

Cookies Come in Category of off-Made, All-Family Favorite Sweets

Every day could easily be cookie-baking day in many families, for even if there are no children in the household to empty a cookie jar in one grab, there are adults waiting in line. Cookies of course range from nice thick, inexpensive, flavorful ones suited to filling up young stomachs without too much cost or effort, the nutty ones for male adults to dainty tea cakes for the socialites in the family. Here we offer two that are new to us, but awfully good sounding. Make them big for the little ones, medium sized for the big members of the family, and tiny for the mamma and her guests.

CHOCOLATE COCONUT MACAROONS

1 square (1 ounce) chocolate
2 tablespoons warm water
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
Melt the chocolate over hot water; add the warm water and blend to a paste. Stir in the flour, salt and sugar and flavor with vanilla. Fold in the coconut and the egg whites. Drop mixture from teaspoon on greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes.

ROUGH AND READY COOKIES

2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 1/2 cups rolled oats
1 cup seeded raisins
1/4 cup sour milk
Mix and sift the flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves. Cream the shortening and sugar; add eggs and beat until the mixture is light. Add rolled oats, and raisins alternately with sour milk. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, flatten with a spatula dipped in cold water. Bake at 325 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes.

Yields about six dozen cookies.
A hint for cookies that will have character comes from a book of prize recipes, but it may be made of your own three drop cookie doughs. Merely drop the three doughs next to each other and make triquet cookies. A white, a chocolate and a spice dough would be good.

Now that Brazil nuts are in the market, better make use of them, for their sojourn is short. Here's one recipe:

BRAZIL NUT SOMBRERO COOKIES

1/2 pound pitted dates
1 cup whole Brazil nuts
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Stuff dates with Brazil nuts. Beat eggs until foamy; add vanilla. Sift in remaining ingredients; mix well. Dip stuffed dates in batter, one at a time, just enough to cover date. Place 2-inches apart on baking sheet lined with greased aluminum foil. Bake in a moderate oven, (350 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Cool; remove with spatula. Yield: Approximately 34 cookies.

EUGENE — Last Thursday evening's "squat rally" may have helped raise the Oregon spirits, but Saturday night's win over California promoted spirit to the utmost. Sharon Heider, Sally Hoy, Bruce King, Julie Miller and Bob Stevens were among the students sprawled on the chairs, window sills and floor of the student union cheering the varsity Ducks to victory in the first such rally of the year.

Meanwhile Plum Brown and Judy Carlson were attending a Panhellenic meeting at which it was announced that Delta Gamma had the highest grades for one consecutive year. Gamma Phi Beta also won Panhellenic recognition for having the most improvement in house grades.

At the program on "Friday at 4" were Julie Astroup, Dick Lewis and Ann Ritchey while Peter Johnson, a graduate student in sociology and new-comer to Salem and the U. of O., attended the Sociology Club's coffee hour.

Sally Jo Greig had little trouble in leading the cheering crowd which included Jim Matheson, Julie Miller and Gary Drench in Multnomah Stadium in Portland Saturday night as the Oregon Eleven trounced the California team. Nancy Payne was among the 16 semi-finalists for the frosh rally squad which is to perform at the three frosh football games scheduled for the season.

Miss Rawlinson a Candidate

Sylvia Rawlinson will be entertained by Sigma Phi Epsilon, which includes James Fratke of Independence, as the candidate from Carson 3 for Swamp Girl of Sig. Ep. Final selection by the fraternity will be announced at their annual house dance, the "Swamp Stomp."

A pathetically small crowd was on hand for Convocation in McArthur Court last Tuesday which was part of the second annual observance of Charter Day. The professors, dressed in full academic regalia, were ushered in by Connie Hammond, Anne Heitzel, Sandra Jochimson and Kaye Tomlinson. Pat Deeney, Karan Johnson, Sharon Johnson, Nancy Payne and Bob Payne heard the address "The Mission of a University" by Barnaby C. Keeney, Ph.D., president to Brown University. Glenn Benner played in the band as the crowd stood for the "Oregon Fight Song."

Whiskerino Tonight

The sophomore class "Whiskerino" is scheduled for this weekend with the whole campus invited to attend. Helping Judy Loucks with the Betty Coed and Joe College selections is Nancy Lidbeck and Sally Hoy is arranging for the chaperones.

Jean Lidbeck was recently pledged by Amphibians, the women's swimming honorary.

Plans are already well underway for Homecoming, November 18 and 19. The general weekend theme is "An Open Door, for Alums of Yore," and is followed in the judging for the sign contest which is headed by Mary Gerlinger of Dallas. Julie Miller is co-chairman of queen selection.

Club Welcomes New Members

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Salem Insurance Women's Association was held October 20 in the Ivy Room of the Marion Hotel.

Thirty members were present and President Mavis Rickert introduced new members Marjorie Randall, Althea Sayre, Margery Anderson and Pat Marcy to the club. Guests present were Arlene M. Bourson, Eva Wiltsey, Dona Geteson, Verna Wade, Margaret Rickberg and Jean Ulrich.

During the business meeting it was decided that the club would sponsor a rummage sale to be held November 4 and 5 in Albany with the Albany members in charge.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Else Allen showed colored slides of her recent trip to Spain and gave an interesting description of the cities and country there.

Mrs. Morley Announces Chairmen

Mrs. James Morley, president of the Keizer Lions Auxiliary, announced her committee chairmen at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ewald Franz. The auxiliary voted to meet the third Tuesday of each month at the homes of members. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stanley K. Watson on November 15.

Committees announced by Mrs. Morley include Mrs. John Coomler, inter-club; Mrs. Franz, summer institute; Mrs. Ray Lakay, chairman, Mrs. Walter Kechter and Mrs. Earl Weathers, telephone; Mrs. Gordon Bressler, social; Mrs. Ray Boucher, sunshine; Mrs. A. B. Pederson, publicity; Mrs. Otto Junker, finance. New members welcomed were Mrs. Earl Rempel and Mrs. David R. Copeland.

Dr. Ashbaugh to Speak

Dr. James H. Ashbaugh will speak on the "Social Needs of the Pre-Adolescent" on Monday, October 24 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Ashbaugh, assisted by Craig Dudley and Kirk Miller, will speak at the Salem YWCA. The talk will include the relationship of the child to his family, his peer groups, and rivalry groups. Following Dr. Ashbaugh's talk, Dr. Thomas Bennett will lead the group in discussion. This is the fourth in a series of five discussions to which the public is invited.

Plans are already well underway for Homecoming, November 18 and 19. The general weekend theme is "An Open Door, for Alums of Yore," and is followed in the judging for the sign contest which is headed by Mary Gerlinger of Dallas. Julie Miller is co-chairman of queen selection.
