Zeke's Homer Wrecks Roberts' No-Hit Bid

(Continued from preceding page) and winning himself another suit of clothing from the firm, his second this season. The clout came in the fifth, after Laursen had lined his four-baser over the Wiedner Laundry ad in right field, and after Krause had drilled.

Zeke's homer hit was a three-run homer by Seckula in the third inning, which followed a throwing error and a base on balls. This put the Salms 3-2 ahead, as Lewiston had tagged Ad Satalich for two tallies in the upper half of the third.

Satalich held it at that score until the sixth, when Krause's error on an infield tap, followed by Mike Donahue's double tied the score with an unearned tally. Then all hellhull broke loose in the seventh.

Riney Grand Slams One

A pair of walks and Gene Klingler's safe bunt set it up for Zeke Riney, and he lapped over his 25th homer of the season over the right field wall, the grand slammer that started the Broncos on their way before Satalich and relief lefty Jerry Bartow, making his first appearance, could get the side out. Five more hits were unblocked and the seven-big runs were in.

Riney had hit another grand slammer at Eugene Friday night. It was "Picnic Day" at the park Sunday, and although not many adults turned out for it, the kids were there by the dozens. Following a picnic lunch on the field after the first game, the kids were involved in numerous novelty races sponsored by the Salem Police Department. Winners were Donna Morse, Lynda Weber, Dennis White, Keith Salter, Kathy McVay, Ray Egland and Steve Stewart. But Ronny Dufour was happiest of all. The center fielder for the Highland Hijackers in the local Midget League won the new bicycle given by the police.

Trenton Takes Ruth 'Series'

PORTLAND (AP)—Trenton, N.J., defeated Huntington Park, Calif., 1-0, to win the Babe Ruth baseball world series title in the second game of a doubleheader which closed the 1956 national tournament here this afternoon.

The host Portland team won third place with another 1-0 shut-out over Tulsa, Okla., in the afternoon's opener.

Trenton's Al Downing hooked up with Jim Wolfsberger of Huntington Park in the title game. Downing struck out 11 and allowed three hits. Wolfsberger gave up only two hits, both singles, but an unearned run cost the Californians the game.

Portland's Lefty Mickey Lolich bested Gary Lloyd in a spirited pitching duel. Lolich allowed only two hits in pitching his second shutout of the tournament, while Lloyd gave up four. Lolich, a good hitter, scored the winning run after slamming a double in the final inning. He was singled to third and scored on a wild pitch by Lloyd.
