Ninety are expected to attend the affair with Miss Neva Woolery presiding. Mrs. Roy Batchelor will be the speaker. One group attending will represent four generations, Mrs. Peter Friesen, her mother, daughter and granddaughter.

Ceremonies on Post Office Grounds

Mrs. Mabel Lockwood (seated, center), American War Mother, was honored Thursday when a plaque (in foreground) and tree (in background) were dedicated to her honor at the Salem post office grounds. Seated at left is Mrs. Mary Addie Curtis, local chapter member and at right, Mrs. Freda Grey, state War Mothers president, from Portland, who participated in the ceremonies. (Statesman photo).

Dedication of Tree to Mrs. Lockwood

A brief, colorful ceremony marked the dedication of a silk tree and bronze plaque in honor of Mrs. Mabel A. Lockwood, Salem's outstanding American War Mother, in ceremonies Thursday on the post office grounds.

Praise for the peace-worthy efforts of the American War Mothers, whose Salem chapter sponsored the dedication, came from State Sen. Mark Hatfield, main speaker at the event.

He said the War Mothers have worked hard to promote "brotherly understanding" and to combat the "worst enemies of peace — prejudice, poverty and disease."

Mr. Lockwood, active member of the War Mother for the past 31 years and a former national president, was praised for her "many years of outstanding service."

Mrs. Fred A. Grey of Portland, state president of the American War Mothers also spoke, as did Jack D. Surles, commander of Post 9, American Legion, who presented the plaque to Postmaster Albert C. Gragg.

Other participating included Mrs. Mary Addie Curtis who recited a poem about Oregon; Mrs. Martin Vieske, president of the Salem chapter; Mrs. Glenn W.

Prather, past president, Ronald Craven, who sang; Mrs. E. E. Bergman, Mrs. Howard Hunsaker, and the Rev. Julian Keiser and the Rev. George H. Swift.

Brown Garden Opened for Club Tea

SILVERTON — Scores of gardeners from Salem and other communities gathered Wednesday afternoon at Silvertown to view the gardens of Mrs. P. L. Brown which she had opened in compliment to the Salem Garden Club and guests. Mrs. Brown is a member of the Salem group.

Club members held a plant sale in connection with the open garden event, and "sales women" were Mrs. Lee Wood and Mrs. John Harper of Salem.

Assisting in the gardens were Mrs. Lowell Brown, Silvertown; Mrs. A. A. Carper, Mrs. Ross Darnell and Mrs. Hugh Magill of Salem.

Guests were invited into the attractive home, where they enjoyed the many interesting pieces of family heirloom furniture, as well as the arrangements made by Mrs. Brown and by Mrs. R. B. Winslow, the latter also a Silvertown member of the Salem Club.

A beautiful arrangement of lilacs in deep purple and lilac, flanked by deep purple tapers, was in the hall. Dogwood, azaleas and tulips were used in the living room, and centering the dining room tea table, covered with a pale green cloth, was a bouquet of azaleas. The yellow shades of azaleas were also repeated in an arrangement on the buffet.

Pouring were four Silvertown women, all members of the Salem Club, Mrs. George McNeill, Miss Mae Service, Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. Earl G. Dedrick.

Hostesses at the tea were Mrs.

Mother's Day Tea And Program

MT. ANGEL — The Gold Star Mothers were entertained Saturday at the Legion hall with a Mother's Day tea, the Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion acting as hostesses.

Pouring were Suzanne Hoffer and Diane Bourbonnais. Mrs. Ira Ferriford, president of the senior auxiliary, greeted the guests.

A short program was also provided by the Juniors and consisted of tap dances by Sandra Prosser's class; piano solos by Suzanne Hoffer and Janet Brenden, reading by Barbara Bockelman, and a song by Dinah and Virginia Bourbonnais, Barbara Bockelman and Suzanne Hoffer.

After the tea, the new Junior officers were installed with Mrs. Herriford, Mrs. Gene Hoffer and Mrs. Ray Ruscher officiating. The officers include Suzanne Hoffer, president; Barbara Bockelman, vice-president; Margaret Eber, secretary; Janet Brenden, chairman; Marjory Brenden, historian; and Sharon Aman, sergeant-at-arms.

Brown, Mrs. A. A. Tartar and Mrs. Kerby Johnson, the latter president of the Salem Club.

In addition to Salem and Silvertown, gardeners were present

Mrs. Day Is Elected

SALEM HEIGHTS — Mrs. John Douglas entertained the Salem Heights Woman's Club at a desert luncheon on Friday at her home on W. Salem Heights Ave. New officers elected were president, Mrs. Willard Day; vice-president, Mrs. Orville Raymond; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Eiswerth. The group discussed the reports on the Marion County Federation meeting held at the Children's Farm Home in Corvallis.
