

Flying Tanker Mothers 3 Jets

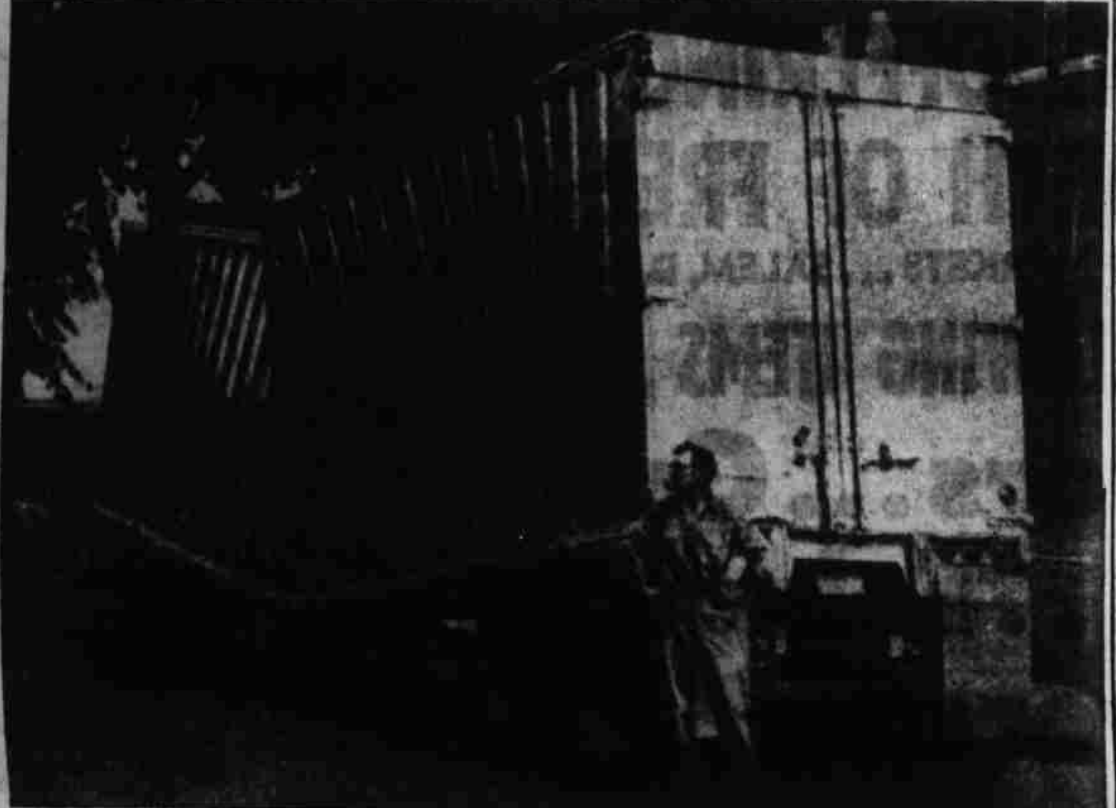

Test Successful EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla.—Three North American F-100 Super Sabre planes are refueled simultaneously in the air by a single KB-50 tanker ship in a test at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. Caption on this Air Force photo released in Washington July 12 says this was first successful refueling of three such ships at the same time. (AP Wirephoto.)

Warns WASHINGTON—Vincent Hartnett of New York, consultant on communism to the radio-television industry, tells House un-American Activities committee Thursday the greatest danger of red infiltration is among the younger performers. (AP Wirephoto.)

Slaps Cop NEW YORK — Miss Frances Lindholm, 33, Salina, Kan., school teacher, enters Magistrate's Court Thursday with her attorney, George Washington Herz, to plead innocent to various traffic charges and allegations that she slapped a policeman. Miss Lindholm was arrested Wednesday when police said she made a sudden turn from a wrong lane on a Queens expressway. Then, the police said, she became belligerent. (AP Wirephoto.)

Just Tired? MINNEAPOLIS—Lloyd Rhoe, driver for Hart Motor Express, waits for help after his steel-laden trailer "sagged like a piece of tired spaghetti" Wednesday on a Minneapolis street. Officials of the firm said the vehicle was not heavily loaded, could not explain collapse. (AP Wirephoto.)

Going Home COFFEYVILLE, Kan.—A wish to return to his native Syria has become a reality for Ferris Keroney, aged peddler-farmer who long has been a familiar figure around Coffeyville pushing his makeshift baby buggy cart. Coffeyville residents collected a "going home" fund sufficient to pay for the trip to Syria. Keroney, about 90, will leave by air Sunday from Tulsa for New York, thence overseas. (AP Wirephoto)

Deer With Boots HANCOCK, Iowa—Bucky the fawn is probably the only deer in the country who wears leather boots. He got the boots after his rear legs were severed and his front legs crushed in a mishap with a mower on the Rod Krummel farm near here. Bucky now is a pet of the Krummels' five children, two of whom, Peggy Lou (left) and Janice Lee, are shown here. (AP Wirephoto.)

Held CHICAGO—Mrs. Isabelle Polenz, 36, has a word with her estranged husband, Jerome, 25, of Cudahy, Wis., after a coroner's jury decided the drowning of their six-month-old daughter was murder. Mrs. Polenz told authorities she drowned the child after a fortune teller predicted the infant, Chrystal Marie Polenz, would become an idiot. (AP Wirephoto.)

Warm Weather The weather over most of the country will be fair with clear to partly cloudy skies on Friday. Scattered thundershowers are forecast for most of the nation except in parts of the central plains and Wyoming. It will be warmer in Michigan, Iowa and western Washington. Warm weather will continue in East. (AP Wirephoto.)
