BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23 PM The Washington Redskins, with Sam Baker knifing through four goals, threw away an early lead today before beating the Detroit Lions 19-17 in their final tune-up before the start of the National Football League season. The Redskins, making their ex-

Baker, an un-heralded fullback from Oregon State who wasn't even on the program, stole the show for Washington. He punted, he cracked the line, he calmly made four or five field goal attempts - including the gameclincher from 19 yards out with 2:37 remaining.
