

3 Neutralist Chiefs to Meet In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U. S. Press) — Egyptian president Gamal Abdel Nasser, leading champion of Arab independence of East-West bloc, came to Yugoslavia Thursday for conference with two other world exponents of neutrality.

His eight-day stay in Yugoslavia will be concluded with a meeting with President Tito of Yugoslavia and Indian Prime Minister Nehru at the secluded island of Brioni, Tito's Adriatic retreat.

Political informants predicted the talks will produce some sort of agreement aimed at expanding and promoting their own neutrality bloc among nations.

Public statements of the three leaders already have indicated a considerable area of agreement on a policy of "active coexistence" with both East and West power groupings, but independence from them.

Algeria Problem
Egyptian press dispatches said a top subject of discussion will be the effects of countries still under foreign domination to achieve full independence, and that "obviously the Algerian problem will figure prominently on the agenda."

The Egyptians predicted that a warning would be issued to France, which has threatened troops fighting Algerian nationalists, that her policy in North Africa is a "direct threat to world peace."

Many other international problems are expected to figure in Nasser's talks here.

Greeted by Tito
Nasser was greeted personally by President Tito as he stepped from his plane at the Belgrade military airport. A squadron of Yugoslav military planes escorted the Egyptian chief executive over Yugoslavia, and the airport was decorated with hundreds of Yugoslav and Egyptian flags.

A large carpet was spread in front of an honor guard of Tito's crack division. The troops were inspected by the two leaders after military band had played the two national anthems.

Dive to Palace
After a few words of greeting, Nasser spoke into a microphone, Nasser joined Tito in an open car for the 15-minute drive to the old palace, where the home of Yugoslav royalty, where Nasser is being met by Tito's wife, which was decorated with many flags and posters welcoming the visitor in the Arabic and Yugoslav languages.

Before arriving here, Nasser exchanged messages of friendship with Tito. Tito's message predicted the talks would "provide for further deepening of friendship and all-around cooperation" between the two peoples.

Nasser is repaying a visit which Tito made to Egypt last December.

Nasser will be accompanied by Nehru when he returns to Cairo by air next Thursday.

Mud Forces Circus Crowd To Stand Up

MEADVILLE, Pa. (U. S. Press) — Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus played here Wednesday for the first time in 40 years. And for the first time in 40 years on the road, the circus said, it played to spectators who didn't have any place to sit down.

And at the country fairgrounds made it impossible for heavy equipment to bring in the seats. The spectators either stood or sat on the ground. About 5,000 attended the afternoon performance, which didn't get under way until 6:30 p.m.

Another 5,000 were on hand for the second performance, which was two hours late getting under way.

Mint Guard-Free
In Tokyo Section
TOKYO (U. S. Press) — There is a mint in Tokyo employing 200 workers that has neither guards nor security police.

"A dishonest worker would have to carry the coins away by the back of his hand to make it worth while," a mint official said. The mint turns out only aluminum one-yen pieces. And 10 of them are worth only a dime.
