SUMMERTIME VISITORS highlight the social columns these days with travelers coming and going from the capital city.

From Greenacres, Indiana, have come former Salem residents, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Riggs and children, Bill, Jim, Elmer and Nancy. They are guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Blanche Riggs.

Dr. Riggs, was formerly on the Willamette University faculty and is now dean of men at DePauw University, Fred. The Riggs family visited in California enroute north, and will be here until the first of the week.

Returning . . . Wednesday from a week's stay in Ashland are Justice and Mrs. James T. Brand. They went down for the open-air festival at the Shakespearean Festival and attended the first performance of the four plays. The Brands were joined by a group of their Coe Bay friends for the festival.

Spending several days in Seattle have been Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gibbons and son, John, and daughter, Mrs. James Todd and small son, Richard. They attended the Seafair Trophy race on Sunday and also visited with relatives over the weekend.

Arriving . . . in the capital by plane today will be Mrs. Willard W. Wolford and son, Willard II, of Reseda, Calif., who will visit at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Robb. They plan to be here several weeks.

Coming north . . . for a visit this weekend will be Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Larsen and son, Fred, of Yuba City, Calif., who will be guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Kuhn. They are driving and enroute are stopping in Grants Pass to visit relatives and in Jacksonville.

A sojourn at Diamond Lake for Mr. and Mrs. John P. Maulding and children, Johnny, Michael and Marianne, who returned Wednesday from a ten day stay at the lake resort. There they joined her parents, the Ralph Cooleys, and this weekend the Richard Cooleys and their daughters, Christine and Pamela, drove to the lake for a week's vacation.

Home from a several days' stay in Moro is Miss Nancy Payne, daughter of the James Payne, who was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hart.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Monette are his mother, Mrs. L. M. Monette, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Kious and daughter, Suzanne, of Anaheim, Calif. They are also spending some time in Portland visiting friends.

Suzanne and her cousin, Anne Monette are at Camp Kilowan this week.

Driving down from Lake Grove tonight to attend the Pentecost play, "Graft's Wife," will be Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Locke, who will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Kretmer.

PARTY TIME A group of intimate friends gathered for a no-host supper party Wednesday night at the Fairmount Hill home of the Melvin H. Geists to say au revoir to the Robert H. Baldocks, who soon leave for Iraq.

Vacationing at Neskowin are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Busk and children, Steven and Barbara. Joining them at the beach resort were their longtime friends, Dr. and Mrs. William O'H of Dallas. The Busks will be home this weekend.

Dinner hosts tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wirth, who have invited members of the birthday club to their Hayden Avenue home. The affair will honor Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Pfaff, who are celebrating their birthdays this month, and will also welcome home Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Berg, who have just returned from a European trip.

Home Nuptials Unite Couple On Saturday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. Baker of Ferndell Street was the setting for the wedding of Miss Mary Alice Veal, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Veal, and James H. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lore M. Murphy of Eugene, on Saturday, August 4.

Dr. Brooks Moore of the First Methodist Church performed the 2:30 o'clock ceremony. Miss Jerry Bob Baker, niece of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride wore a ballerina gown of white linen, styled with a pleated nylon tulle yoke, cape sleeves of tulle and appliqued with Alencon lace. The fingertip illusion veil was held by a lace cap embroidered with pearls. Her bouquet was of pink roses and miniature white chrysanthemums. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert L. Veal of Albany.

Mrs. Malcolm C. Baker, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was of pink lace over cotton. She wore a white lace hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

From New York City comes news of the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Brann (Barbara Upjohn) on August 5 at New York Hospital. The little boy tipped the scales at six pounds and the girl at five and a half pounds.

The grandparents are Mrs. Donald H. Upjohn of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Braunstein of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Returning Wednesday from Fort Ord, Calif., was Colonel Mark Hillary, who he greeted his first grandchild, Edmund David Hillary, who was born a few weeks ago to Lt. and Mrs. David Hillary at the Fort Ord Hospital.

A fifth child . . . and a little boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Carbaugh on August 5 at the Salem Memorial Hospital. The lad has been named Steven Christopher and checked in at nine pounds. He has a sister, Joan, and three brothers, Michael, Timothy and Tony. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carbaugh and A. C. Silva of Berkeley, Calif.

Serves at Best Man Bill Durce, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride's mother wore a light blue floral dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose pink dress. Their corsages were pink tinted gladioluses.

A reception was given following the nuptials. Miss Carol Whitington, of Salem, was in charge of the guest book. Miss Lila Brown of Silverton was in charge of the gift table. Mrs. F. L. Veal, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Bill Durce cut the cake.

The couple will reside in Corvallis, where they attend Oregon State College.

Miss Frances Torresdal Is Married

The Immanuel Lutheran Church in Silverton was the scene of the July 28 marriage of Miss Frances Arlene Torresdal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Torresdal of Mt. Angel, and William K. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lawrence of Dallas. The Rev. A. W. Nelson performed the 8 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. George Gillis was the vocalist and Albert Overlund the organist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white lace and tulle over satin, styled with a fitted bodice of lace, the net yoke outlined with scallops of the lace. The full skirt was trimmed with a panel of the lace down the front and chapel train. The fingertip veiled with lace, was arranged from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of carnations and stephanotis with cymbidifol orchids.

Miss Ruth Torresdal was maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Hage, Miss Patricia Boyer, Miss Donna Swanson. They wore ballerina frocks of nylon organdy with pale pink embroidered bows on the material, and large bows at the back of the scoop necklines. They carried bouquets of pale pink gladioluses and carnations.

A Congressman Gives Tips On Good Letter Writing

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—If you feel the urge to write to your congressman, make your letter brief. Confine yourself to one subject. Write legibly.

Letters which follow these rules are the ones that get the most attention, according to Democratic Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand of California, who gives some handy tips on writing to congress in "Roll Call," the newspaper of Capitol Hill.

"Letters that run for four or five pages aren't apt to be read thoroughly," the congressman says. "We received one that rambled on for eight pages, covering every subject from the Bible to the hydrogen bomb. At the end the writer added a P.S.: 'Please disregard what I've said in this letter. After re-reading it I've changed my mind about certain points, but after writing it I didn't want to throw it away.'"

But, the congressman hastens to add: "This doesn't mean you should write as briefly as the unsigned writer who sent in only two words on the back of a postcard: 'Drop dead.'"

Rep. Hiestand says one of the joys of a congressman is his daily mail.

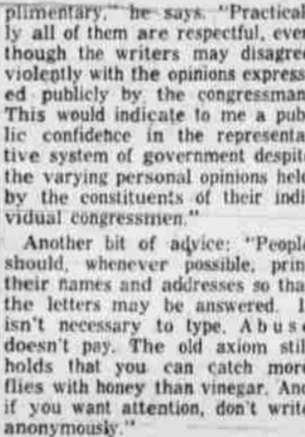

"With it he takes the daily pulse of his district," he explains. "From it he learns what his neighbors want—and why. Mail guides but not always determines a congressman's vote on the close issues. A congressman's job is to speak FOR the district, and when the people speak strongly he does not ignore their voice."

Operating one of the busiest post offices in the nation, the House Office Building receives five mail deliveries a day. There are less frequent deliveries on Sundays and holidays, too.

Someone figured out, Rep. Hiestand says, that the average congressman gets about 345 pieces of mail a day, an increase of almost 10 per cent from a year ago.

"Most of the letters are complimentary," he says. "Practically all of them are respectful, even though the writers may disagree violently with the opinions expressed publicly by the congressman. This would indicate to me a public confidence in the representative system of government despite the varying personal opinions held by the constituents of their individual congressmen."

Another bit of advice: "People should, whenever possible, print their names and addresses so that the letters may be answered. A business doesn't pay. The old axiom still holds that you can catch more flies with honey than vinegar. And if you want attention, don't write anonymously."

Miss Sonia Nohlgren to Be Married to Jerry Hamilton

Wedding bells will ring on Friday, August 17 for Miss Sonia Nohlgren and Jerry Hamilton of Portland. The couple's engagement and plans for their forthcoming marriage are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland F. Nohlgren. Mr. Hamilton is the son of Mrs. Lillian Hamilton and Edward Hamilton of South Carolina.

The ceremony will be performed at the First Congregational Church with the Rev. Julian Keiser officiating at the 8 o'clock rites. A reception will follow in the church parlor.

Miss Donna Nothelmer, a longtime friend of the bride-to-be, will be her only attendant. Charles Walbert of Portland will serve as best man for Mr. Hamilton.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Salem schools and Oregon State College. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and has been teaching in Portland the past year. Mr. Hamilton attended Multnomah College and Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. He is now with Remington Rand in Portland, where the couple will make their home.
