GOP Postcard Poll County Uses Secret Check Staff Tops

(Scattle) Prosecutor Charles O. Carroll said Tuesday secret checkback numbers have been discovered on postcards being used for a political poll among Republican precinct committee-

He said the cards, signed by Robert C. Cummings, of the Olympia News Letter, were placed under an ultra violet lamp in the Scat's Police department, revealing the otherwise invisible numbers. The cards asked the recipients to list their choice for president, in the event Eisenhower does not seek re-election, and to check their preference about it.

Carroll said the persons who brought the cards to him assumed the vote was to be confidential, but the numbers would afford a positive way of learning who voted in the poll, and for whom they voted.

"They are very upset about them," Carroll said. In Olympia, Cummings said he authorized Atty. Gen. Don

Onion Growers to Ask 'Disaster Area' Status Wide Support

LABISH CENTER-Flood-harassed onion growers from Western Oregon took preliminary steps here Tuesday in a move to secure financial aid from the government. A group of about 175 growers from Labish, Gaston and Sherwood appointed a committee to survey recent damage to onions caused by floods and rain. The committee is to report its Home Administration. The FHA will then decide whether to declare the onion farms "disaster areas." If it does, then the growers may be considered for lowinterest government loans on

BONN, Germany (AP) - West Air Force Rocket Tonight to Probe Secret of Dusk, Dawn

By SANKY TRIMBLE ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)-Air Force scientists Wednesday night will hurtle a rocket 40 to 70 miles above earth to probe secrets of dawn and dusk.

An Aerobee rocket-providing weather conditions are near perfect-is to smash from the earth into the upper atmosphere at approximately 20 minutes after sunset loaded with a mechanism which artificially releases metallic sodium to glow in the upper atmosphere. What is planned was first billed as the widely-publicized artificial moon experiment.

The Air Force says the experiment is no such thing. In technical language the firing from nearby Holloman Air Development Center is "not designed to produce the appearance of a large cloud covering a great part of the sky nor an artificial moon." What it will do, no one knows.

Time of the firing at approxi-

standard air force upper atmosphere research vehicle. In this case, it will carry special equipment to release automatically-at a predetermined altitude-a mixture of pure metallic sodium pellets dispersed in thermite. The thermite will be started to burn by passing an electrical current through the mixture. The thermite melts the sodium and causes it to "boil" out an opening in the rocket skin as a gas under great pressure. This in turn may produce sodium light, high in the sky.
