

Stevenson Compares GOP Campaign to Romans' 'Bread and Circuses' Tactics

By ED CREAGH
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson compared the Republican campaign tonight with the "bread and circuses" which the Roman emperors used to keep the people contented. He predicted the Republicans won't be any more successful than the Romans were.

The Democratic presidential nominee flew here to deliver another "give 'em hell speech" after telling a crowd at Kansas City, Kan., earlier in the day that the Democrats favor taking the country away from General Motors and "turning it back to Joe Smith."

Stevenson said the Republicans are trying "with movies, jeeps, girls and gadgets of all kinds" to sell the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again "to a docile, complacent, carefree people, all happily chanting: 'Peace, prosperity and progress, ain't it wonderful!'"

Stevenson's speech was prepared for delivery at the Missouri

Theater here, after the candidate rode in a motorcade through the Mid-America Jubilee grounds at the riverfront on the way from the airport to his hotel.

"You remember," Stevenson said, "how the Roman emperors in their declining years tried to keep the uneasy populace satisfied and their minds off their troubles with food and games, gladiatorial combat and spectacles.

"Well, 'bread and circuses' didn't save Rome, and it won't save the Republicans either!" In probably the sharpest attack he has yet delivered against the Eisenhower regime, Stevenson said—quoting a remark he attributed to an organizer of the Republican National Convention—the opposition party seems to think of politics "as moving closer to show business."

"It certainly is, as they present it,—balloons, not arguments, the chorus line, not the political issues.

"Don't think, just feel,—feel it's all fine and the product is splendid. Pour out the money period. Forget that mushroom cloud. Don't mention Suez. The world stops at the waterfront.

"And whatever the gales of change and upheaval and revolution, roaring around the world, take it from us that this is no time for a change.

"Vote Republican and keep things as they are."

School Boycott Leaders in Kentucky Hint at Violence

By VANCE JOHNSTON
HENDERSON, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—The Henderson County Board of Education today refused to meet with leaders of a boycott at the Weaverton Elementary School and segregationists implied they might not be able to keep their protests peaceful.

"It will be very difficult to keep peace among the crowd unless the school board meets with us," said Rayburn Sugg, chairman of the White Citizens Council.

Double Trouble
Sugg said, however, he is "fairly confident there will be no trouble tomorrow morning."

County Schools Sup't. C. B. West said the board would not meet with the council because "the board's position remains the same. We plan to keep the school open."

The boycott at Weaverton, where five Negro students are in class, began to sag after the Henderson Ministerial Assn. called on parents to keep children in school. The association has been making hourly broadcasts urging parents to follow its advice.

Attendance Up
Attendance at Weaverton, with a total enrollment of 870, was up to 287 from the low of 206 on Tuesday.

Central and Seventh Street elementary schools inside the city reported 220 students absent, a slight increase over the day before. These are the only other schools in the county which have admitted Negro pupils.

Suggs said earlier "we're losing our battle" but the boycott "will continue."

Suggs has called on all parents who are keeping their children out of school to meet at 7 a.m. tomorrow at the Weaverton school.

Suggs said that failure of the school board to meet may make some people "dissatisfied with local—council—leadership and take action in their own hands."

Runaway Tank Car Crashes Into Boxcars

BEND, Sept. 27 (AP)—A tank car containing 10,000 gallons of gasoline broke loose in the Bend railroad yards today, and raced nine miles downgrade to Deschutes Junction, where it crashed into a string of freight cars.

John H. Patterson, The Dalles, train crew member, jumped from the caboose at the end of the string of freight cars when he saw the tank car rolling down at an estimated 50 miles an hour.

The collision splintered the caboose.

U.S. Explorer to Seek Nip Plants

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—A plant explorer from the U. S. Department of Agriculture is going to Japan soon to collect new or little known plants of ornamental value in this country.

Dr. John L. Creech will be in Japan about four months.

Many of the ornamental plants now in this country—saxifrage, camellias, cherries and hollies—came from Japan, the department explained.

Planning Delays Construction on Aluminum Plant

THE DALLES, Sept. 27 (AP)—Plant construction for Harvey Aluminum Co. was halted here today for about two weeks while final plans for electrical installations were ordered from Westinghouse Electric Co.

Company officials said the excavation for foundations was so costly in the basalt formations, that it was believed better to hold back on the work for a time rather than adjust the excavations later.

Andersen-Westfall Co., Portland, has had about 55 men at work on the excavation.

Falling Chunk Of Concrete Kills Lad, 11

SPOKANE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Robert H. Choate Jr., 11, was killed Wednesday when struck on the head with a piece of concrete that had fallen from a beam in a public park, officers said.

The boy, who received compound skull fractures, was pronounced dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Police said the boy had apparently been on top of the long beam, supported by tall pillars, which served as an arbor like entrance at Cannon Hill Park.

Young Choate evidently jumped to the ground and a long, loosened section of the concrete beam fell and struck him.

Police and park officials are still investigating.

Wife, 75, Rescues Mate From Blaze

THE DALLES, Sept. 27 (AP)—F. G. Miller, 75, trapped in his burning farm house just after noon today, was rescued by his wife, also 75, who ran through the flames to get him.

A niece, Mrs. Dora Gallagher who was there at the time said Mrs. Miller undoubtedly saved her husband's life. She suffered non-serious burns in doing it. Her husband was burned more seriously on the hands and face.

The house was destroyed.

New railway freight cars today cost about $8,000 each.

15 Tree Farms Win Certificates

PORTLAND, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Industrial Forestry Assn. has announced certificates of 15 new tree farms and cancellation of certificates for four others.

Nils B. Hult, association president, said certificates are cancelled when owners fail to follow requirements for protection and harvesting of trees. The cancellations covered 43,460 acres.

The Douglas fir region now has three farms covering 4,819,532 acres, Hult said.

Diana Dors To End Stay In Hollywood

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Diana Dors, bosomy blonde actress whose four-month Hollywood career has spanned two pictures and one dunking in her own swimming pool, is returning to Britain.

The reason, says her husband, Dennis Hamilton: she is "so terribly homesick."

"I wanted to stay out in Hollywood, she didn't," Hamilton said on his arrival from New York.

"We had a heck of an argument and Diana won."

Miss Dors and her husband splashed into the headlines Aug. 20 when they were pushed into a swimming pool during a party at their luxurious Hollywood home.

Diana was quoted in July as saying she and her husband planned to become permanent residents of Hollywood but Hamilton said he and Miss Dors will form their own film company in London and she will return here in November after completing her second picture in Hollywood.

Jurors Dismissed After Resorting to Law Books

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 27 (AP)—Because they decided to study the law for themselves, 12 jurors were discharged yesterday in a second-degree murder trial.

The jurors were deliberating the case against Leonard F. Pinkney, 38, accused of fatally stabbing Floyd Matthew Jr., 33, last March 31 in a cottage they shared.

After the state and the defense rested, Common Pleas Judge John W. Hackett instructed the jury on what constitutes second degree murder and what lesser charges could be considered. Then the panel was escorted to the jury room for deliberation.

Five hours later, Asst. Prosecutor Joseph J. Jan happened to walk by the jury room and heard a voice saying:

"And no person shall purposely and maliciously . . .

The words were from the statute governing second degree murder, Jan knew, but how did the jury happen to have the exact words at hand?

Jan informed Prosecutor Harry Friberg and they got a balliff to unlock the jury room.

There were the jurors, poring over a number of law books which had been left in the jury room.

The jurors said their law studies would not influence their decision on whether Pinkney was guilty.

"We just couldn't agree on the degree of guilt, and the books were right handy," they told Judge Hackett.

But the judge discharged them. Prosecutor Friberg is going to schedule a new trial.

The lawbooks, incidentally, will be removed from the jury room.

Tot Thrives On Bananas

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Little Ricky Savage isn't quite 3 years old but in his lifetime he's had to eat nearly 14,000 bananas; he's allergic to nearly all other foods. Ricky has a baby brother now, and the baby is allergic, too.

Ricky—he's a really Bradley Richard Savage Jr.—has had a rare dietary trouble since birth. Doctors discovered he could tolerate a sort of "milk" made from soybeans. Everything else, except bananas, gave him a rash and diarrhea.

He thrived on bananas—sometimes ate 20 a day. Now he can eat a few other things in moderation and is down to two or three bananas a week.

Brother Bryan, at birth weighed 5 pounds 7 ounces, dropped off to 4 pounds 6 ounces, and couldn't manage milk or baby formula. That's when it was discovered he was allergic, too. He's getting along fine now, though. Aged six weeks, he's up past six pounds now on the same soybean product that Ricky thrived on.
