Adlai Attacks; Voters to Hear Ike's Record By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Président Eisenhower said Friday he will see to it that the rec-ord of his administration "is made forcefully clear to the American people" in the 1956 campaign.
That record already is under strong attack from Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic Presidential nominee who Friday numbered Eisenhower among those who, he said, "sneer" at government Stevenson addressed a Chicago convention of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks before holding a strategy conference with holding a strategy conference with Democratic leaders from five midwestern states.

Eisenhower's campaign plans were discussed at the President's news conference—his first since he was renominated at San Francisco last week.

He said he will do no "barnsteeming" or "whietlestenning" or "whietlestenning

Stevenson got in his campaign crack at Eisenhower when he told the postal clerks:

"We Democrats reject the language of those who sneer at civil servants as bureaucrats and talk of our public service as part of swellen bureaucratic monster government in Washington." I am quoting President Eisenhower."
