YWCA Classes Still Open

The YWCA is pleased to announce that Ray Vitale is again able to teach his popular dog obedience classes. Mr. Vitale's instruction is based upon the principle that any dog can be taught to obey if instruction is started at the proper age for his breed and size. Men and women, boys and girls—all make excellent masters of the proper pet.

For determining if master and dog can be matched, Mr. Vitale likes to talk with people before joining his classes. A new class will start at the YWCA this Saturday at 2 p.m.

Also starting on Saturday will be the modern dance classes to be taught by Miss Marjorie Church. There is room in all classes, from the 9:30 a.m. class for pre-schoolers and first graders to the 1:30 p.m. of junior and senior high school girls.

Miss Church, who teaches modern dance for the Portland recreation department, urges mothers to use this opportunity to train their children in rhythmic development.
