Bride at St. Joseph's

Mrs. Clyde S. Fladwood, the former Dolores MacMahon, whose marriage was an event of September 22 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William J. MacMahon and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fladwood, all of Salem. (Steimonts Studio.)

Satin, Lace Mark Traditional Wedding of Miss MacMahon

An attractive bride in her traditional wedding gown of lace and satin was Miss Dolores MacMahon when she became Mrs. Clyde Fladwood at St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Saturday, September 22. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William J. MacMahon and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde S. Fladwood.

The Rev. Joseph E. Vanderbeck officiated at the mid-morning rites in the gaudiolus-decorated church. Altar boys were Steven Caldwell and Denny Allen; Mrs. Barton played the wedding music and Miss Loraine Nelke sang.

The fitted lace bodice of the bride's gown had long pointed sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Ruffled tier of tulle fell over the satin skirt with lace aprons pointed down each side. A coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones held in place the fingertip-length veil.

The bride carried a prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis caught in the streamers.

Miss Carolyn MacMahon was maid of honor and wore a pale pink gown of chrysoleite with a smoked bodice and graceful soft pleats forming a full skirt. Her headress was a halo crown of velvet leaves and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with ruby net.

The bridesmaids, Miss Kathy Pearson, Miss Dawn Fladwood, and Miss Joanne Albin, wore dresses and had bouquets like the maid of honor's except that theirs were rose colored and they had matching mits.

Christine Robertson, niece of the groom, was flower girl and carried a basket of pink and rose carnations.

The best man was Fred Stanb, and ushers were Jerry Eagan, James Fisher, James Roseberry and Michael Matern.

A beige knit suit with beige accessories and corsage of yellow roses was worn by the mother of the bride, and the groom's mother chose a navy blue suit with light blue accessories and white rose corsage.

Two grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Thomas MacMahon and Mrs. Bessi Matern, poured at the reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Mrs. Frank Rhodes and Mrs. Henry Shoemaker cut the cakes and those assisting were the Misses Willette and Sally MacMahon, Evelyn Drummond and Jack Struthers.

The bride changed to a light blue satin brocade sheath dress and matching coat of velveteen with black accessories and white orchid corsage for their wedding trip to San Francisco. The couple will make their home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson have had as their house guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bakke and son Terry, of Battle Creek, Mich. Mr. Bakke is Mrs. Ferguson's brother. The Bakkes have purchased a home on North Capitol Street and have enrolled their son in Garfield School. Mr. Bakke plans to go into the commercial painting business in Salem after disposing of his interests in Battle Creek, Michigan.
