Dayton City Water Supply Termed Good

Statesman News Service

DAYTON—Dayton water users are assured of having plenty of water this summer even if there is a long heat wave.

City officials report that the water supply held up very well during the recent hot days and is expected to do so the rest of the summer.

In addition to regular water use, several tanker trucks of water are used daily by construction crews working on the by-pass highway and three strawberry fields at the edge of the city limits are irrigated with city water.

Dayton gets its water supply from two reservoirs in Red Hill north of the community, and from a well, operated by an electric pump, within the city limits.

City workers recently cleaned the reservoirs and main water lines. This work will help keep an even flow of water into all the principal distribution lines.

Reich Underground Tells Foreign Troops to Leave

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany (AP) — A mysterious German underground outfit wrote U. S. ambassador James B. Conant in Nazi-like terms Thursday that it is ready to fight to drive foreign troops from "our holy soil." German officials also were threatened.

"We will deal mercilessly with our traitors," the letter said.

It called Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-Western government "a willing lackey and spineless dog . . . obedient to Jewish money and foreign lords."

"We can no longer stand by inactive, abused by dirt," said the group, which calls itself "the fighting association for an independent Germany." . . . "We have sufficient strength, position of power and means of power to carry this fight through to a victorious end. . . . Only an independent and strong Germany can protect world civilization against the certain penetration of Bolshevism."

The ominously worded letter, part of a go-home campaign previously aimed at high American military officers in Germany, sought to solicit Conant's aid, saying: "In the spreading of our thought, you must and can help us."

It was printed in German.

Disclosed by the U. S. embassy, the letter becomes part of the file of American intelligence and German FBI agents seeking to run down the underground group.

No "fighting association for an independent Germany" is known to the interior ministry, which is charged with protecting the Bonn Republic against subversive movements.

It is not clear whether the organization is a group of cranks or a well-organized political movement.

Initial German speculation was that Communists—not averse to using other colors to stir up turmoil—were behind the campaign.

Conscription Law Okehed In Germany

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany Friday gave final approval to a disputed conscription law and announced it would resist any move to reduce western troop strength.

The Bundesrat (upper house) voted 21-17 for a draft law making 12 million West Germans between 18 and 45 liable for compulsory military service.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer thus triumphed over bitter opposition in another step to the proclaimed target of a 500,000 strong German force for the North Atlantic Alliance (NATO).

A government spokesman announced afterward that West Germany would oppose any move by NATO to reduce conventional arms and military manpower.

Fear Arms Cuts

This news conference statement by press chief Felix von Eckardt reflected the government's alarm over reports that the United States and Britain were planning to reduce their conventional arms and bring home some of their divisions from Germany.

The German ambassadors in Washington and London, Heinz Krekeler and Hans von Herwarth, have been recalled to Bonn to report to Adenauer on the American and British plans.

Bonn's objections to arms cuts will be given to the NATO permanent council in Paris next Wednesday, Von Eckardt said. He declared Adenauer believed such reductions would increase the danger that any conflict around the world would explode into atomic war.

96,000 Volunteers

Adenauer considers that the most effective step toward world security would be controlled reduction of atomic weapons, and only after this lessens international tension could land forces and conventional weapons safely be cut.

There has been speculation that NATO might recommend a slash in the planned size of West Germany's forces. But Von Eckardt said the Bonn government will tell NATO it stands firm on the target of 500,000 men by the end of 1959.

The defense ministry intends to have 96,000 volunteers in uniform by the end of this year and begin registering youths for the draft in October.

Cross Warns Negro Family

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 5-foot wooden cross was burned Thursday night in front of the home of a Negro family that recently moved into a predominantly white neighborhood.

The blazing cross brought police and firemen to the home of Malvin Burns, 33, who bought the house May 26 from a white resident.

Burns said he had received no threats since moving in but "the white people in the neighborhood have resented my living here."

Burns was the second Negro to buy a house in the neighborhood. Andrew Tucker, who bought his house eight months ago, said neither he, his wife nor his two children, had ever received any threats.
