By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson's delegate vote strength for the Democratic presidential nomination rose to 30 1/2 Tuesday to put him further ahead of second place Estes Kefauver who has 18 1/2. Averell Harriman increased his third place standing to 11 1/2.

The new figures resulted from gains by Stevenson in rechecks in Illinois, West Virginia and elsewhere, and a pickup of 1 1/2 new votes by Gov. Harriman in his home state of New York. There, the Democratic State Committee named a 12-vote at large group to complete the state's 36-vote delegation.

Harriman now apparently has 31 1/2 first ballot votes in the New York delegation, and Stevenson the remaining 5 1/2. Sen. Lehman (D, Lib-NY) and Mayor Wagner of New York City, both Stevenson backers, were given places on the at-large group with half a vote each. This would have added one full vote to Stevenson's previous six votes among district delegates, but Wagner has promised to give his first ballot vote to Harriman.

Draft Leader Asks 'Fitness' Redefined

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The head of America's selective service system said today the word "fitness" will have to be redefined if this nation is to have an effective draft system.

Too many people are rejected for the armed services because of flat feet, poor eyesight and other specific qualifications who would be able to do a good job for the country, Maj. Gen. Louis B. Hershey told the President's conference on fitness for American youth.

Instead of reviewing a person in his several parts, he should be examined as "a whole person," Gen. Hershey said.

"It is the whole person that performs his daily tasks and has the capabilities to compensate for those physical attributes lacking or impaired," he said.

The answer, he felt, was in classifying people according to the functions they are able to perform.

Whisky, Rain Assist in Double Electrocution

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—Two 17-year-old boys were killed Tuesday by whisky, sweat, rain and 220 volts.

The pair, after a night of drinking with older friends, collapsed against a window wired against burglars and were electrocuted. Investigators said the 200-volt current ordinarily would not have killed anyone, but the boys' clothes were soaked from rain and perspiration and they were too drunk to pull away from the shock.

Corvallis Man in Serious Condition After Car Crash

Kheong Wong, 21, Corvallis, injured in a Monday evening car accident on the Salem bypass, was reportedly in "serious" condition Tuesday at Salem General Hospital.

Attendants said Wong suffered internal injuries as well as head lacerations when the car in which he was riding skidded and plunged off the Market Street overpass. The driver, Somai Songrui, 21, Corvallis, escaped with minor injuries and was released after brief hospitalization.

The two youths reportedly are exchange students at Oregon State College.

Farm Building Request Heard By Planners

Representatives of Fairgrounds Cottages and of Oregon Farm Bureau Federation sought the Salem Planning Commission's advice Tuesday night at City Hall on possible zone changes that have not yet reached petition or legislative form.

The Commission agreed to a preliminary discussion July 10 with the Farm Bureau officials on the possibility of locating an office building on South Commercial Street near Superior. Members complemented the organization for making an early overture as suggested by the Commission recently for citizens contemplating zone changes where more than one property might be involved in the interest of good zoning.

The zoning group deferred until July 17 further consideration of the preliminary request from Fairgrounds Cottages for changing the zone designation from R-1 residential to C-3 business for one Brooks Avenue lot that constitutes part of the cottages property. A dividing line between R-1 and C-3 zones now bisects the property, whose owner suggests that a zone change be initiated by the commission so all his property is in business classification.

Request Rejected

Commissioners turned down a YWCA request that the alley between YWCA and telephone buildings on State Street be given a name. Street Committee Chairman Stuart Compton reported that no legal authority for naming of alleys could be found and precedent stood against it.

Commission Chairman John Carkin paid tribute to City Manager J. L. Franzen who soon will retire from city service which has included work on the planning commission. Franzen responded by saying he felt the commission performed earnestly much work which has been worth considerable to the city.

After public hearing, the commission approved a variance permit under which Fred Scheffe may lengthen a garage building that is within a foot of the property line behind his home at 1285 N. 21st St.

Hearing Continues

Hearing on Salem Free Methodist Church, seeking permission for an expansion project, was continued to July 17.

The planners recommended that the County Court accept four offered deeds for road purposes. John W. Fitts is offering a 30-foot strip, about 1/4 of a mile long, on east side of County Road 628 which goes north-south from LaFlemme-Moisan Road southeast of Brooks.

Leo Godkin, Paul J. Lippold and Orrin A. Chase are offering 30-foot strips to widen to 60 feet County Road 847, the road between Macleay Road and the county garbage dump.

Solons Favor Cut in Federal Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taking note of Eisenhower administration plans to cut the national debt, the House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday voted for a temporary debt limit of 278 billion dollars for the coming fiscal year.

The figure is 3 billion dollars more than the statutory limit of 275 billion, but also 3 billion less than the current temporary ceiling of 281 billion.

Legislation to extend the temporary ceiling for one year beyond June 30 — but at the new, lower level — was requested by the administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the House committee he thought that with "careful management" the government can keep within the new, lower ceiling in the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Youth Fitness Council Slated

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday night announced he will soon establish a Council on Youth Fitness as a step toward carrying out recommendations of the national conference which concluded here Tuesday.

He said he also would name an advisory council of prominent citizens to stir more interest among the American people in improving the physical and recreational activities of young people.

The President's announcement was read by Vice President Nixon to 150 leaders in the fields of sport, education and medicine who have been here two days at a conference which Eisenhower called on fitness of American youth.

Nebraska Street Crossing Closed By Work Crews

The Nebraska Street crossing of the Southern Pacific mainline was closed to auto traffic Tuesday when city crews erected street barricades.

That crossing was ordered closed by the state public utilities commissioner recently, as a safety measure. Market and D Street crossings are nearby.

Salem Planning Commission Tuesday night recommended that the City Council now proceed with vacation of the part of the street in the SP right-of-way, with the condition that the present pedestrian crossing be maintained. Commissioners also recommend similar vacation at Howard Street crossing which has been closed for some time.

Lemay Sees Red Big Bomber Total as Twice U.S.'s in 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Gen. Curtis Lemay says Soviet Russia will have "twice as many" heavy bombers as this country during the next three years.

Lemay's comments were released Tuesday by the Senate Appropriations Committee which Monday voted a spectacular $1,300,000,000 increase in Air Force funds over the 1 1/2 billions previously allowed by the House.

Lemay, commander of the globe-circling Strategic Air Command gave his closed-door testimony June 11, a week before the Senate group voted out the record-breaking peacetime defense money bill.

Despite numerous deletions of classified information, the blunt-speaking Lemay offered a number of surprises in his testimony before the appropriations committee, including:

1. Even if Russia or this country now had the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile — capable of hurling a nuclear blast between continents — Lemay said he would want more long-range B52 bombers, as quickly as possible.

2. "The Intercontinental Ballistic Missile has been blown up all out of proportion to its real importance," Lemay said. "It is not the ultimate weapon. It will be another weapon in our arsenal."

3. The present 137-wing goal for the Air Force "is now obsolete and should be changed." To man the 137 wings properly, Lemay added, the Air Force needs 1,200,000 persons, instead of the 975,000 now programmed for the next two years.

4. SAC must maintain its main forces on a 24-hour round-the-clock alert basis in this country because it is "too expensive in every respect to try to maintain a force overseas" where it is "more vulnerable both to direct attack by a possible enemy and by political action."

Misfortune Hits Salem Home Again

More misfortune has hit a Salem home where a 17-year-old boy suffocated in a fire about two weeks ago.

City police said they received a report Tuesday that a jewel box containing about $30 in cash and several valuable pieces of jewelry has been missing since the fire at the home of Mrs. Coranell Pryzbilla, 1970 N. Church St.

The jewel box apparently was in a bedroom occupied by a son, Dennis Pryzbilla, who died in the June 3 fire which swept the upper story of the home.

W. J. Sullivan, 345 Forest Hills Way, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Pryzbilla, told officers he discovered the jewel box missing while making some repairs on the damaged house. Mrs. Pryzbilla has been staying with friends at North Bend since the tragedy.

Sullivan said contents of the box included two diamond rings, lady's wrist watch and a pair of diamond ear rings.

Ex-Con Leads Policemen to Pastor's Body

TAFT, Okla. (AP)—Directed by a stonk, sulky ex-convict they said confessed the killing, officers Tuesday found the body of a young clergyman abducted Sunday as he halted his automobile at a Tulsa traffic light.

They drove 27-year-old Edward Leon (Pete) Williams down a dead-end road in the grassy Arkansas River bottoms and he pointed out from a police car where he left the corpse of Tommie Robert Cooke, 24.

The body, a bullet hole in the left temple, was in deep grass and brush under a clump of trees.

Williams admitted slaying Cooke, an assistant pastor at Tulsa's Glenwood Baptist Church, after his early morning arrest at Poteau, Undersheriff Orville McCroskey said.

Although associates described Cooke as a youth who often picked up hitchhikers to tell them "about Jesus Christ," Tulsa Detectives Chief Harry E. Stege said Williams admitted he forced his way into the pastor's car.
