Special Census to Count Silverton's Noses, Muzzles

SILVERTON - Silverton is going to count noses and muzzles. A special census of dogs will get underway next week and a census of people the following Silverion currently is credited with 3,146 residents. Bets have been placed in some quarters that the new census will show an increase of 500 to 800 people. No figures exist on the city's dog population. But a few spring gardeners are betting the new figures will show that Silverton has more dogs than people.
