Selection Set In PCC Today

Rose Bowl Plans Certain for UCLA

By JACK STEVENSON
The Associated Press
Official selection Monday by the Pacific Coast Conference of UCLA to meet Michigan State is a foregone conclusion like taxes. After the Bruins whipped Southern California 17-7 Saturday it appeared a waste of time and money to poll the conference members on the bowl situation.

The Bruins finished with their third straight PCC championship and unbeaten in loop play. Their only setback in two years was the 7-0 one by Maryland early this season.

A surprising Oregon State outfit, coached by Tommy Prothro who last year was a UCLA aide, finished second in the conference with a 5-2 record compared with the Bruins' 6-0. But OSC completed its season on the short end of a 20-0 count against traditional rival Oregon.

Stanford finished in third place and had a happier ending by beating its traditional foe, California, 19-0, the first victory for the Indians over the Bears since 1946. Stanford had a 3-2-1 PCC mark and an early season non-conference victory was a 6-0 count over Ohio State, the Big 10 champion. In order came Oregon, Washington (winner 27-7 over Washington State) and Southern California. Cal and WSC managed to win only one conference game each and little Idaho didn't win any. The Vandals did whip Montana 31-0 in Saturday's finale.

The champions, UCLA, scored 285 points to 87 for opponents in their 10 games this season. Bruins Called Weak

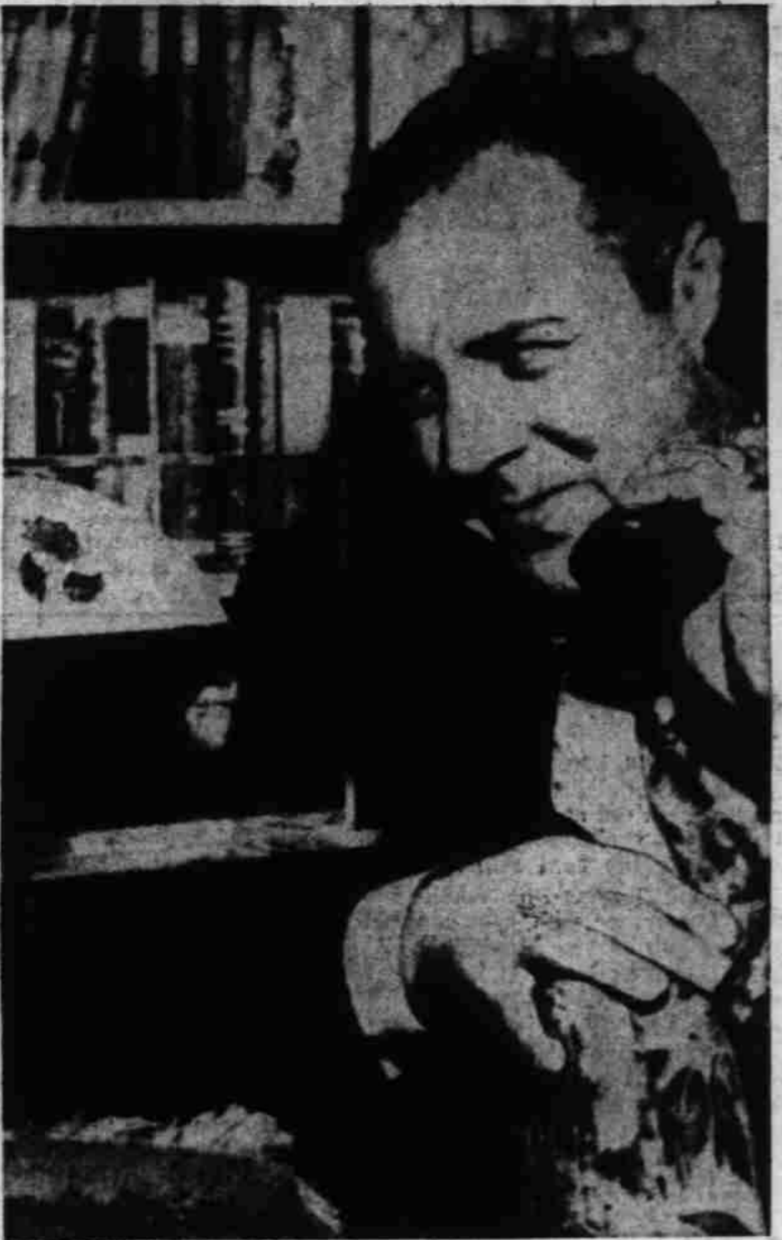

Coach Jess Hill of USC perhaps put it correctly when he said the Bruins this year are the weakest in the past three seasons. But the men of Coach Henry (Red) Sanders managed to come up with the knockout blow when it was needed. For instance:

Against Washington a week ago, senior wingback Jim Decker booted a field goal in the last 18 seconds to win 19-17. He hadn't kicked a three-pointer before, either in high school or college. Saturday (Continued on page 2, col. 1)

The quarterfinal round of action was completed Sunday in the annual Fall Handicap at the Salem Golf Club. Winners will now enter the semifinals which will wind up next Sunday.

John R. Wood, Hobart Price, Pat Miklia and Frank Ward have gained the semifinals in the championship flight. Wood defeated Andy Anderson, Price defeated Bob Thompson and Miklia defeated Glenn Cushman. Ward had defeated Jim Minty earlier in the week.

For the next-to-last round, it will be Wood against Price and Ward against Miklia.

In the second flight, O. W. Langdoe won over Dave Moon. Ralph Gordon defeated Don Hendrie and Joe Devers ousted Abbe Steinbock. Semifinals will now have Langdoe vs. DeI Gwynn, and Gordon vs. Devers.

Other Flight Pairings

Fourth flight semifinal action now has Dick Chase vs. Vern Miller and Sam Tosti vs. Al Cohen. Chase downed Harv Lovell and Cohen ousted Ing Johnson in weekend matches.

Semifinals have already been completed in the fifth flight and Elmo McMillan will meet Pete Bennison for the finals.

Stu Holcomb Eyed As Athletic Boss
EVANSTON, Ill. — A Northwestern University official Sunday night said Stu Holcomb, Purdue football coach is among candidates being considered for athletic director, but he has not been offered the job.

Dean F. G. Seiberger, chairman of the Northwestern faculty athletic committee, commented on reports that Holcomb had been offered the position.

He said Coach Holcomb is one of many candidates being considered for the position.

Denies Report
Holcomb would not say that he had talked to Northwestern officials or that he considered himself a candidate.

The 45-year-old former Ohio State star, Purdue coach since 1947 still has four years to go on a 10-year contract. He said he wanted it understood that he is "very happy" at Purdue.

He said, however, that "anyone who has been coaching as long as I have certainly should be interested in an athletic director's job."

Big Ten Votes Michigan State

2nd Invitation in 3 Years Goes to MSU

CHICAGO (U) — Michigan State, the Big Ten's title runnerup but top rated football team, and powerful UCLA will clash in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

The Big Ten athletic directors formally certified Michigan State's Spartans for the Rose Bowl in a conference vote Sunday, while naming of the Uclans by the Pacific Coast Conference remained only a formality.

The Spartans (5-1) finished second to Ohio State (6-0) in the Big Ten race, but in the current Associated Press national poll, Michigan State ranks third against ninth for the Buckeyes.

Munn Accepts Bid
Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn immediately accepted the Rose Bowl bid in behalf of the Spartan school which pulled for Ohio State's 17-0 victory over Michigan Saturday harder than Buckeye partisans themselves.

The Buckeye triumph knocked Michigan's Wolverines out of both the Rose Bowl bid and the Big Ten title, leaving them third in the conference race with a final 5-2 mark.

The unbeaten champions of the Big Ten, Ohio State, were ineligible for the honor because of a rule barring successive appearances in the post season game.

Twice in 3 Years
Thus the Spartans, newest members of the Western Conference, became the first to go to the Rose Bowl twice in three years.

Michigan State defeated the University of California at Los Angeles in the Pasadena classic 28-20 on Oct. 30 on grounds he had accepted excessive expense allowances for three California track meets last month.

Santee's suspension will be lifted automatically if no one appeals Sunday's decision to the board of governors of the National AAU within 10 days.

Coach Represents Wes
Santee, former University of Kansas star who now is a marine lieutenant stationed at Quantico, Va., was unable to attend Sunday's meeting but was represented by Bill Easton, his former coach at Kansas.

Told by The Associated Press of the lifting of the suspension, Santee said "I'm very pleased, naturally. Now at least I'll have a running chance in the Olympic Games."

The suspension would have barred Santee from participating in the 1956 Olympics in Australia. He had said previously that he would hate to miss that contest.

Santee has maintained he has never done anything to violate amateur athletic standards.

Marion Miller, secretary of the Missouri Valley AAU, quoted Easton as telling the committee, in effect, that other athletes had received expense money in excess of amounts authorized by AAU rules and that nothing had been done.

Easton said that in such cases the track meet managers have made the offers of expenses and that the athletes have merely accepted them.

Records Broken
Records set as if they were made to be broken in the tourney as all marks set this year were new records in the city championship. Also, for the first time in history, all of the scratch winners took first place in the handicap divisions.

Lebold, who is a senior at South Salem High when not at the alleys, won the all-events with 547 in the team event, 628 in the doubles and 678 in the singles, which gave him the individual high.

Haugen, Boyce Win
Bob Haugen and Chet Boyce teamed up to win the doubles event with a 1,309 scratch.

Frank's Produce of the University Classic League captured first place in the team event with a 2,889 total.

Michigan State Students Fail To Repeat Wild Riot of 1953

EAST LANSING, Mich. (U) — Michigan State greeted the official word of its Rose Bowl nomination with noisy enthusiasm Sunday but without the near rioting that accompanied a similar announcement two years ago.

Hundreds of dormitory radios relayed the first flash to the students and they poured out into the street to cheer and circle the campus in cars with horn buttons pressed down.

The student government had planned no official pep rally but when the spontaneous demonstration started, an impromptu affair was hastily organized to keep the celebration in hand.

Demonstration Milder
Coach Duffy Daugherty, his assistants, Athletic Director Biggie Munn, MSU President John A. Hannah and as many football players as could be rounded up were called to the campus band shell to be greeted by the cheers of about 2,500 enthusiastic undergrads.

The demonstration, however, was not the wild one that followed the announcement of Michigan State's first Rose Bowl trip.

At that time, Illinois and Michigan State were deadlocked for the conference lead and State had to sweat out the Big Ten vote.

When the welcome word came on a November night two years ago, the student body nearly went berserk, rioting out into downtown East Lansing to snake dance through the streets, invade stores, block traffic and tip cars.

Bombshell Effect
"They've had 24 hours to get accustomed to the idea," said President Hannah. "This time, the announcement didn't come with the bombshell effect of the first one."

Munn said after he was informed of the nomination he sent wires to the coaches, athletic directors and faculty representatives of Illinois and Ohio State, who put the Spartans in the bowl by beating Michigan.

The telegrams contained the identical message: "Many thanks for your assistance."

Nation's Ace Miler Cleared of Charges

KANSAS CITY (U) — The Missouri Valley AAU board of managers Sunday decided to lift the amateur suspension of Wes Santee, this country's fastest miler.

The managers voted 21-7 to reject the decision of the Missouri Valley AAU registration committee which suspended Santee on Oct. 30 on grounds he had accepted excessive expense allowances for three California track meets last month.

Santee's suspension will be lifted automatically if no one appeals Sunday's decision to the board of governors of the National AAU within 10 days.

Wooden Comments
John R. Wooden of UCLA feels the tall players will lose "some cheap baskets by tip-ins after missed free throws and may lose some other offensive rebounds" but doesn't believe their games will be "materially affected."

A changed offense from the pivot is in prospect in the opinion of Floyd S. Stahl of Ohio State University. "The new rule will put a premium on the pivot man who is active," he says.

And Eddie Hickey of St. Louis University feels the rule will place more emphasis on the moving pivot while the wider lane "definitely offers greater possibility for development of some type of zone defense."

Set Shooters Eyed
Everett N. Case of North Carolina State sees set shooters being inserted into the lineup to draw the defense away from the basket and Harry Combes of Illinois feels there is no reason for changes in defensive tactics.

"I think it will be just the opposite," Combes says, "because if the big man has any shooting ability away from the basket he is going to have to be defended against while playing out on the floor."

The survey also shows the coaches expect more driving offenses, that it will be easier to box-out the tall offensive pivot man on rebounds and that it will be easier to keep the big men from hitting "easy" baskets after missed free throws.

Cotton Bowl Selects TCU

Sugar Bowl Teams Still Not Decided

By WILL GRIMSLEY
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan State and UCLA, third and fifth respectively in the national football rankings, have another Rose Bowl rendezvous scheduled Jan. 2 at Pasadena.

Michigan State, which won a wild battle for UCLA three two years ago 28-20, was formally named as the Big Ten representative Sunday. UCLA's selection was a matter of routine.

The UCLA Bruins, beaten only by Maryland this year, clinched their third straight Pacific Coast Conference championship and the bowl spot by humbling Southern California 17-7.

Michigan State took the side door, gaining the Big Ten bid when Ohio State, repeating as conference titleholder and ineligible for the Pasadena trip, cut down Michigan in a game which ended in a near brawl 17-0.

Sugar Bowl Unknown
Texas Christian was chosen for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas after its 35-0 rout of Rice, leaving the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans as the only post season fixture with a cupboard bare.

(Here is how the bowl picture stacks up Monday):
Rose Bowl — Michigan State (8-1) vs. UCLA (9-1).
Orange Bowl — Oklahoma (9-0) vs. Maryland (9-0), the two top-ranking teams in the country.

Cotton Bowl — TCU (8-1) vs. team to be selected. The Cotton Bowl wants Navy if the latter can beat Army next Saturday. Otherwise, the nod will go to one of the Southeastern teams or possibly Pittsburgh.

Three Contenders
Sugar Bowl — Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Auburn leading candidates with Vanderbilt, winner of its last six, a "dark horse." Two Southeastern teams not improbable but Pitt an outside bet.

The season comes to a climax next Saturday with the Army-Navy game at the Cotton Bowl. (Continued on page 2, col. 6)

Hoop Coaches See Changes

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U) — A survey of college coaches showed Sunday that the wider free throw lane in basketball is expected to bring about more zone defenses, fast breaks, less hook shots and added emphasis on the out-court set shot.

Roswell D. Merrick and Donald N. Boydston of Southern Illinois University base their predictions on comments from 23 top basketball coaches in an article in the November issue of the Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The new rule, which goes into effect this year, widens the college free throw lane from six to 12 feet. The National Basketball Assn. adopted the rule several years ago in the pro ranks.

"It will give the smaller players a chance to compete on an equal basis with the big man," says E. A. Diddle, coach at Western Kentucky State College. He feels the "big, slow boy" will be most affected.

Tunnell Stars As Giants Win Over Eagles

NEW YORK (U) — The New York Giants, holding Philadelphia's vaunted attack to almost a complete standstill, stunned the Eagles with a 21-point third period Sunday to pound out a convincing 31-7 triumph that pulled them out of the cellar into a third place tie in the eastern division of the National Football League.

The defeat, Philadelphia's fifth in nine games, dropped the Eagles into a last place tie with the Chicago Cardinals.

Eagles Outplayed
A crowd of 22,075 watched the Giants put on their best offensive and defensive show of the season as the New Yorkers thoroughly outplayed the Eagles who only last week swamped the league leading Cleveland Browns. With defensive halfback Emlen Tunnell playing the leading role, the Giants intercepted six Eagle passes, recovered a Philadelphia fumble and limited the losers to only 54 yards on the ground.

So sharp and alert were the Giant defenders that Philly passers Adrian Burk and Bobby Thomason were able to complete only 15 of 37 passes and many of the completions were yard losers.

Touchdown Plays
Tunnell intercepted two passes and ran back a punt for 65 yards and a touchdown. Charlie Conerly passed for one touchdown and set up another with a 48-yard completion. Don Heinrich also passed well and scored one touchdown. Bobby Epps plunged over for another touchdown. Ben Agajanian booted a field goal and kicked four extra points.

Philadelphia scoring: Touchdown—Stribling (17, pass from Burk). Conversion—Walston.
New York scoring: Touchdowns—Heinrich (1 foot, sneak), Epps (1/2 yard, plunge), Tunnell (66, punt return), Rote (22, pass from Conerly). Field goal—Agajanian (18). Conversions—Agajanian 4.

22 Teams Remain Unbeaten, Untied
NEW YORK (U) — With one more week left in the regular college football season, twenty-two teams hold unbeaten and untied records. Of these, seventeen have completed their campaigns.

Maryland, with ten straight victories, and Oklahoma, with nine, are the major elevens with perfect records. Oklahoma has one game remaining, that with Oklahoma A&M Saturday.

Other unbeaten teams with a game to play are Northern (S.D.) Teachers, Miami (Ohio), Whitworth (Wash.) and Albany (Ga.) State.

Wolves Elect Darryl Girod

OREGON COLLEGE, Monmouth (Special) — The Oregon College Wolves have elected Darryl Girod captain of their 1955-56 basketball team. Girod, who transferred from Willamette after playing for the Barkers last season, has a good chance of starting for the Wolves this year at guard.

Dr. Bob Livingston, head basketball mentor at OCE, cut the varsity squad to 14 after Friday's workout. Two who were cut from the varsity squad were lettermen Doug Zitek and Harley Willis.

Those who will make up the OCE team are forwards Ron Jones, Dale Andrich, Kelly Hoy, Barry Adams, Larry Zitek, Gordy Miller and Doug Rogers; guards Von Summers, Ken Boydston, Marv Rhine, Bob Foreman and Girod; centers Wayne Young and Bob Jones.

Gain after 'em...

By DON HARGER

Waterfowl hunters can now relax and rest assured that plenty of the web-footed quackers and honkers are in the Willamette valley. Large flights of ducks and geese were arriving most of last week and were still coming in from the north yesterday.

Most of the river lowlands are now covered with water affording plenty of shooting grounds for the many hunters seeking choice duck shooting. Flooded corn fields, stubble fields and pasture lands are drawing the ducks in like they were fastened to strings.

Many of the scatter gunners are taking to the fields now and with a handful of decoys are enjoying some of the best shooting the Willamette valley has had in many a season. Probably the best area at present, or at least one of the best, is the flat land area between Albany and Harrisburg and that area between Corvallis and Monroe. Thousands of ducks and geese are in the southern part of the valley and the hunters are having a field day.

Flooded areas in the Dayton area are affording some top flight mallard shooting. Some excellent shooting is to be had in the St. Paul area as well as in the Pudding river drainage near Mt. Angel.

Some of Largest Flights Seen Sunday
We watched some of the largest flights of ducks on Sunday that we have seen for some time. Most of the big flights coming in from the north numbered close to a hundred birds with some of the bands carrying many more than that figure. Other large bands were trading back and forth across the valley and up and down the river lowlands as if they were here to stay for a time.

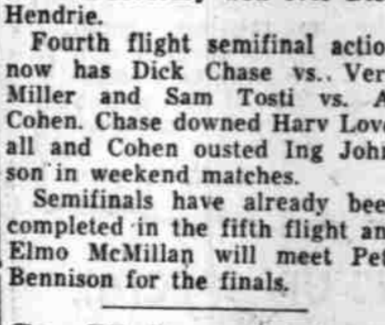

With plenty of water in the valley now and plenty of food there is no reason for the birds to push on unless another unexpected cold wave freezes everything in sight. Even then the mallards will stay for some time, so long as the Willamette river remains open.

With any luck at all the steelhead anglers should begin to score before the late part of the week. The present high water should bring in the first big run of fish to fill the good steelhead drifts with fighting fish. A little let-up in the rain to drop the rivers will let the egg drifters get in on the fun.

Fine Fishing Predicted on Coast
The smaller creeks along the coast will be the first to clear, and the little waters such as Neskovin creek, Three rivers, and Beaver creek should produce some fine fishing.

Drift, Schooner and other creeks of similar size will be host to plenty of steelheaders who like the going on the small, hard to fish waters. The larger rivers will not drop nor clear so fast but will be fishable for egg dunkers in the eddies and slower runs.

Thanksgiving Day could well be a day for many sportsmen to give thanks. With plenty of waterfowl and fish in the offing it should be a day to rejoice and relax. Who knows? Maybe we can even fudge a bit and get out for a shot or two before dinner.
