

Air Force Asks Pay Hike to Halt Loss of Skilled Airmen

WASHINGTON (U) — Air Force leaders have asked Congress for a "radical change" in pay to halt loss of thousands of young officers and skilled airmen.

The proposal was made public Saturday in the release of a closed-door testimony by Lt. Gen. Emmett (Roy) O'Donnell Jr., deputy chief of the air staff for personnel, by the Senate air power investigating subcommittee.

"One of the major reasons for our losses is the high pressure competition offered by a booming civilian economy," said the former flying general of World War II and Korea.

O'Donnell and other Air Force manpower experts reported a loss to civilian life of nearly one million trained airmen and officers since 1949.

Estimating minimum training costs for an airman at $2,500, O'Donnell said training costs alone for replacements have amounted to 2½ billion dollars, "and that is a conservative figure."

"We believe that a radical change is needed in the present across-the-board pay structure," he said without spelling out details.

O'Donnell said a boost in pay and re-enlistment bonuses the past two years "has enticed the people in the soft core areas." He referred to these airmen in supply, transportation, food and similar services.

He said shortages continue in the "hard core" of radar, electronics, armament and jet aircraft maintenance.

O'Donnell rejected senators' suggestions that the Air Force employ more civilian technicians, saying they now have some 400,000 civilians compared with 730,000 airmen.

About one-third of the Air Force must be overseas all the time, he said, and civilians work a 40-hour week.

"You get a 40-hour Air Force and you have got nothing," he said.

Hearings Set On Columbia River Development

PORTLAND (U) — Hearings on the Army Engineers' review of Columbia River development plans will open July 9 at Missoula, Mont., Brig. Gen. Louis H. Foote said Saturday.

Meetings will then be held on the next four successive days at Spokane, Lewiston, Boise and Portland.

The purpose, Gen. Foote said, is to get views on how the Engineers' 1948 report—known generally as the 308 Report—should be modified.

"For example," he said, "alternate storage to replace that which was proposed originally but is no longer feasible" must be sought.

This presumably included reference to Hells Canyon which was listed in the 308 Report as offering 2,000,000 acre-feet of flood control storage but now is carried at 1,500,000 because the high Hells Canyon Dam was not authorized by Congress. The 1,500,000 figure comes from combining the potential storage of Brownlee Dam, proposed at Hells Canyon by Idaho Power Co., and Pleasant Valley Dam, proposed for farther downstream.

A bill providing federal construction of a Hells Canyon Dam now is in committee in Congress.

The present outlook, the announcement by Foote said, suggests that only 50 per cent of the storage expected under the 308 Report is going to be attained.

And so the review is going to look both into other possible sites and into improving the lower river diking system.

Foote said the hearings have been scheduled "in the early stages of the review" so the most feasible and acceptable plans will be available in working out the revisions.

In addition to studying the effective flood control plan, Foote said, the review of the 308 Report has these objectives: investigate need for inland navigation improvements; investigate future power needs and study feasibility of a combined steam-hydro generating system; study effects of potential development of the Columbia River in Canada; and consider such related problems as irrigation, pollution abatement, fish and wildlife and recreation.

While looking into power development, the possibility of nuclear power generation will be considered "as extensively as available information" permits, the general said.

Lad Locked in Salem Store

A 12-year-old boy was found locked in the Salem Meier & Frank store about 10:45 p.m. Saturday, city police reported.

Police said the boy, whose home was listed as Cornelius, Ore., was discovered by building superintendent Ritchie Turner. He had apparently been in the locked store since 5:30 p.m., they said.

Officers said Turner saw the youth sit by a door of the store as he was making a routine check. Police found the lad under a table.

The boy said that he had wandered around the store during the evening and had slept a little. Although he had observed watchmen in the building, he did not ask them for release because he was afraid, he told police.

The youth was turned over to Marion County juvenile authorities.

Resignation of Ike's Brother Said Personal

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (U) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower has submitted for "personal reasons" his resignation as president of Pennsylvania State University. He said his decision to resign was not prompted by the illness of his brother, the President.

Dr. Eisenhower's letter of resignation was disclosed Friday night after he flew to Washington to visit the President at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

In a letter to the University Board of Directors Dr. Eisenhower said he decided to resign more than a month ago. White House press secretary James Hagerty said in Washington that the President had known of the decision for four to six weeks.

University officials said the resignation had not been accepted and that they would attempt to persuade Dr. Eisenhower to retain the presidency.

"Absolutely no consideration has been given to a successor," the university said. Eisenhower, who is 56, has been president of the university almost six years. He asked that the resignation become effective by Dec. 31.

Dr. Eisenhower said he did not intend to enter government service and that he would decide his future plans after a brief vacation in July.

He came to the university after serving as president of Kansas State College at Manhattan, Kan. His wife, Helen, died two years ago at University Park.

Threat to Ike Brings Arrest

HARTFORD, Conn. (U) — An unemployed male nurse was held in $5,000 bail Saturday on charges of writing threatening letters to President Eisenhower because he was unable to get treatment for a foot injury at a veterans hospital.

Charles R. Hoye, 51, was arrested Thursday by Secret Service agents and Postal Inspectors after a threatening postcard in an envelope addressed to the President was found in his locker.

Three previous threatening letters, postmarked June 4, 5 and 6, were the basis for the investigation. Police said the reference to a foot injury was their only clue and led to Hoye's arrest.

Hoye said in a statement to police that he slipped on ice in Chelsea, Mass., last March, injuring his right foot and head. He said the foot was placed in a cast at Boston City Hospital but did not heal properly.

Philomath Woman Hurt in Wreck

A Philomath woman received a laceration on one knee when her car slid into a ditch on 99E near the North Salem Drive-in about 8:25 p.m. Saturday, Willamette Ambulance Service reported. Attendants listed her as Mrs. Dorothy Nash, Box 483, Philomath. She was taken to Salem General Hospital for examination and treatment.

Wilson Silent on Bikini Operation

HONOLULU (U) — Defense Secretary Wilson arrived here Saturday from the Bikini nuclear testing grounds on route back to Washington. He will leave for the mainland at 8 a.m. Sunday.

Wilson said he was not advised as to details of President Eisenhower's illness, and would "rather not say" what he had seen at Bikini.

MYRTLE POINT (U) — An automobile struck and killed Peggy Lee Laub, 3, Friday afternoon at Brandon. She died in a hospital here shortly after she was struck while dashing across Highway 101 in Brandon.

Diaper Special Off on Cross-Country Jaunt

BREMERTON (U) — An 18-car deluxe train, the "Diaper Special" carrying 200 wives and children of officers and men of the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, rolled out of this shipyard city Saturday on a cross-country trek to Florida.

The wives, watching screaming children racing up and down the aisles, think it would be easier to change places with their husbands.

All the husbands have to do is ride the big ship on a 15,000-mile, 20-months voyage around Cape Horn to Mayport, Fla., near Jacksonville.

"I'm not looking forward to this trip—not with a tiny baby in small quarters," said Mrs. Albert Roundtree of Monroe, La., wife of a Navy steward. "But I want to be with my husband."

The Navy went all out so the 84 wives and 124 children could be with their husbands and fathers in Florida where the FDR will be based.

Diapers Loaded
It obtained from the Northern Pacific 18 cars and loaded them down with diapers, baby foods, toys and even decorated some of the cars. One car was set aside for pets—dogs, cats, parakeets. Another was turned into a recreation car with special movies for all ages.

The mothers have a special laundry room, a necessity on a 4-day, 3500 mile trip. The Navy sent along a qualified nurse, a doctor, two Wave corpsmen to help and the railroad assigned Miss Geraldine Yanta, Minneapolis, a stewardess nurse, to go along.

Navy Band
Before the train was loaded as it stood on a dock alongside a number of warships, the Navy came down to help the wives and children get aboard. A Navy band played. Capt. John T. Hayward, skipper of the FDR, made a speech. There was noise and confusion but few tears. A 2-months separation isn't long in the life of a Navy wife.

Navy League chapters, service club volunteers and chambers of commerce will welcome the travelers at various stops. The dogs and cats will be taken out and exercised at least once a day. Fresh milk and other food will be put aboard.

The special will go straight through to Jacksonville via Spokane, Missoula and Billings, Mont. St. Paul, St. Louis, Evansville, Ind., and Chattanooga, Tenn. It is scheduled to arrive in Jacksonville at 9:15 a.m. (EST) June 13.

Scienists to Hold Regional Conference

SEATTLE (U) — Some 1,500 scientists from the Pacific Coast will gather here Monday for a 6-day meeting of the Pacific Division of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Three internationally prominent scholars will speak at three evening meetings which will be open to the public.

First to appear will be Dr. Walter F. Whitman, president of the American Institute for Chemical Engineers and a member of the faculty at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was secretary-general of last fall's "Atoms for Peace" conference at Geneva and will discuss the import of that program Monday.

Dr. Robert B. Brode of the University of California, president of the association's western division, will be the Tuesday night speaker. His topic: "The Boundaries of Science." Wednesday's address, covering the "Adaptive Coloration in Animals," will be given by Dr. Nikolaas Tinbergen of Oxford University.

New Police Car Put Into Service

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (U) — Officer Coy Tindle put a new police car into service with a bang Saturday.

Tindle, answering his first radio call in the new car, pressed his microphone button and—bam! An explosion in the car's trunk, followed by a flash fire, ruined the vehicle.

Although stunned, Tindle escaped serious injury.

Officers said gasoline fumes, apparently collected in the trunk, were ignited by a spark from the radio transmitter housed there.

Salem Singer Wins Audition In Hollywood

PORTLAND (U) — A young Salem singer won KPTV's "Search for Talent" contest Saturday night and will receive a free trip to Hollywood plus an audition with the National Broadcasting Company.

Vern Esch, 2560 Sunrise Ave., Salem, topped four other contestants with his rendition of "Night and Day."

Esch, an employee of the state unemployment commission in Salem, will also receive a paid engagement at Amato's Supper Club in Portland.

The 28-year-old Salem man has made many singing appearances in the Salem area for programs and weddings. If the Hollywood auditions prove successful he plans to make singing his career, his mother, Mrs. Harry Esch, said Saturday night.

The "Search for Talent" show pitted the winners of five monthly contests against each other. Esch won the Portland region contest earlier this year.

The Hollywood trip will be paid for by RCA Victor.

Esch attended Salem High School and Oregon College of Education at Monmouth. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Esch. His father is employed by the state highway department.

Northwest Couple Embark on Annual Alaskan Fishing Trip

ANACORTES, Wash. (U) — The Bodners and their cigarette-chewing dog are off on their annual four-month stint to Alaska to make a year's living.

Hunting or prospecting? No. It's their 20th trip to the storm-tossed Gulf of Alaska for salmon in their 40-foot double-ender fishing boat.

To Bess Bodner, who already has something of a coastwise reputation, the life is satisfying. "We wouldn't trade it for the governor's mansion," she said before they sailed for the North recently. "I guess we'll go on fishing until we're no longer able to crawl aboard the boat."

Father Dies, Tot Born in Auto Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U) — Death came to a San Antonio father and life began for his infant daughter at the same instant in the smashed wreckage of an automobile early Saturday.

Police said Mrs. Carmen Alonzo, 25, apparently gave birth to the child as she was tossed through the air by the impact of a collision which killed her husband, Estilios, 34, shortly before 2 a.m.

Mrs. Alonzo was badly injured and hours after the crash hadn't been told that her husband was killed and her daughter born.

Police expressed belief that Alonzo, a school custodian, was rushing his wife to a hospital for the birth of the child.

Two other daughters were being cared for by neighbors.

Alonzo's car and a trucktrailer collided at a busy intersection.

The truck driver, Marlene Hornaday, said she saw Alonzo's car approaching at a high rate of speed but didn't stop because the green signal light was in his favor.

Hornaday said the truck crashed against the car door next to which Alonzo was seated. The impact catapulted Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo from the opposite door and Mrs. Alonzo was flung into a gutter. When she landed, her daughter had been born.

Mrs. Alonzo suffered fractured ribs and shock and remained unconscious for several hours.

The newborn child was reported in serious condition.

Loss of New Boat Reported

An eight-and-one-half foot flat bottom boat was taken from his home sometime Saturday afternoon, Kelly Colouer, 2186 State St., told Salem police.

The boat was tied to a fence in his yard, Colouer said, with the stern resting in Mill Creek. He noticed the loss about 8 p.m., police said. Value of the boat was placed at $60.

Police said Colouer had just finished building the boat and had placed it in the creek to test for leaks.
