Floods Beset Mid-Valley

Creek Leaves Banks RICKREALL — Rain-gorged Postoffice and shows flooded acreage of Fred Black's Creek Rickreall Creek overflowed normally would not be visible in this scene. No families were its banks here Wednesday, flooding lowlands on south side of reported evacuated in this immediate area. Salem-Dallas Highway. Above photo was taken near Rickreall.

Slide Moves Tree heavy rains Wednesday caused several slides on South River Road and water closed the road near Independence. Most unusual of the slides is shown above. It occurred when a tree—roots and all—slipped down an embankment near Croisan Creek Road and stopped in the middle of the road, still upright. (Statesman Photo).

Victims NEW YORK — Dead in Eastern Airlines plane crash in Jacksonville, Fla., that took 17 lives Wednesday were: top, pilot Tom McBrien, stewardess Emma Williams, son of Adlai Stevenson, Winston-Salem, N. C.; and Carlos Berquid, former consul general for Republic of Panama in Philadelphia. (AP Wirephoto).

Artesian Well? Elmer Harris, city streets employee, is shown looking at what appears to be an artesian well in the middle of E. Miller Street Wednesday afternoon. It occurred when the street's storm sewer backed up forcing water out this manhole. (Statesman Photo).

Hurt GOSHEN, Ind. — John Falls Stevenson, 19, son of Adlai Stevenson, suffered a broken right kneecap and severe face cuts in a high-way collision near Elkhart, Ind., Wednesday. (AP Wirephoto).

Adlai Visits Son GOSHEN, Ind. — Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson arrives to see his son, John Fall, who was critically injured Wednesday in a collision that took the lives of two companions. Behind is Roger Tubby, press secretary. (AP Wirephoto).
