'Greater Salem Merchants Night' Rolls

Displaying the window cards that will adorn many Salem firms are these four Salem Senators boosters, who yesterday helped "kick off" the "Greater Salem Merchants Night" at Waters Field August 5. From left to right are Stan Keith, Jack Schimberg, Senators Mgr. Hugh Luby and Fred Reynolds, chairman of the drive. All Salem merchants will be invited to subscribe to free baseball tickets for the big night, dispersing them as they see fit. Posters bearing picture of the Senators team will be given to those merchants joining the drive. Club officials are shooting for a crowd of 8,000 August 8.

Szekula Hits 'Grand Slam'

Another Double Bill Scheduled for Tonight

By AL LIGHTNER

There's nothing more friendly in baseball than the home park. The village Senators and Lewiston Broncs again proved this last night in the Northwest League doubleheader here, a bill that was swept by the Salems by scores of 3-2 and 6-4, to run their current home park winning streak to three in a row. Lewiston had won four straight from Salem at Lewiston earlier in the week.

Last night's victories moved Uncle Hugh Luby's homers nearer the league lead, even though they are still in third place. That item may be accomplished tonight, however, as the Broncs and Solons go to it in another doubleheader, starting at six o'clock.

Andy (The Bear) George (11-4) and Arlie Alderman (4-7) are to try it for the Senators. Mgr. Bill Layne will play emic-memie with his staff, as he told late last night "nobody is rested — I don't know who will pitch."

Lefty Jerry Cade copped his eighth victory in last night's opener, and then had to come on in the hectic ninth inning of the second game to help save that one. Cade pitched a seven-hitter for his victory, and were it not for Gene Klingler he wouldn't have had any trouble at all.

Klingler blasted a solo homer in the second inning and then drove in the other Bronc run in the sixth. Little Jerry Jacobs was the loser in this one, being touched for unearned runs in the first and second, and then the earned winner in the fifth. A bases-loaded walk to Russ Rosburg forced in the first run, the second scored when Jack Dunn hit into a force play and the third rambled in, by a whisker, on Frank Szekula's ground-out.

Szekula was the batting hero of the nightcap, as he unloaded his second grand slam home run of the season in the fourth inning, giving the Salems a 4-0 lead at that point off Lefty John Anderson. "Zeke" blasted a four-run homer here July 16 against Eugene, and now has $200 coming from Grover Hillman of the Master Bread Bakers, who gives $100 for each and every Salem Senator grand-slam clout.

Chuck Essegian's double, Rosburg's single and a walk to Harv Koepf set it up for Frank last night.

Lewiston got an unearned run off Bill Walsh in the fifth, but saw the Salems also score in the fifth on hits by Pete Brady, Essegian and Rosburg, plus a balk on the part of Anderson. This gave Salem a 6-1 bulge and Walsh held it going into the ninth.

Rough Ninth Inning
Then the big right-hander blew, giving two singles and two walks. Two runs were in when Bob Daly was called to the rescue. He did splendidly by fanning Klingler. Then he gave a bloop single to Howard Keefer, struck out pinch-hitter Merl Schelch and walked Anderson. This loaded up the sacks again, as Keefer's bingle scored another run.

Daly was taken out at this point and Cade took over with the tying tally at second base, and the go-ahead at first.

The little lefty wasted no time ending it. He got pinch-hitter Mike Donahue to bounce back to the mound, and Jerry personally threw him out at first for the finale.

DETROIT—Paul Foytack, Detroit Tiger pitcher, came within three of Bob Feller's strikeout record of 18 against Washington Saturday. Foytack fanned 15 Washington batters but looks sad after losing the game 6-5 when the Nats rallied for three runs in the 8th inning. His 15 strikeouts matched the season record set May 19 by Cleveland's Herb Score, also against the Nats. (AP Wirephoto.)

Steaming Brooklyn won its seventh straight Saturday, downing Chicago 6-3, but remained a half game back of second-place Cincinnati in the National League when the Redlegs scored five in the ninth to bomb Pittsburgh 8-3.

First place Milwaukee was rained out of its night game at Philadelphia and had its lead over Cincinnati cut to four games.

Sal Maglie had strong backing by Duke Snider and Sandy Amaras in beating the Cubs for the eighth straight time since 1933. Gil Hodges drove in the other two Brooklyn runs with a first-inning single and Ernie Banks hit his 23rd home run for the Cubs.

Snider's homer off reliever Jir Bronsan in the seventh was his 25th of the year, tying Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski for the league lead.

Cincinnati called on the home run, as usual, to snatch a game from Pittsburgh. Rookie Frank Robinson hit one with two men on base in the big ninth. Roy McMillan drove in four runs with three singles.

Dale Long and Roberto Clemente hit homers for Pittsburgh. Long's 22nd came in the first with a man on, Clemente's seventh blast tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth.

St. Louis put down a late New York Giant threat to eke out a 3-2 decision over the last place club, which has lost 16 of its last 18 games. When Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell ran into control trouble in the eighth, veteran Jim Konstanty came on to hold off the Yankees.

UCLA Reports Case to NCAA

Conference Results Kept Tight Secret

LEXINGTON, Ky. — UCLA athletic director Wilbur Johns answered questions on aid to athletes at the school Saturday in a two-hour session with National Collegiate Athletic Assn. officials.

The NCAA rules infractions committee queried Johns on activities which already have resulted in the Pacific Coast Conference's placing UCLA on probation and fining it.

Saturday's session was a follow-up to a hearing Friday, when the case of the University of Washington was taken up with Don Wollert, the school's faculty representative to the PCC.

Washington and UCLA were fined and placed on probation by the PCC as the first two schools punished after a series of probes of under-the-table aid to football players.

Talks Kept Secret
The cloak-and-dagger committee, tight-mouthed at best, apparently won Saturday's battle to keep its proceedings from the ears of newsmen.

Much of Friday's session could be heard by newsmen waiting in a hotel hallway for the meeting to break up. Saturday, little was audible.

Committee chairman A. D. Kirwan of the University of Kentucky would confirm only that the two-day meeting was held.

Wollert would say only that he had been in Washington at the hearing, while Johns limited his comments to a general statement.

'Merchants Night' Drive Started

The drive for the "Greater Salem Merchants Night" at Waters Field, dated August 8, was launched yesterday morning at the Senator Hotel by members of the Salem Senators managerial staff and boosters. Sponsors of the drive, headed by Fred Reynolds of the J. J. Newberry store, are shooting for an all-time attendance record the night of August 8, when the Senators are to play the Spokane Indians in a doubleheader.

The sponsoring group will now contact all merchants in the Salem area with invitations to subscribe to free baseball tickets for the special night. They can then dispense the tickets as they wish, giving them to employees, shoppers, friends, etc.

Each merchant who subscribes will be given a large window poster, bearing a picture of the Senators team and the inscription that he is behind the drive, boosting the Senators team and the big night.

State Adopts Hunting Code; Changes Few

PORTLAND — The Oregon Game Commission adopted 1956 hunting regulations Saturday, with only minor changes in the tentative code drafted two weeks ago.

Sunday Sorties:

Adam Lefor, who is perhaps the No. 1 booster for Serra Catholic High athletic endeavors, now tells that the new football field for the Sabers will be ready for use by the coming season, and is in hopes that lighting will be erected for night games. "All we need is about $7000," adds Lefor, "and we'll have the kids playing on their own field, under the lights."

College Mentors Anxiously Looking, Waiting

This is the time of year when all college grid mentors are breathing a bit heavier, wondering just what they'll come up with in the way of prep graduates. None will know definitely until the first day of school, or thereabouts, for they've learned the hard way to never count on landing a freshman athlete until the whites of his eyes can be seen in a classroom.

Koch Wins 35-Lap Hard Top Feature

Ernie Koch of Vancouver, Wash., won the big money Saturday night in a Hollywood Bowl Class-A Main Event for souped-up hardtops that had plenty of last-minute action.

Hyde then led until the final lap when he developed motor trouble and Koch swept past him to victory.

There was spirited action in the 15-lap Class B Main when Cliff Spaulding put a wheel into Cloyce Hall, causing Hall to spin out of control. The crash fouled Spaulding's steering and he crashed into a guard rail in front of the bleachers and turned over. Recent safety precaution at the bowl kept the car from hurtling over the guard rail. The driver was not injured.
