

2 Die in Air Crash at Portland

Two Killed PORTLAND—Two Portland men died Saturday night when a plane, out of gas and its motor dead, crashed in a street in a residential district. The plane hit a parked, unoccupied car. Dead are Archie W. Payne, 27, pilot, and Charles Parton, 24. The accident was being probed Sunday by CAA authorities in Portland. (AP Wirephoto).

'Real Issue' ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—California Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight answers news men's questions on whether President's health was "an honest issue." "The President's health always is an issue," Knight declared. (AP Wirephoto).

'Fishing Openly' ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—New York Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman gestures hands down during press conference before start of national Governors Conference Sunday as he said he was "fishing openly" among fellow Democratic governors for support. (AP Wirephoto).

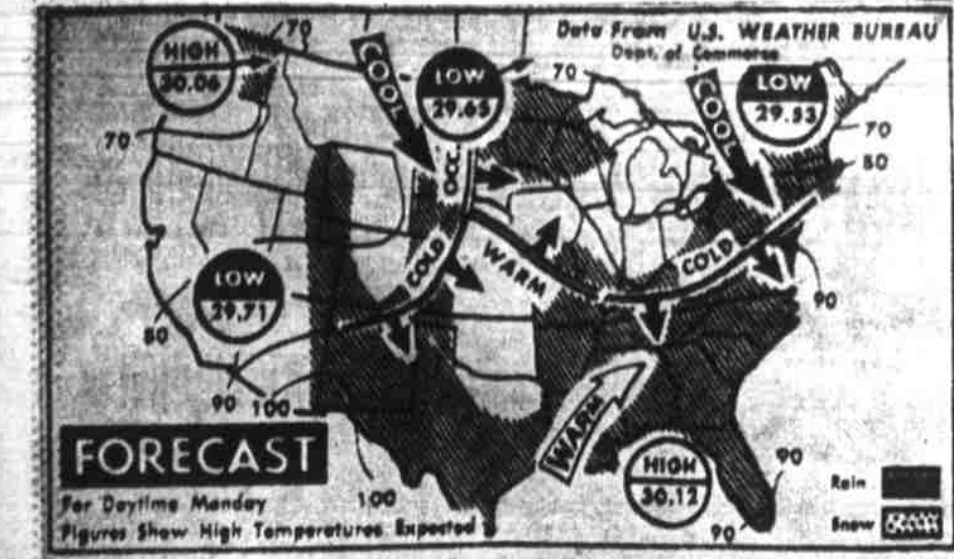

Miss Illinois WOOD RIVER, Ill.—Tillie J. Michelette of Collinsville smiles happily after she was chosen Miss Illinois at pageant sponsored by Junior Chamber of Commerce. She was one of 24 beautiful contestants competing for title in final judging. (AP Wirephoto).

Admiral Stricken PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—U. S. Adm. Ernest J. King, wartime chief of naval operations, was on the critical list after suffering a heart illness Sunday at Portsmouth naval hospital. (U. S. Navy photo via AP Wirephoto).

Brawny Protectors LONDON—Shake-topped Grenadier guardsmen tower over Queen Elizabeth II as she reviews her brawny protectors at Windsor Castle Saturday. The occasion was the tercentenary of the Grenadier regiment of foot guards. (AP Wirephoto).

Rain Foreseen NEW YORK—Rain is forecast Monday for the Atlantic states, Appalachians, Ohio, Tennessee and middle Mississippi Valleys, in the eastern Gulf states to the southern Rockies, the western Lakes region, Great Plains and along the north Pacific coast. It will be cooler in New England, Lakes region, the Dakotas and Nebraska. (AP Wirephoto).

Governor Relaxes ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement, here for the national Governors Conference, donned swim trunks and relaxed on Atlantic City's beach Sunday, playing with a tiny dog, before start of the conference. Governors from the nation's states and territories will discuss states' problems for the next four days. (AP Wirephoto).

