 194-pound Dick Borstad, loosed some old-fashioned Minnesota fullback Saturday to grind the Gophers to an 18-7 Big Ten victory over winless Northwestern.

Borstad battered across for two touchdowns and took charge of a game in which the fumbling Gophers spotted Northwestern a 7-0 lead but rallied for a 12-7 halftime lead.

Borstad, who began reaching for stardom last week with Minnesota's first touchdown of the season in a close 7-6 loss to Purdue, slammed at the Wildcats 22 times for 142 yards, an average of 6.5.

Pro Gridders Set Full-Skied Giants vs. Steelers In Sunday NFL Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Detroit Lions, three time champions of the Western Conference in the National Football League, have their backs against the wall Sunday in a make-or-break test with the Los Angeles Rams.

Coach Buddy Parker's Lions got off to a rough start, crippled by injuries and mauled by the surprising Baltimore Colts and Green Bay Packers in the first two games of the new season. Another defeat would be quite a millstone around Detroit's neck.

Injuries Bother Rams
The Rams, playing for a share of the Western Conference lead with the winner of Saturday night's Baltimore-Green Bay game, barely managed to stay unbeaten with a 27-26 victory over Pittsburgh last weekend and now are hobbled by injuries to Tank Younger, Don Paul and Charley Toogood.

In the other Western Conference game Sunday, the San Francisco 49ers try for their first triumph against the equally unsuccessful Chicago Bears at Chicago. Both are 0-2.

Paired with the Detroit-Los Angeles game in the NFL's top billing Sunday is the battle between the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles at Cleveland.

Favorites Trail
The Browns, defending NFL champs, and Eagles were pre-season favorites to rule the Eastern Conference. But both have split their first two games to trail the remarkable Washington Redskins.

The Redskins, trampling the Browns and edging the Eagles 31-30 for a 2-0 record, are the only unbeaten team left in the Eastern Conference. They tangle with the Chicago Cardinals (1-1) at Washington.

In the other Eastern Conference game, the winless New York Giants are at Pittsburgh to face the Steelers.

Knox's Father Forbids Play
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Harvey Knox said Saturday he has forbidden his stepson, ace UCLA tailback Ronnie, from playing against Stanford next week or in any future game until the youth is "physically sound."

Ronnie seriously injured his shoulder in the Maryland game two weeks ago and it pained him severely even to pass the ball, Knox told a newsman.

"Against my wishes he played this last Friday night in the Oregon State game, even though his shoulder injury was serious."

Utah Routs BYU, 41-9, After Opening Shock
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Brigham Young University rocked Utah with a first quarter field goal but the highly favored Redskins struck back for three touchdowns in the first four minutes of the second period Saturday night and went on to rout the Cougars, 41-9.

A crowd of 29,372—largest ever to witness a football game in Utah—watched Utah win its first Skyline Conference start of the season to pull into a percentage tie with Colorado A&M for the league lead. The loss was BYU's second without a win in conference play.

Arkansas Whipped
WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor's bruised Bruins had to man the bulwarks for a last-stand battle Saturday night in virtually eliminating Arkansas from the Southwest Conference race by a score of 25-20.

Aggies Rap Nebraska
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Texas A. & M. mixed a sprinkling of timely passes with a bruising ground game Saturday to smother Nebraska, 27-0, in an intercollegiate football game played before a stadium-bulging crowd of nearly 40,000.

200-Lap Main Event to Feature Final Auto Racing Meet Today at Hollywood Bowl; Capital Drivers Set for Test

The final auto racing program of the 1955 season is tabbed for this afternoon at Salem's Hollywood Bowl, an event that is being produced and sponsored entirely by the Capital Auto Racing Association of this city. The CARA has borrowed the big speedway from Valley Sports authorities for the occasion.

Highlight of the afternoon is to be the main event, a 200-lap marathon that will be twice as long as any other race ever attempted at the bowl. Two-hundred times around the quarter-mile oval amounts to 50 miles in all, and no less than 800 separate turns. The latter item will require the utmost of both drivers and cars.

Capital Association members, the driving zanies who provided Oregon racing customers with a number of spectacular programs during the season in various parts of the state will ride herd on the mounts in today's action. The cars will be the non-souped slock hard tops. Respective drivers have been busy during the week getting pit crews lined up, for it is likely that most if not all of the entries in the mainer will be forced to make stops for tire changes, etc., during the gruelling run. Admission for the program will be $1 for adults and special prices for kids. The show will go on providing it is not raining at starting time.

Colorado Tops Oregon, 13-6

(Continued from prec. page.) Maphis going over the final yard. A crowd of 12,500 sat under leaden skies. There was a threat of rain but none fell.

Colorado's victory was expected but it came a little harder than some had hoped it. Oregon's speed offset the greater heft of the visitors and the lines banged away in about an even exchange.

Jenkins Boots Ball
Jenkins, in addition to his ground-gaining, was a worry to Oregon with his quick kicks. One of them traveled 69 yards before going out on the Oregon 11.

Jim Shanley, speedster who scored for Oregon on an 8-yard run from a pitchout from Tom Crabtree, was a steady threat with Pick James and Jack Morris chiefly teamed to pick up Oregon yards off the tackles.

In the final period Colorado ran into a series of frustrating penalties that backed the Buffaloes up from their 48, the farthest point of advance in that series, to their 6. Jenkins appeared trapped back of the goal line in trying to run out from there, but he got free, then one of his quick kicks staved off the immediate threat.

Crabtree Passes
Crabtree's passing late in the game picked up substantial Oregon yardage, one pass to back Hank Loumena going for 29 yards and another to end George Slender getting 41 yards that put the ball on the Colorado 13.

The Oregon threat, ending in a fumble on Colorado's 5, was a fast-moving affair which in five plays went 65 yards. The fumble and recovery was a team job between end Wally Merz and center Don Karnosack—Merz breaking up Crabtree's attempted pitchout and Karnosack alertly falling on the ball for his fourth recovery of the day.

It was he who got the fumble that led swiftly to the first score. Colorado 6 7 0 0-13 Oregon 0 6 0 0-6

Colorado scoring—Touchdowns: Jenkins (29, run); Maphis (1, plunge). Conversion: Jenkins. Oregon scoring—Touchdown: Shanley (8, run).

Sooners Pound Texas 20 to 0

DALLAS, Texas (AP)—Clinch running by Tommy McDonald, an inexorable ground game under the touch of clever Jimmy Harris and eagle ball hawking by ponderous Jerry Tubbs gave Oklahoma a 20-0 victory over Texas Saturday and extended college football's greatest winning streak to 22 games.

It was nationally third-ranked Oklahoma's fourth straight triumph in this storied intercollegiate football series and was a new record for the Sooners. They never had won four consecutive games from Texas before.

A crowd of 75,504 jammed the Cotton Bowl to watch the raging Tubbs intercept three passes, one setting up a touchdown and the others halting dangerous Texas drives. And they saw McDonald run 27 yards for a touchdown in the first period and skip 7 for another in the second.

Bob Burris got the third Sooner score with a 1-yard plunge after the faking and running of Harris had gotten the ball in position for the touchdown.

Excellent quarterbacking by Harris—who played with a cut hand that didn't hinder his ball handling—and his understudy, Jay O'Neal, were too much for Texas.

Maryland Back Gains Nine

Pacific Takes 13-0 Win Over Lutherans

FOREST GROVE (AP)—Pacific University, held scoreless in the first half, gained two second-half touchdowns Saturday to defeat Pacific Lutheran 13-0 in a non-conference football game.

Wyoming Dumped

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Colorado A&M continued its upset pace here Saturday by dumping Wyoming from the ranks of the unbeaten, 14-13, in a Skyline Conference thriller.

It's for Northwest Title . . .

Mat Tag Champs Ready For Tuesday Rematch

The Northwest tag team mat championship belt will be at stake Tuesday night when Champions Luigi Macera and Dick Torio face Bill (Bull) Savage and Bustlin' Buck Weaver in their rematch on the Army mat. The fiery Italianos agreed to put up the belt if they could get another whirl at the two nasties.

Their brawl—and brawl it was—of last week ended in a bloody "no contest" verdict when it went berserk and got completely out of hand. Both Macera and Weaver were bleeding and all four gladiators were flailing away when the halt was called. Macera was considerably marked up by facial stomps by Savage.

Tuesday's special event sends Jack (Blank Panther) Claybourne against John Paul Henning, the new Northwest heavyweight king who took the title from Ivan Kamaroff. Claybourne came close to beating Kamaroff for the title himself at Roseburg recently, and Matchmaker Elton Owen figures the Claybourne-Henning squabble will be a lively one.

The 8:30 o'clock opener puts Johnny Demchuk against the canny Scotchman, Scotty Williams. Demchuk looked good in going to a draw with Claybourne last week.

The opener will be a one-half event, the other two the regular 2-of-3.

Linfield Overpowered By Pioneers 47 to 7

PORTLAND (AP)—A strong Lewis and Clark team overpowered Linfield 47-7 in Saturday's Northwest Conference football game.

Earl Engebretson, Gene Flippin and Mel Gillett were Lewis and Clark's top ball packers. Another who ran effectively and got two touchdowns was Ron Stempel, second string quarterback.

Moving relentlessly with their split-T attack behind a big and experienced line, the Pioneers backs rolled up 321 yards on the ground to Linfield's 110. In net rushing yardage, the difference was even greater—304 to 65 yards.

Suede Almost Makes All-America Team

The "Sport Magazine" 1955-56 All-American basketball team has already been selected, and were it not for a telephone call from Irv Goodman, editor of the mag, to the athletic department at Oregon State, Suede Halbrook would have been on the team! Goodman wanted to obtain some last-minute info on Halbrook before putting the article to press. He was surprised to learn that Halbrook had been booted from school.

Now wouldn't it have been something had he not made the phone call, and the mag would have come out with the expelled Halbrook as a collegiate All-American!

While on Oregon State basketball for the future, Slats Gill came up with the three laddies he wanted most of all when Fall term registrations were made recently. Gill indexes Ted Miller, of Millwaukie High, as the best prep prospect in Oregon last season. The six-foot, nine-inch Gary Goble, from little Tottle Lake in Washington, was in Slats' opinion the best all-around prep cager in that state, and Don Pine, a six-foot, one-inch star from the southern California area brought with him the honor of having been selected as the Los Angeles prep "player of the year" last season.

So things for the future should be looking mighty good to those patriots of the Orange and Black . . .

Interesting to note the name of one of the freshman football aspirants at Corvallis also. He's John Schwammel, a tackle from San Ramon, Cal., and is the son of one of OSC's grid immortals, Ad "Tar" Schwammel of the 1933 "Iron Man" squad. Coach Lon Stiner had in his first campaign at Oregon State, "Tar" was one of the few bonafide All-Americans Oregon State has had . . .

Quite an Error Discovered at Wenatchee
Here's one for the book: Obviously having nothing better to do than figure reasons why his Wenatchee Chiefs finished as also-rans in both halves of the recent Northwest League run, Wenatchee Daily World Sports Ed. Dick Pieper decided to measure the distance from home plate to the pitching rubber in the city's Recreation Park. Lo and behold, he found it not to be the 60-feet, 6-inches required by baseball law, but 61-feet, 6 inches, a foot longer! He even called in surveyors who also found the 12-inch error.

SBC to Hear Chamberlain

John Chamberlain, acting head coach of the Oregon College of Education Wolves, will be Monday morning's guest speaker at the weekly session of the Salem Breakfast Club. Chamberlain is directing the OCE football squad while Bill McArthur is on a leave of absence.

So far this season Chamberlain's Wolves have been undefeated. They blanked Pacific in an opening upset win, 12-0, and last weekend downed Grays Harbor Junior College, 21-6. Saturday night the Wolves hosted Portland State at Monmouth in the opening game for the OCE gridders in the Oregon Collegiate Conference.

The SBC meeting, to be held at the Senator Hotel, will get underway at 7:30 a.m.
