Lightning Bolt Kills

9 Left Motherless HOLLANDALE, Minn.—Eugenio Esparza, 42, San Antonio, Texas, and his nine children sit sadly in their one-room hut near here after a bolt of lightning killed Mrs. Esparza, 38. Esparza and his wife were among migrant workers caught in an apassagur field during a sudden thunderstorm Sunday. After the lightning, Esparza found his wife dead at his side. "We were such a happy family," Esparza wept. "We had been married 18 years." (AP Wirephoto).

Movers Unsuccessful DENVER — One section of a white frame house being moved Tuesday to Cherry Hills Village, south of here, slid off its wheeled platform and was badly damaged. The owner, Morley B. Thompson, had had the 11-room house divided into two sections for the three-mile move, but disaster caught up with one section only a short distance from the original location. (AP Wirephoto).

Showers on Holidays NEW YORK — Most of the country will have scattered showers and thunderstorms Wednesday afternoon with the exception of the northeast, southern California and southern desert region. It will be cooler in the northeast and warmer over the central Great Lakes, parts of the northwest and southern California. (AP Wirephoto Map).

In Hospital PORTLAND—U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas checked into a hospital here Monday for treatment of what he said was muscular soreness of his right hip. He expects to recover soon. (AP Wirephoto).
