> SEATTLE In - A short defensive scrimmage against Baylor's T-formation offense and a ling workout on new pass patterns featured the University of Washington's preparation Wednesday for Saturday's game with the Texans. Coach John Cherberg said he is seeking variety in Washington's offense and is trying out the new pass patterns "to establish a iirm, aerial game in which we have confidence."

The coach said Washington's big problem is to prevent its offense rom becoming static while relying on its notably strong defense, through which only two touchdown plays have been made in four games this year.

Salem's lone representative in Eastern big-time football is doing okeh. Which means that Herb Triplett, now a sophomore at Yele, has made the varsity unit and has played in all three Bulldogs games thus far, against Connecticut, Brown and Columbia. Herb is a second-string halfback, and in Coach Jordan Olivar's opinion shows great promise for the future. Yale has won all three games, but the worst is yet to come. Yet to play are Cornell, Colgate, Dartmouth, Army, Princeton and Harvard.

Old Husky Grads Knew What They Were Doing

The old grads of Washington, who gave Johnny Cherberg a new car and a pat on the back following his dismal season with the 1954 Huskies, obviously knew what they were doing. They must've given the coach some football players too, for he's responded with an all-victorious campaign to date, knocking off both Oregon and Southern California, not to mention Minnesota in the process.

It could be a majestic year at Seattle, for four of the six remaining games are booked for the Huskies' home arena. It's Baylor this week (what these Northwest rains should do to them!), Stanford t's next week and Oregon State the one after that, all at home. Then a trip to Berkeley to play what looks to be a poor California team. After that one comes a game that could mean Rose Bowl to either team, for the Huskies play UCLA. Too bad it's in Los Angeles.

Final game on the UW slate is with Washington State, at Seattle. We're no Washington Husk'e rooter, and we don't know Cherberg any more than a hello's worth.
