

Tea to Honor Ministers' Wives

A tea honoring all ministers' wives of the city and presidents of church women's groups is on the calendar for Tuesday afternoon, October 9 at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the First Christian Church. United Church Women of Salem are hostesses for this affair. A special honor guest will be the president of Oregon United Church Women, Mrs. S. M. Zeller of Corvallis.

Greeting the women will be the local president, Mrs. Sidney Van Dyke, and the officers of UCW, representing many churches in Salem. An informal program of music and introductions of guests will fill the afternoon. Several ministers' wives are new to the community and this will be the first occasion for them to become acquainted with wives from the parsonages and manes of Salem.

Mrs. Robert Stutzman is arranging the refreshments assisted by Mrs. Laurence Walworth, Mrs. W. S. Arkney and Mrs. W. E. Knower. Arranging the tea table with fall flowers will be Mrs. W. A. Barkus and Mrs. Monroe Cheek. Preceding the tea at 7 p. m. will be the regular meeting of the board of directors of UCW of which ministers' wives and group presidents are members. Objectives and projects of Salem United Church Women for the year will be outlined, year books distributed and a few matters of business acted on.

Church women from all the churches of Salem and nearby communities are cordially invited to share in this interdenominational fellowship and tea.

New Activities to Open Fall Program at YW This Week

The fall program of the Young Women's Christian Association will get into full swing this week as several new activities start.

On Monday evening from 7:30 to 9 p. m. a discussion group for the parents of teenagers will be organized, with Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones and Mrs. L. E. Marschat as leaders. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Marschat were recently trained in the methods of group discussion leading in the field of family life by the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The theme they have selected is "Growing with Our Teen-Agers." Throughout the weekly meetings they will use films which deal with the problems and experiences of families including teenage children, as well as the resources of leaders in the community, including Dr. Charles Dierthick and Arthur Gravatt of the Willamette faculty, and the Rev. Julian Keizer of the Congregational Church.

Ample opportunity to talk over the problems presented for consideration will be given during each meeting. Participation in this group is free to all YWCA members and associate members, and a small fee will be charged of non-members.

Furniture and Flower Classes
Also starting on Monday evening will be the class in furniture refinishing to be taught by Miss Evelyn Bengston of the State Hospital staff. Other classes which will start during the week include Mrs. Jack Bartlett's flower arranging on Monday morning, and a class in beginning bridge to be taught by Mrs. William Newmyer in the Goren point-count method, starting on Thursday morning. There is room in all of these classes for additional members.

On Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, the first of a series of book reviews will be given by Mrs. Carl Hansen of the Salem Public Library staff. Mrs. Hansen will preview several of the new books being published this fall. The public is invited and a small fee is charged of non-members.

The topic for the second session of the legal and finance forum, meeting Thursday morning, will be insurance. William Braun will tell of recent advances in the provision of fire, liability and other types of insurance.

Carpet Traffic Lanes Removed

Do you have a traffic lane? It's that beat down section of your beautiful carpet that has received the heaviest wear.

To preserve the "new all over" look, those traffic lanes must be eliminated, so apply Blue Lustre carpet cleaner with an easy to use long handle brush. The colors will spring out fresh and bright with the nap open and fluffy to blend with the unsoiled sections of your carpet.

One-half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Don't Look Now...

but... one of the nicest things to come home to is the local egg. New York cackles are out of this world, and have been for some time. I suppose this is even more noticeable for one who seldom eats an egg that has been out from under the hen long enough to cool. Even the underprivileged egg-eater of this community wouldn't take a second look at one from that big city.

Sometimes we think... that Oregonians are as good boosters as Californians, for as we approached Oregon, passengers in the plane who had cast but a bored look at the country 18,000 feet below most of the day, eagerly gazed through the plane's windows for a first glimpse of the Cascades and Mt. Hood, because the Oregonians were such good salesmen. And dear old Hood, came through with her usual first-class performance, catching a last faint pink ray from a sky that was almost dark, to give the strangers a pretty fabulous opinion of the mountains.
