

New Annexation Area Proposed, 2nd Pushed Into Final Vote Stage

(Stories also on Page 1.)
A new Salem annexation area was proposed to the City Council Monday night, and a second annexation area pending for some time was pushed into final voting stage.

White said he didn't think the two residential areas would place an unreasonable strain on the water supply and he felt "the city must grow into those areas it can assimilate."
City Improvements
"But we couldn't consider annexing areas like Keizer or Four Corners that we know full well we couldn't do anything with at this time," added the mayor. He said even small areas might have to wait for city improvements, even now that assessments are levied for sewer and water installations.

Radar 'Eyes' Due to Track New Rockets

NEW YORK (AP) — A far-ranging chain of radar "eyes" for lightning-fast tracking of America's newest supersonic rockets and missiles soon will be completed on a string of islands extending more than 2,000 miles from Florida's East Coast through the West Indies, the builders said Monday.
Described as "the world's largest chain radar tracking system," the 21 installations on eight islands are being set up at a cost of about 10 million dollars.
The Reeves Instrument Corp., which designed and built the series, said in a statement that they are "the first chain radars capable of long-range continuous and uninterrupted tracking."
The units are situated on a straight line of island sites that lie along the entire length of the U. S. Air Force Air Research and Development Command's Florida guided missile range.
Precise data provided by the equipment, the company said, will aid the United States "in the tense international race to develop an effective intercontinental missile and other new supersonic weapons."

New Business Building Wins Okeh of City

Construction of another new business in the Candalaria district was authorized Monday by the city engineer's office. The latest project will house a variety store operated by the Cornet firm.
A permit for the $34,000 structure was issued to Arthur M. Erickson, with location to be at 2675 S. Commercial St. Erickson, Salem market operator, reportedly will lease to the variety firm.
Other permits issued Monday by the city engineer: Milton A. Morcy, re-locate house at 2495 Adams, cost $500; George B. Causey, $1,500 in alterations on a house at 550 Cascade Dr.; E. J. Yarnell and L. L. Yarnell, build an $11,000 house at 2280 Camellia; Floyd Lawrence, $300 alterations on a grocery store at 404 S. High St.

Diesel Hits Snowplow; Trains Halted

CRESCENT LAKE, Ore. (AP) — A diesel locomotive unit pushing a snowplow hit a submerged stump and jumped the track 26 miles northwest of here Monday, delaying north and southbound Southern Pacific passenger trains.
No one was injured and the track was not damaged in the derailment.
However, the Klamath, northbound from San Francisco, and the Shasta Daylight, southbound from Portland, were delayed several hours.

15 Perish as Bombers Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two bombers crashed in separate accidents Monday, killing an estimated 15 persons.
A four-engine Superfort with 11 crewmen crashed on a brief test flight on a farm near Dayton, Ohio. The plane exploded when it smashed into the earth. All aboard were killed.
The other plane was a B47 medium jet bomber which crashed into a farm house at Knob Noeter, Mo., injuring a mother and her son. The four crewmen aboard apparently were killed.
(No one in either crash was from the Northwest.) (Additional details page 8, sec. 2.)

Sweetheart of World War I Soldiers Dies

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Elsie Janis—the "Little Elsie" who sang and danced her way into the hearts of World War I Doughboys—died Sunday night at her home. She was 66.
The former "Sweetheart of the AEF" succumbed after several years of failing health.
Of her many friends in show business, only Mary Pickford was reported at her bedside when she died.
Miss Janis, a top comedy star of Broadway and London for a 20-year period beginning in 1906, would have been 67 March 6.
She was born Elsie Janis Bierbower in Columbus, Ohio, in 1889. At the age of 8 she made her stage debut and soon became a popular favorite when she hit Broadway as "Little Elsie." She was a vaudeville bigtimer by the time she was 11.

'Blaze' at Bank Proves Illusion

Reports of smoke sent firemen to the University Branch of U.S. National Bank, 1310 State St., about 9:30 p.m. Monday. The smoke turned out to be a harmless illusion.
Firemen said smoke seen over the bank by person turning in the alarm had been blown by the wind from adjoining chimneys.

76th Birthday Of Chemawa Celebrated

Statesman News Service
CHEMAWA—Colorful costumes, dances and the echoing of tribal drums and chants Monday night ushered in the first part of a two-day observance of Chemawa Indian School's 76th anniversary.
Chief Tommy Thompson, 102, oldest descendant of the Columbia River tribes and guest of honor at the affair, was delayed and arrived too late to witness special dances and other features designed as a tribute to him. He is slated to participate in Tuesday night's festivities, scheduled to open at 8 o'clock.

Highlight of the opening night of the anniversary festival was coronation of Queen Sarah Secody, Navajo girl from Arizona. She was crowned by last year's diamond jubilee queen, Leah James, Blackfoot tribe of Montana.

In Pageant Form
The Chemawa history in pageant form, entitled "My Grandfather Told Me," featured Edwin Lawver, Klamath tribe, as the grandfather and Sylvester Quagant, Shoshone-Bannock from Fort Hall, Idaho, as the grandson.

Special dances in tribute to Chief Thompson were rendered by his son, Henry Thompson, and his adopted son, Alex Navarre (Niles Rising Sun). Other feature dances included a Hoop Dance by George Brown, Navajo; Eagle dance by John Paddock, Navajo, and a Thunderbird dance by Charles Telier, Flatfoot tribe, Montana.

Colorful was a war dance in which 12 students of Navajo, Blackfoot, Flathead and Warm Springs tribes participated. Also drawing eyes was a Little Boys' war dance.

Pageant Narrator
The pageant was narrated by Vern Hackett, assistant boys' advisor at Chemawa and director was E. B. Hudson, boys' advisor. The pageant was written by school staff members.

Princesses in the queen's court are Madeline Kaka, Shoshone-Bannock tribe, Fort Hall, Idaho; Irma Pepon, Blackfoot tribe, Valier, Mont.; Alice Frank, Colville tribe, Worley, Idaho; Esther Mae Duffy, Delores Mae Billie and Doris James, all Navajo girls from Arizona. Escorts are Charles Telier, Flathead tribe, Spokane; James Tone, Nez Perce, Spokane; James Tone, Nez Perce, The Dalles; George Grown, John Paddock and Tom Jones, all Navajos from Arizona.
The anniversary fete, held in the school gym, is open to the public.

North Salem Lad Third in Speech Meet

Statesman News Service
McMINNVILLE—George E. Andrews, senior at North Salem High School and a representative of Salem Capitol Post No. 9, American Legion, finished third Monday night in area eliminations of the annual Legion-sponsored oratorical contest for high school students. The event was held at Linfield College.

Andrews entered the contest as a last-minute contender after a mixup at Saturday's sub-district competition at Salem found not a single contestant appearing. The North Salem senior had but four hours to prepare a speech on the constitution of the United States, beginning at 12 noon Monday.

PARKED CAR HIT
A car collided with a parked vehicle about 7 p.m. Monday, resulting in considerable damage to both, city police reported. Officers said the moving vehicle, driven by Richard Arthur Howard, 1910 McCoy St., struck a parked car, owned by Robert B. Hall, 3270 Lawrence St. The mishap occurred in the 900 block of Mill St.

Judge Grants Con-Author's Appeal Plea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chief Judge William Denman of the United States Court of Appeals Monday granted death-row author Caryl Chessman an appeal from his latest petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Judge Denman said the appeals court would entertain the new plea solely on grounds of Chessman's claim that he was denied proper representation on Los Angeles superior court when the transcript of his trial finally was approved for his automatic appeal to the State Supreme Court against a death sentence.
Chessman was convicted in May 1948 of kidnaping, sex perversion and attempted rape, robbery and attempted robbery.

Josephine County, Jackson Eligible For $280,000 Aid

Jackson and Josephine counties have been declared new disaster areas and are eligible for $280,000 for relief for damage to public property, President Eisenhower telegraphed Gov. Elmo Smith Monday.
Gov. Smith asked for the federal aid after heavy rains struck the two counties a week ago.

Talmadge 'Set to Oppose George'

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia will be a candidate for the post now held by the veteran U. S. Sen. Walter F. George in the state Democratic primary Sept. 12, the Chattanooga Times said Monday night.
A story by assistant city editor Jim Lindsey said the paper had been authorized by a "source close to Talmadge" to state that an official announcement of the Talmadge candidacy will be made in May.
