SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Pat Brown said Monday he planned "to look into" raffles reported being conducted in the Los Angeles area by University of Southern California and UCLA booster clubs.

Royal Named UW Prospect

(Continued from preceding page) ed out Briggs previously had stated he would not meet with the committee until his plans regarding a coach were set.

"It is logical to believe that he gave them (members of the committee) the name of the coach and the new coach's terms," the P-1 said.

The paper said it learned from sources in the San Francisco area — Briggs served as assistant AD at California before coming to Washington — that Briggs flew east Saturday to confer with Royal.

Briggs declined to comment on the speculation, saying he would not "bandy names about."

Royal, 31, graduated from Oklahoma in 1950, playing as quarterback for the Sooners under Bud Wilkinson.

Coached in Canada He coached and played football in Canada and moved into the head job at Mississippi State when Murray Warmath went to Minnesota.

Royal's Mississippi State squad had identical 6-4 records in 1954 and 1955. He is an advocate of the split T.

At Washington Royal, if selected, would replace Cowboy Johnny Cherborg, who was fired Jan. 27 as the outgrowth of a player rebellion which flared for two months.

The man who fired Cherborg, Athletic Director Harvey Cassill, resigned under fire Feb. 9 and Briggs took over as boss of the Husky Athletic Department on Feb. 15.

Gophers Hire Blaik's Son

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Bob Blaik, son of Army football coach Earl Blaik, was hired Monday as an assistant football coach at Minnesota.

Also appointed to an assistant post was Ray Malavasi, former West Point lineman. Both are 25 and served under Gopher Coach Murray Warmath while he was assisting Blaik at Army.

Young Blaik, All-Eastern quarterback with Army in 1950, was graduated from Colorado College and served as football assistant there in 1952. He recently was discharged from the service.

Malavasi, a native of Clifton, N. J., played guard at Army in 1949 and 1950. He assisted under Warmath at Mississippi State in 1952 and played part of the 1953 season with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

For the last two years he has been line coach of the Fort Belvoir, Va., team. He is due for discharge from the Army next month.

A-2 Tourney Has Lost It's 'Local Angle'

The State A-2 tournament at South Salem High suffered a bad blow, from a local angle, when both the Serra Catholic Sabers and Salem Academy Crusaders went down in the district playoffs at McMinnville. There's nothing like a local touch in a cage tourney, both from the standpoint of interest and accompanying attendance. Along with many others we had hoped to see either Leo Grosjacques' Sabers or Bob Funk's Crusaders make the grade.

As it is now, we'll have to pull for Cal Hersey's Cascades and Fred Graham's Staytons to come through, as both are still alive in the district struggle. Same goes for Silvertown, Woodburn, Dallas and Mt. Angel in the District 4 W-2 eliminations which begin at Molalla this weekend.

Although Saturday night's final round will produce the District 8 A-1 tourney winner here, the two Friday night openers are actually the big ball games. Winners of the Friday games are qualified for the Eugene jaunt, for both the first and second placers in the local melee get to go to the A-1 tournament. Thus the Saturday night championship tussle will be anticlimactic, unless it happens to involve the resident Vikings and Saxons. Saturday night's "preliminary" will be a whopper for both teams involved, for the winner of it retains a chance for a state tourney berth. The No. 3 finisher is to play the No. 3 club of District 5, and the winner of that one goes to Eugene also.

Quartet Left In 3 A-2 Mix

Weekend Sees Finals In McMinnville Bee

Only four teams are left "alive" in the District 3 A-2 cage tournament at McMinnville, which is scheduled to end this weekend with semifinals on Friday night and finals the next night.

The 14-team field was slashed to the remaining four as a result of "sudden death" eliminations last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The four unbeaten quintets are battling for the lone State Class A-2 tournament ticket to South Salem High's arena starting March 12.

The four teams still holding a chance are Willamina's Bulldogs, the Stayton Eagles, the Sherwood Bowmen and the Cascade Cougars. Willamina and Sherwood are co-champions of the Yawama League. Stayton won the Capital Conference and Cascade finished in a tie for the second rung in the latter loop, only one game behind the champion Eagles squad.

Ducks to Play Cougars Next

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene (Special) — Three straight home games are next in line for the Oregon basketball varsity. The Ducks play the Washington State Cougars here Friday and Saturday nights of this week, and then go against Oregon State on March 9. The final game of the season will be with the Beavers at Corvallis March 16.

Coach Bill Borchers' Ducks, losers to UCLA by scores of 95-71 and 108-89 last weekend in Los Angeles, will go into the weekend series, with the Cougars owning a 3-0, 9-0 record. Washington State is even worse off, having won only two of 12 to date. But the Cougars last week upset strong Stanford, a team that downed Oregon twice.

City Hoopers Near Finish

Other games in the conference this week are California's second placers at Los Angeles against the unbeaten Bruins and Southern California at Washington. Oregon State, Idaho and Stanford are idle.

The weekend games here will be the 122nd and 123rd between the two rivals in their long Coast Conference history. Oregon has won 71 games, to 60 for the Cougars. The foes broke even in four games last season.

Bonsell Takes District Title

Scoring at nearly a 19-point-per-game clip, Bend's Bob Bonsell has racked up the District 8-A-1 tally-making championship with a season's total of 227 points. Bonsell topped 30 points twice during the recently completed district double round robin, capping the season with a 28-point effort against Sweet Home last Saturday night.

Sweet Home's Royce McDaniels was runner-up in the scoring race, getting 203 counters in his 12 outings, including 30 in Saturday's game. No other district player broke into the thirties in a league mix.

Denny Olsen of Bend nabbed third place with a 184 point total. Then, closely bunched, came Jack Gambee, Corvallis (186), Bob Tom of North Salem (165), Dale Jones of South Salem (163), and Rene Moye, Albany (160).

USSR Hockey Series Denied

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle Americans (professional) hockey team challenged the Russian Olympic champions to a series in Seattle but ran head-on into a veto Monday.

Al Leader, president of the Western Hockey League, said the Americans couldn't enter any foreign alliances without an okay from him, from the owners of other teams in the league and from the International Hockey Assn.

Leader stepped in before the team could even get a "Nyet" from Premier Nikolai Bulgargin, has nixed similar offers from some Canadian hockey collectives.

In part, this is what was said in the Seattle team's (paid) cablegram to Premier Bulgargin, The Kremlin, Moscow, U.S.S.R.:

"In the interest of furthering international relations through the medium of athletic endeavor, we extend an expense-paid invitation to the Russian Olympic hockey team to meet the Seattle Americans in a best-of-two-of-three series.

The cablegram neglected to mention that Seattle is at the bottom of the league standings in the Coast division.

Pairings Drawn In B Tournament

PORTLAND (AP)—The Oregon School Activities Assn. drew pairings Monday for the state class B basketball tournament at Baker.

In the first round Thursday, March 8, it will be district 2 against district 8, district 5 against 6, district 1 against 4, and district 7 against 3.

None of the district championships has been decided.

Reigel's 53 Points Boosts Total to 1000

MONROE, La. (AP)—Bill Reigel, the nation's leading minor-college basketball scorer, tossed in 53 points Monday night to boost his season total over the 1,000-point mark.

Reigel and his McNeese State teammates defeated Northeast (La.) State 91-76 in a Gulf States Conference game.

The contest ended McNeese State's regular season. In the team's 29 games, Reigel scored 1,001 points, an average of 34.5 a game.

High School Goalie With One Leg Proves Great Competitor

BOSTON (AP)—Kevin Morris conceals a story of courage and perseverance beneath his Brighton High School hockey uniform. Kevin is a one-legged goalie.

By any standards, the 5-foot-9-inch, 145 pounder is a fine goaltender and few who have watched him perform are aware of his handicap. He has an artificial right leg as the result of a train accident when the leg was severed above the knee.

A Great Competitor Hockey is the only sport Morris can play and he's proved a competitor to the hilt.

Two all star games this weekend concluded his scholastic career. He's been the Brighton regular for three seasons and the district league's first choice for all star goalie two years.

In a job that requires trigger-fast reactions, Kevin — who hopes to play hockey for Dartmouth or Harvard in college — excels.

"He moves very well in the cage," says his coach, Johnny Morris (no relation). "He has good reflexes, does fine work with the glove and is the noisiest player I've ever heard as he barks orders and directions to the boys in front of him."

Kept Leg Secret "It's no different," answers Kevin in when asked how it feels to play with just one good leg. "I had a little trouble at the start of this season because I had a new leg."

Morris didn't tell his coach of his lost leg when he tried out for the team and in a competition for the job won the position.

At first, Kevin tried to conceal the handicap by changing in a secluded corner of the dressing room but soon found his teammates accepted him for what he is — a good goalie.

Regis Players Hurt in Game

DENVER (AP)—Coach Harvey Moore of Regis College's basketball team said Monday he had told officials "someone's going to get hurt if you don't start calling them closer."

One Regis player, Tom Hoogerwerf, suffered a head injury and another, Mickey Shannon, had the wind knocked out of him during rough play in the Regis-Seattle game Sunday, Seattle won 84-77.

Ken Fuhrer, Seattle forward, was ordered out of the game by the officials after Hoogerwerf was hurt. The Regis player was taken to a hospital.

Al Brightman, Seattle coach, told reporters each case involving the Regis players "was a regrettable incident."

He said Shannon kept backing into the Seattle player guarding him, Dick Stricklin, "and the officials weren't calling it."

"Hoogerwerf was charging," Brightman said. "I'm sorry it happened. We'll go see him in the hospital. It's too bad."

Shannon missed 7 minutes of the game and Hoogerwerf 27 minutes. They are the top scorers for Regis.

Vancouver Mayor Makes Final Appeal

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Mayor Fred Hume flew to Victoria Monday to seek a personal meeting with Premier Bennett in an eleventh-hour effort to allow Sunday sports in Vancouver.

Corporation Counsel Russell Baker went with him.

Before leaving, Hume said he personally is opposed to commercial sport on Sundays. Vancouver citizens voted in favor of the change in a plebiscite last December.

Amendment Necessary "I will do everything possible to have those wishes carried out," the mayor said.

The British Columbia Legislature is expected to end its session this week and the law or the city charter would have to be amended by then.

Baker appeared before the private bills committee of the Legislature last week but said he had no instructions regarding Sunday sport.

13 Sunday Games Hume's last-minute visit on the day he officially returned to office after a vacation followed a week of argument between City Council and the provincial government.

The move to have Sunday afternoon-commercial sport allowed in Vancouver followed the move here of Oakland Oaks Pacific Coast League baseball franchise. The league schedule for this summer is already drawn with 13 Sunday doubleheaders at home planned for the Vancouver team.

Frick Says Cities Must Seek Teams

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Monday said cities that want major league baseball franchises are going to have to go after them, because right now there aren't any big league teams looking for new homes.

Frick said a lot of people — particularly sportswriters in cities that think they should have major league baseball — like to talk about weak big league franchises hunting for new locations.

"It's up to those cities to go after the franchises," Frick said. "There are 16 sound organizations in the majors now. None is financially weak."

they'll do it again when Al Brightman's band faces Steve Belko's Bengals in their "at large" playoff game which sends the winner to Corvallis.

So in this case three of the four teams would be repeaters from 1955, when Oregon State put the slug to Seattle and San Francisco upended Utah the first night, and then the Dons took their barn-burner from the Beavers the second.

Many folks feel that the Dons won't be nearly so potent without their floor leader and playmaker, K. C. Jones who is ineligible for the playoffs. Others claim that the San Franciscans are so loaded that Jones won't be missed at all. Bob Ferrick, the Santa Clara mentor who has to contend with the Dons each season in the California Basketball Association, puts it this way: "When they beat you by 20 points, Jones scores only 2. But when they beat you by 2 points, Jones will score 20."

At any rate, it will be mighty interesting to see just how the Dons do make out without their back-court whiz. That is, if you have a ticket . . .
