Funnyman Faces Family Problem

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Danny Thomas is television's man with a serious family problem. Should Danny Williams be a widower when the "Mike Room for Daddy" TV show on ABC begins its fourth season next fall, or should he be married? His departing TV wife, Jean Hagen, leaves a gap in the script as well as in the hearts of many small fry who view the Tuesday evening show on 145 stations.

Up to Fans
"Whether I'm a man with a new wife or a widower, I'm leaving it up to the fans," said Thomas during a Chicago appearance.

"Some 17,000 fans have written to suggest a solution. Three to two are in favor of a widower."

The others have suggested more than 40 actresses to replace Miss Hagen, who seeks a new theatrical career.

"One said: 'Oh, what does it matter! Bring in a new actress. So she looks different? Maybe she was in an accident or something and her features were changed by plastic surgery.'"

Feminine Viewers
Many feminine viewers have nominated themselves for the role. One in Houston said: "I'll cook, take dictation, sew and do any odd jobs you may desire in addition to acting in the show!"

"Brooklyn housewife with five children nominated herself but added this note of caution in her letter:

Famed Mural Total Loss

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The National Restoration Institute Chief, Manuel Gaytan, has decided an under-water mural by Diego Rivera is lost beyond repair.

"Water, Origin of Life" is the mural inaugurated in September, 1951, under a shallow running stream at a water supply station. Using special pigments, Rivera at the time said it would be good for 40 years. Gaytan's crew worked at restoration six months before giving up.

Good Tan May Mean Possible Maladjustment

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Getting a nice tan? Then you must be maladjusted, say Vancouver psychologists Dr. Edro Signori and Joseph A. Boucher.

"The man or woman who spends hours acquiring a tan is probably looking for some kind of distinction from other people," Boucher said in an interview.

"If he cannot find it in more ordinary ways, he compensates by acquiring a spectacular tan that will make people look at him. At last he is different."

"A fully adjusted person does not need to seek attention this way. I believe the sun-worshiper who makes tanning into serious business is suffering from a certain amount of lack of security."

Dr. Signori said the "ardent sun-bather pays overdue attention to the body. Probably this is some form of compensation."
