Miss Margaret Henley of Dartmouth, Devonshire, England, was guest speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Salem Business and Professional Women's Club at the Golden Pheasant Tuesday night.

Miss Henley described education in England as contrasted with that of our nation. She mentioned the age of five as the year when most British children start to school and described the various programs of education for the teen-ager. Miss Henley is completing a year of teaching here at the Washington School, where she has been an exchange teacher.

Piano solos were given by David Reinwald.

Delegates Named

At the business meeting conducted by President Marjorie Whitmore, Salem delegates to the Oregon State Federation of BPW Clubs at Eugene this weekend were named as follows: Mrs. J. P. King, Miss Constance Weinman, Miss Betty Eloffson, Miss Eleanor Roberts, Mrs. John Versteeg, Mrs. Marjorie Whitmore; Mrs. Arthur Weddle and Mrs. Byron Herrick, past state presidents of the federation; Miss Mildred Yetter, state membership chairman; Mrs. Harry Sappenfield, state parliamentarian.

Other alternate delegates and visitors from Salem are Mrs. Willow Evans, Miss Zula Van Gilder, Mrs. Marion Wooden, Mrs. Helen Staley, Miss Luella Schwing, and Miss Alberta Sappenfield.

Miss Margaret Wilkinson of Nashville, Tennessee, national membership chairman, was announced as the national representative at the state convention.

Guests of the Salem club Tuesday evening were Mrs. Lloyd H. Reinwald of Salem and Mrs. Eugene Estey, a former member of the Salem club, and now a resident of Silver Bell, Arizona.
