

U.S. Trailer Caravan to Invade West Europe on Peace Mission

NEW YORK (AP)—Europe is about to have another American motorized invasion. This time, however, it is a peaceful trip by folk, taking their own homes with them.

About 125 people, ranging in age from 8 to 85, are in the junket called "trailer tour of Europe." The objective is to tour Europe and make friends, both for themselves and for America.

Mostly retired folk, these tourists are taking a total of 60 trailer homes with them. The represent 17 of the states, the majority of them from California and Florida. No Dollar Sign.

Wallie Byam, who heads the junket, says, "We want to make friends for America in a real way, without resorting to the dollar sign."

The 50-year-old retired Los Angeles construction engineer calls the mountain of work of organizing and arranging the trip—at no pay to himself or others—"My hobby."

As an assistant he has his cousin, Mrs. Helen Byam Schwamborn, whom he calls his "secretary." Like her cousin, friend-making abroad is a passion with her. This is how it is done, she says:

"We move our homes to their cities and become a part of their community, invite them to our homes and they in turn invite us to theirs. That way we make good friends."

First Departure

Byam and Mrs. Schwamborn will leave in the first section of tourists departing from Brooklyn next Tuesday aboard the Black Diamond Liner "Black Condor."

The other tourists and their trailers will leave via separate means. The group plans to reunite in Rotterdam on April 10 and will start on the first leg of their European tour from that point on April 19.

The tourists will visit every free European country, touching mostly the smaller towns, Byam said.

About 50 members of the European junket logged 18,000 miles on
