Quizzed NEW YORK—Monthly compensation payments to James Kutcher of Newark, N.J., amounting to $329 monthly were suspended Nov. 30 pending an investigation, the Veterans Administration said Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

'Come to Daddy' TACOMA, Wash.—Sgt. John M. Horan, Maynard, Mass., reaches from Madigan Army Hospital bed for his 15-month-old son, Michael, as his Japanese wife cried with joy. Horan bailed out of a disabled plane over rugged mountains Sunday and walked to safety yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

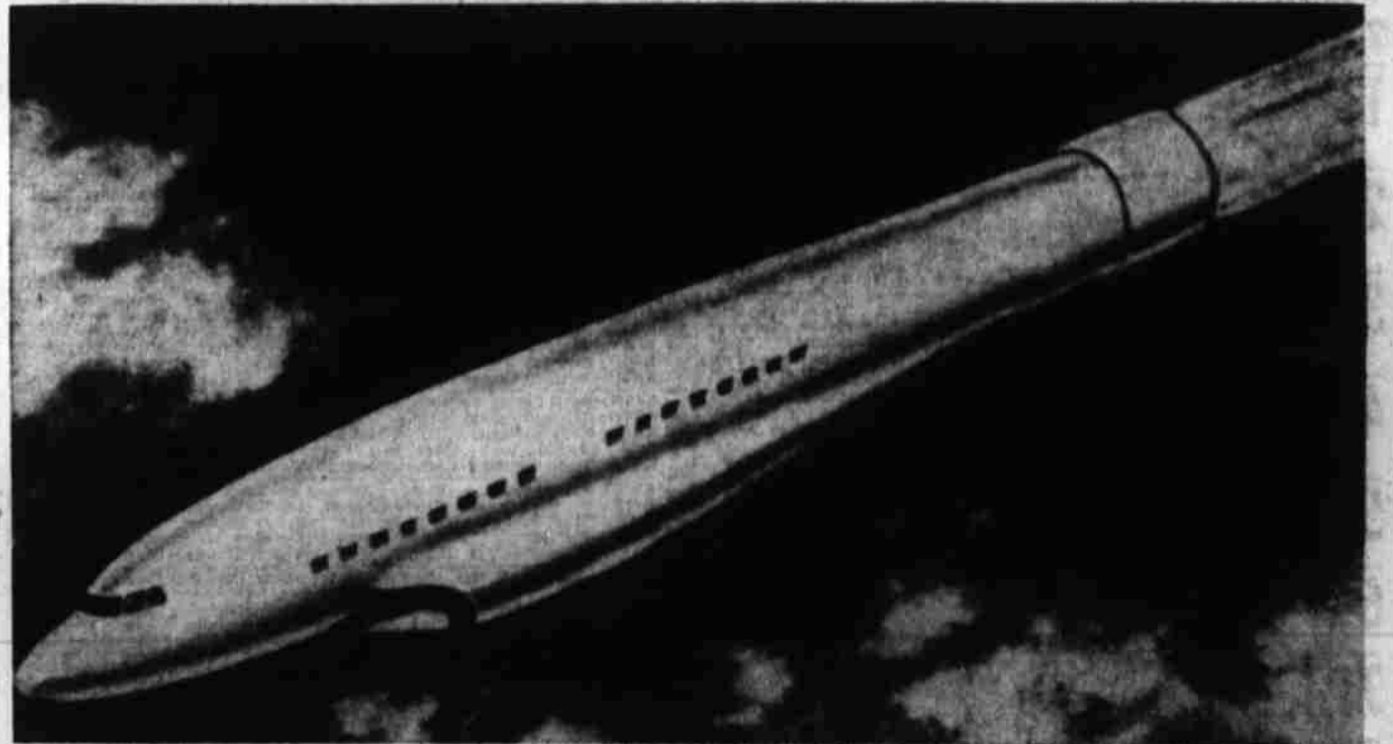

Reno Flooded RENO—Flood waters swirled around the Mapes hotel in downtown Reno Friday as Truckee river burst its banks because of driving mountain rains which have wiped out a six-foot mountain snowpack. Dozens of business houses closed for last minute Christmas shoppers as the water surged down a block-wide area. (AP Wirephoto)

Wrong Way Parking BELVEDERE, Calif.—When dawn broke Friday on Marin County's sixth straight day of storms this commercial fishing boat was found beached on rip rap boulders beside this waterfront road, bordering Belvedere Cove. (AP Wirephoto)

Quelled Paraguay's President Alfredo Stroessner told his people Thursday a reputed revolt, considered "an internal crisis," has been settled. (AP Wirephoto)

Airliner of 1975? CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—This is an artist's conception of the Aero-dyne, a wingless aircraft which uses an internal lift-inducing Radio Company, is credited with development of first rocket propulsion system to take off and land vertically, hover like a propelled fighter to enter operational use.
