Kidnaping Case Goes To Grand Jury

Case of a former Stayton police officer, charged with the kidnaping of a Lyons girl Sept. 8, was turned over to Marion County Grand Jury Tuesday by district court Judge Edward O. Stadler Jr.

Hollis Wayne Evans, 22, Dallas, was accused by Verna Seig, 19, of forcing her from her car to his vehicle and taking her for a short ride before freeing her. The girl said in court Tuesday that she was not injured or molested during the ride.

She said she was driving in Stayton when a car operated by Evans drove up beside her. She said there were two other persons in Evans' car during the ride. A grand jury may be convened next week to hear the case along with several others awaiting investigation. Bail on the kidnaping charge was reduced from $2,500 to $250 for Evans who has been in jail since his arrest last Friday.

Alienation of Affections Suit Asks $100,000

A $100,000 alienation of affections suit involving two prominent families was filed Tuesday in Marion County Circuit Court.

Defendant in the suit is Mrs. Fred (LaVon) Davis who is charged by Margaret K. Armpriest with wooing away her husband Donald J. Armpriest, Mrs. Davis is the widow of a Salem business man who drowned in a boating mishap in British Columbia last year.

In the complaint Mrs. Armpriest said that shortly after their marriage on Jan. 25, 1955 "and while the parties were still living together as man and wife, the defendant, with knowledge of such marital relationship, wrongfully, wantonly and maliciously started keeping company and associating with said Donald J. Armpriest."

As a result she says her husband "failed to perform his duties as a husband and plaintiff has been deprived of her right to the conjugal relationship and fellowship of her husband, and to his love, company, cooperation and aid in every conjugal relation."

Mrs. Armpriest is seeking $35,000 general damages and $65,000 punitive damages from Mrs. Davis.

Sheep Disease Noted in State

Blue tongue, a contagious disease of sheep, has made its first appearance in Oregon near Klammath Falls. Dr. K. J. Peterson, chief veterinarian for the State Agricultural Department, reported Tuesday.

Dr. Peterson said the infected flock of sheep is being vaccinated with an available vaccine. He added that other sheep in the area would be closely watched to prevent any further spread of the disease.

The veterinarian said blue tongue was first diagnosed in the United States four years ago in California. The disease is present in Utah, Arizona, California, New Mexico, Colorado, Texas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

We wish to express our thanks for the kindness and sympathy of neighbors and friends in our recent bereavement, for the calls, beautiful flowers and many comforting acts. They are deeply appreciated.

False Teeth That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Card of Thanks

We are sincerely grateful to friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Words cannot fully express our sincere appreciation.

Workshop Series Launched On Mental Health in County

Sixty-five representatives of civic, school and church organizations in Marion County launched a series of four workshops on mental health Tuesday at the YWCA.

The delegates to the workshops are to take the materials and suggestions presented to help formulate programs on mental health to be presented to their own organizations.

Talks on behalf of the two sponsoring organizations were presented by Mrs. Robert E. Gangware, chairman of the Family Life discussions groups of the Marion County TB and Health Assn. and by Mrs. Bernice Yearly, director of nurses of the Marion County Health Department.

Chairman of the meeting was Wes Sullivan, chairman of the mental health advisory committee of the Marion County Child Guidance Clinic.

Two new films on family life were shown, one on rivalries between children in a family and the other on parent-child relationships. The next of the four weekly sessions will be Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the YWCA. In the following meetings other new films will be shown, a model panel discussion.
