Tavern Loses $244 Sum To Burglars

Approximately $244.50 in cash and currency was taken from coin machines and baseball pools at the Lana Tavern, 3095 Portland Road, Thursday morning, Salem police reported.

Also taken in the burglary were two thermos bottles and a lunch box with a combined value of $11, officers said.

Amy and Lora Rolle, 2280 S. 12th St., proprietors of the tavern contacted police after the theft was discovered by Peggy Parkhurst, an employee.

Entry to the building was apparently gained through a roof ventilator, police said. A locked door leading to the first floor was forced, they said. The burglary apparently occurred between 1:30 a.m. and 10 a.m., reports indicated.

Travel Agency Couple Face $27,500 Suit

A $27,500 suit began Thursday in Marion County Circuit Court involving former partners in a travel agency.

The complaint is filed in the name of George W. and Alice M. Murphy against Palmer R. and Brunhild T. Sather, who are former operators of general travel service offices in Salem, Corvallis and North Bend.

Included in the complaint are allegations that the Sathers published notices on May 29 abandoning the partnership and withdrawing more than $4,000 of the partnership funds being used in general business operations. The complaint asserts that this was done with malicious intent for the sole purpose of hampering the business of the plaintiffs, who ask $7,500 on this charge of action.

In a second action, the Murphys want $5,000 general damages and $15,000 punitive damages for alleged competition arising from a new travel service office set up in Salem by the Sathers. The complaint also asks for an injunction to prevent operation of the new business until Oct. 1 of this year.

Rail Taxes Distributed

First distribution of property taxes collected from smaller railroad car companies is being made by the State Tax Commission.

Twenty-four counties will share $27,152.77 which previously had been credited to the state's general fund. The taxes are collected from tank, refrigerator and private car companies which have a true cash value of less than $100,000.

Companies over that amount are taxed on the same basis as other types of utilities.

Bigger, Better River Days Festival Planned for 1957

By CONRAD PRANGE
Staff Writer, The Statesman

The embers in the buffalo barbecue pit are barely cool and already ready to be used for a bigger and better Willamette River Days festival next year.

"Although we will barely break even financially," said James Daniels, River Days festival president, "we consider this first festival (held Wednesday) a tremendous success from the standpoint of crowd participation."

Daniels said committees for the next July 4 celebration will begin meeting next week. One of the

Services for Stayton Man Due Saturday

Funeral services for William Crabtree, a resident of Stayton for 62 years, will be held at the Willamette Funeral Home Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. Clyde Freeman officiating.

Crabtree died Wednesday at a Salem home where he had been a resident for the past two years. He was 90.

He was born in Mt. Pleasant, Ore., Sept. 8, 1865, and was a member of the First Christian church here.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Joe Spaniol, Stayton, and Mrs. Juanita Greene, Douglas, Ariz.; two brothers, John Crabtree and E. D. Crabtree, both of Salem; and two sisters, Mrs. Nora Taylor and Mrs. Grace Manning, both of Salem.

Interment will be at Lone Oak cemetery.

Two Fined for Drunk Driving

Two men were fined Thursday and a third had his trial date set in three Marion County District Court cases involving driving while intoxicated.

Melvin Leo Kertzman, 34, Hubbard, was fined $200 and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail after he pleaded guilty. However, he was given credit for time already served since his arrest on the charge June 20.

Frankie Samuel Cluck, 460 Chemawa Rd., was ordered to pay a $250 fine or serve 125 days in jail based on his June 29 conviction. The original charge against Cluck dated to May 26, when state police arrested him on Highway 99E at Woodburn.

George Vernon Jackson, 45, Sweet Home, pleaded innocent and District Judge Edward O. Stadter set trial for July 13 at 3 p.m. Bail was set at $250 for Jackson who was arrested on the charge Tuesday on the Salem bypass.

handicaps of the festival held this week, he said, was the shortness of the time for preparation.

Crying needs for next year's celebration, he said, included wider participation from other valley towns, more parking space at Wallace Marine Park, better and smoother operation of activities inside the park, more help on committees, a "rearrangement" of the fireworks display to accommodate more patrons.

Mayor Robert F. White said the huge number of persons at Wednesday's observance points up the need for further development of Wallace Park, Salem citizens, he said, indicated by their interest, they want the festival to continue.

He pledged as much city support as feasible to the project. Daniels said he had received calls from several city councilmen Thursday morning indicating an interest in the festival's betterment.

Total gate receipts were estimated at about $7,000, including about $4,000 in advance ticket sales. During the boat races and other activities about $1,500 was grossed at the concessions stand and another $200 from the barbecue. Some funds are still trickling in.

Expenses listed $1,000 for the boat races plus another $1,500 in prize money; $750 for the fireworks display; $1,000, queen's court; $200, noontime picnic supplies, and $250, parade expenses, plus some other miscellaneous expenses.

Speaking unofficially, Daniels said plans call for including other Willamette River towns such as Newberg, Independence, Corvallis, Albany and others in future festivals. This would include, he said, selecting princesses from these various communities.

Walter Wirth, Salem city park superintendent, and Boy Scout units will probably be given charge of concessions and Wallace Park activities. Salem Cherris have already laid some plans for next year's parade, which may possibly include a marching band contest.

Plans for the River Days festival were originated several months ago by Salem Boat Club and other civic groups. Salem Chamber of Commerce underwrote preliminary arrangements including the selection of seven state employees as

Railway Eyes New Trestle

Disappearance of another signpost of the past was indicated Thursday when the Oregon Electric Railway requested county approval to replace the last of its wooden railway trestles crossing a Marion County road.

The trestle to be replaced has a span of 174 feet across Sidney Road about a mile south of Orville. This width would be increased to 28 feet with a new reinforced concrete structure. Court members took the request under advisement.

Mrs. Farrell, 86, Succumbs

Mrs. Nelle E. Farrell, 86, who lived for many years at 530 N. 18th St., died at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland Thursday as the result of a broken hip suffered June 13.

Mrs. Farrell was the mother of W. J. Pat Farrell, deputy state corporation commissioner. Four other children also survive including Joe P. Farrell, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Wynn J. Farrell, Mary L. Farrell and Harold C. Farrell, all of Portland.

Mrs. Farrell was born in Seaford, Ontario, June 18, 1870.

The Rosary will be said at 8:30 p.m. today at Hennessy, Goetch and McGee, Portland, and a requiem high mass will be sung at 9 a.m. Saturday in St. Andrews church, 9th and Alberta Streets in Portland. Interment will be at Mt. Calvary.

Wilber Johnson's Services Pending

Funeral arrangements for Wilber Johnson, a late resident of 255 Center St., are pending at the Howell-Edwards funeral home.

Johnson, 59, was found dead in his room in a Salem rooming house Wednesday. He was a former patient of the Oregon State Tuberculosis hospital, the Marion County coroner's office indicated.

There are no known survivors.

CASE DISCONTINUED
Arraignment of Ernest LeRoy Smith, 19, North Bend, on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses was continued until Monday for time to consult an attorney, after his District Court appearance Thursday. Smith is accused of passing a worthless $26.75 check at a Salem drug store. The complaint against him was signed by John D. Wiles.

County Buys Three Cars

Marion County Court members accepted a bid Thursday of $1,500 each for three passenger cars from Capitol Chevrolet-Cadillac of Salem.

It was the only bid received by deadline Thursday. The contract calls for an additional $60.00 worth of automobile accessories, including car heaters.

In another court action, County Engineer John Anderson was authorized to install signs reading "Slow—Watch for Children" at a community-sponsored temporary children's playground along Charles Avenue.

WATER MEET SET
A joint meeting of the State Water Resources Board and the Columbia Inter-Agency Committee will be held July 17 in Portland.
