Repentant Red Woman Freed On Parole

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Barbara Hartle, convicted in Seattle Oct. 10, 1953 of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by violence, was released from jail Wednesday on parole.

Since her imprisonment Mrs. Hartle has testified for the government in cases involving Communism.

The Federal Board of Paroles announced Jan. 6 she was being paroled, effective today. The board said she has "assisted the government in the fight against the Communist conspiracy."

She received a five-year prison sentence, and became eligible for parole upon serving one third of it. Most of the time was served in the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va. Mrs. Hartle was one of five convicted in the Seattle Smith Act trial.

Marilyn Minus Romance

NEW YORK — Boys, the chance of a lifetime is here—Marilyn Monroe hasn't been having any dates or romance lately.

"Furthermore, she doesn't like the situation a bit either. 'I haven't been dating. I have no romance, period,' she wailed. Asked if it were sad not to have any romance at all, the curvaceous screen beauty shot back: "IT'S AWFUL."

This personal revelation—perhaps unprecedented in the annals of both Hollywood and the 20th Century—came about in connection with New York Post Columnist Earl Wilson's report that Pulitzer Prize Playwright Arthur Miller and his wife are divorcing.

Wilson said both Miller and Marilyn denied that their friendship had anything to do with the divorce plans.

"He's a friend and a friend of friends," Marilyn explained.
