In Class B today at Barrick, Master Service Stations meets Berg's Market. Winner of that game plays Vista Wednesday at Waters for the playoff crown.

Jackson's Tom Grief threw a one-hitter to stop the Lions, giving up a single only to Eddie Parker. The Lions' Bob Fadenricht allowed only two hits to Jackson players, one being a double by Jim Rak that drove in Jim Compton with the game's only run. Larry Haskell got the other Jackson hit.

Dickson scored three runs in the first inning with singles by Freddie Fagg and Bob Morrow. Clarence Stroh singled for one run in the fourth. Warren Harvey was the winning pitcher, giving up five hits and fanning 11.

Toppers Book 100-Lap Meet

The modified (souped up) hard tops have selected the Hollywood Bowl racing oval in Salem for their 1956 quartermile championship meet, one that will be highlighted by a 100-lap Class A main event.

Valley Sports promoter Ron Ail announced Monday the "tops" will be here Saturday night for the big one.

"This 100-lap quartermile championship meet has been held at Jantzen Beach in Portland, Sea-Tac Speedway near Seattle, Spokane, Pendleton and Kennewick in the past," Ail explained, "and for the first time we'll have it here in Salem this week."

Special purses and trophies are available for the best finishes in the championship meet, and the fair will draw the foremost hard tops from all over the Northwest, according to Ail.

Full details of the Saturday card will be announced by the promoter later in the week.

Players' Reps Adopt Better Pension Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Major league player representatives Monday adopted their new pension plan which will provide for increased pensions, a life insurance policy, and disability, hospitalization and medical benefits.

The plan will go into effect April 1, 1957 simultaneously with the new $16,250,000 five-year radio and television pact covering the World Series and the annual All-Star game.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils and Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians announced the 16 player representatives voted unanimously to make eligible all members of the plan dating back to 1947, when the original pension plan was conceived. This would include all players active, inactive and retired since 1947.

Under the new setup, a player with five years of major league service will receive $83 a month at the age of 50. This will increase to $175 a month for a 10-year man, $225 for a 15-year man and $275 for a 20-year man.

Under the present plan, which will terminate at the end of this year, a five-year man receives $50 a month and a 10-year man $100 a month. A $100 payment now is the maximum.

The life insurance plan will cover all players with at least 60 days of service in the majors. Those with less than four years of service will receive a $6,000 policy. From there, the policies will range up to $20,000 for a 10-year man. All players, active or inactive, who become totally and permanently disabled will receive a monthly benefit of $450, payable for life or until recovery.

All active players and their families will be eligible for hospitalization and medical benefits.

All players will be required to pay $344 a year to be eligible for these benefits. Heretofore a player was required to pay $250 a year, a sum matched by his club. The club no longer will be required to make any payments.

The new radio-television contract, which calls for receipt $3,250,000 a year for the next five years, will bring $1,900,000 a year, or 60 per cent, to the players. All of this money will be placed in the pension fund.

Mantle Hopes To End Slump

Yankee Still Tops Batting Race in AL

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle will seek to emerge from his most protracted batting slump of the season Tuesday night when the New York Yankees take on the Cleveland Indians in the opener of a two-game series.

Last Wednesday, Mickey showeded .376 average. Since then he has produced only three hits in 27 at bats and his average dipped to .362. Except for one day, this is his lowest mark of the season.

With 42 home runs, the Yankee switch-hitter still is seven games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace of 1927. But he has not connected in six contests.

Williams Also Drops

Ted Williams of Boston, his closest rival for hitting honors, dropped nine points last week to .345. And with 281 times at bat and only 36 games remaining on the Red Sox' schedule there is some question whether Williams will reach the 400 at bat total at the season's end.

In the National League, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee's pace-setting Braves continues in the No. 1 spot although he lost ground last week. Wally Moon of the Cards has climbed to within eight points of Aaron, who tailed off eight points to .334. Moon shows a .326 mark.

Stan Musial of the Cards, seeking his seventh batting title, is third with .316 followed by Red Schoendienst of the New York Giants with .311 and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati with .310.

Kluszewski hammered four home runs last week to challenge Brooklyn's Duke Snider for the lead. Snider had only one, giving him 33 for the campaign and Kluszewski has 31.

Musial drove home four runs to boost his pace-setting RBI mark to 90. Mantle and Al Kaline of Detroit are the only players with more. Mickey, the only major leaguer over the century mark, has 107 and Kaline is second in the American League with 94.

Giants Whip Colts, 28-10

when Jesse Thomas intercepted a Don Heinrich pass in the flat and raced 29 yards to score. New York tied it when Schnelker took a cross-over pass by Heinrich that completely fooled the Colts and scampered 30 yards.

Baltimore rookie Lenny Moore turned in a 27 yard punt return midway in the second period to set up 34-yard field goal by Buck McPhail who also converted his one extra point try.

The Big Giant forward wall, led by Modzelewski, held the Colts to 20 yards rushing and completely hamstrung the vaulted line-crashing of Alan (The Horse) Ameche.

Rookie end Jim Katcavage (Dayton) showed well for New York. The Giants' lost the services of rookie tackle Sam Huff of West Virginia early with a knee injury.

Jack Patera, the ex-Oregon guard, stood out in the losers' line. The Colts played without the services of regular quarterback George Shaw sidelined with virus pneumonia.

Shaw, former University of Oregon star quarterback, is in Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore recovering from his illness.

His mother, Mrs. Wayne Shaw, said in Portland Monday night she had talked with her son Sunday and that his condition had improved. His wife, Patti, flew to Baltimore to be with him. Shaw became ill Friday.

John Unitas, newcomer to the Baltimore team, replaced Shaw at quarterback against the Giants.

SPORTSLIGHTNER — by Al Lightner

But if he had anything to do with those recent four straight wins over our men down there, a fie on him. That one sad series may well be the one that keeps the Senators away from the second half pennant . . .

Jon Arnett's recent decision to finish out his schooling at Southern California, in spite of the Coast Conference verdict for those who were judged guilty of breaking the circuit's code, is to be greatly admired. He turned his back on numerous gilt-edged offers to play in the Canadian pro league, and told that he owed it to himself to remain with the Trojans for his final season, which will be abbreviated to five games as a result of the PCC penalties. One can't help but admire a youngster who is big enough to face up to his own conscience.

Ukes Probably Glad to Lose One Knox

Then on the other hand there is Ronnie Knox who, through the always present and rather sickening voice of his father who has kept the kid's athletic career in a turmoil, quit UCLA because of the conference ruling, and has turned pro in Canada. The Ukes lose a good football player in Knox. But they're probably quite thankful over losing the elder Knox also, who has earned the nickname of "Ob-knox-ious" in some California circles.

Local rasslin' matchmaker Elton Owen, a former U. of Oregon athlete who also tried professional grappling before taking over his late father's business, isn't the only athlete in his family. His young daughter, Linda, is the best all-around competitive swimmer of her age group in the Eugene area. You may one day hear much about her if she keeps at it . . .

Bill Russell and the U of San Francisco basketball Dons, which also included UCLA's great Willie Naulls, won all 29 of their games during the recently completed tour of South America. Upon returning to San Francisco, the 6-10 All-American was asked if he intended signing the Olympic Games pledge, concerning amateurism, which not long ago whipped up quite a storm across the land when introduced by Avery Brundage. Russell told that he would sign it, for after the Olympics are over he plans returning to San Francisco for more schooling. Now that sounds real good. But it will be nothing short of a miracle if the much sought Russell can turn down the thousands of dollars he'll be offered for his talents as a professional, when he gets back from Australia in January. He couldn't have made that kind of loot during the recent good-will tour, even though the barnstormers played before an estimated 100,000 South American fans . . .
