WOODBURN-Dean Augustus, 1480 Tomlin Ave., accountant, was chosen this week by the Woodburn School Board to succeed Frank F. Proctor as clerk of the board. Proctor retires at the end of the month, having served the district for 23 years.

Augustus, who is confined to a wheel chair, is the father of three children, and came to Woodburn with his family from Klamath Falls a little over a year ago Augustus is considered well qualified, having had two years of study under the state program for the handicapped in preparation for his work as an accountant. He was injured in a logging accident eight years ago.

Harold Livesay, elected recently to the board of directors of Woodburn School district, was sworn in as director at this week's meeting. He succeeded V. L. Reinecke who was not a candidate for re-election.
