

Yanks Mash Bums, 9 to 0, Snare Series

Disconsolate 'Lewk' Walks Streets Alone

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—A be-trodden Don Newcombe, worried about more than his World Series "fix," came home for just a few minutes after being knocked off the mound by home runs today, then left again.

"He was in a state of mind I've never seen before in our 11 years of marriage," said his wife, Freddie.

In a telephone call to his home in Colonia, N.J., his wife said "he isn't here and I don't know where he is. He was here only about 10 minutes, then he left."

he said he wouldn't be home to-night. He left the car in case I needed it.

"I've seen Don in many moods since we've been married, but nothing like the state of mind he's in now." The Newcombes mark their 11th wedding anniversary this Saturday.

Mrs. Newcombe said she had called Don's liquor store in Newark, but that he hadn't gone there. She also tried relatives, but couldn't find him.

"He stopped at his parents' home on the way here, but he didn't go back there."

The big guy, haunted in public life by a mocking dig that "he can't win the big ones," was handed his fourth World Series defeat today by the New York Yankees. He has yet to win in the series, although he never has gone into the fall classic with less than 17 regular season victories.

This time he was the ace of the Dodger staff, winning 27. No one else won that many in the majors this season. Only two, (Continued page 24, col. 4.)

Victorious Yankee Trio Whoops It Up After Series Won

EBBETS FIELD, Oct. 10—Pitcher Johnny Kucks of Yankees whoops it up in dressing room with Bill Skowron, left, and Yogi Berra after he had beaten Brooklyn, 9-0, on a three-hitter in final game of 1956 World Series. Skowron clubbed a grand slam homer while Yogi belted two home runs, each with a man on base. (AP Wirephoto)

Berra Cracks Two Homers to Tumble Mark; Kucks Stars

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—Slender Johnny Kucks humiliated Brooklyn with a three-hit shutout to win the World Series for the New York Yankees in the seventh game today with the fearsome backing of four home runs, including two by Yogi Berra and a grand slammer by Bill Skowron.

After losing six straight at the Ebbets Field band-box, the Yanks again crushed Don Newcombe in a "big game" to end the Dodgers' one-year reign. This time the score was 9-0. It was the Yanks' 17th championship in 22 attempts and their sixth over Brooklyn in seven series.

Kucks, a 23-year-old right-hander from Jersey City with low breaking stuff had the Brooks rolling off to the bullpen all through the sunny but chill afternoon. Before it ended, many of the fans had started for the subway, muttering, "Go home Brooklyn."

Comeback Climaxed

Climaxing this fine comeback after losing the first two games in Brooklyn, the Yankees ended a two-year span of National League supremacy and restored the American's edge to 34-19. Only one other club, the Dodgers of 1955, ever fought back to win a seven-game series after dropping the first two.

Kucks, making his first series start after four relief jobs, didn't allow a hit after Duke Snider sliced a single to left in the first, until Carl Furillo dropped a soft liner into center for another single with one out in the eighth. Snider lined a single to center with two out in the ninth for the third hit.

It was a tremendous effort by another Yankee pitcher and a surprising performance by an 18-game winner who was not effective in late season. Kucks walked (Continued page 24, col. 1)

Preps Wait Big Weekend

This, that, etc.:

Don't know what the local organization will gain from it financially yet, but a number of the 1956 Salem Senators will be moved up within the next few days. Arlie Alderman, a $1,500 mistake by Yakima Mgr. Hub Kettle, has already been sold to the Kansas City organization. Jerry Cade may go to the same outfit, although they've nixed the sale price of $4,000 so far. Bill Walsh goes to the Class A Amarillo club. Russ Rosburg goes back to Sacramento, and Chuck Essegian rates the good possibility of landing in the New York Yankee chain . . . Speaking of the Senators, former playing whiz Dick Sinovic who is shopping around for a playing manager's berth, says he'll officially apply for the open Salem job. Dick's contract is now held by the Austin club of the Texas League, but he feels he'll be released with no strings if he can land a managerial spot somewhere . . . Former Oregon coach Bill Borchert, who expects to crack the PCC as a basketball referee, is keeping in shape by working high school football games around his now native Roseburg . . . But villager John Kolb, who toots both PCC football and basketball games, isn't having things so good. He slipped while working in the Willamette Valley League grid jamboree a couple of weeks ago, snapped something in his back and has been laid up, practically motionless, until just recently . . . Tommy Edwards, left-handed son of the late late Senators manager, is quite a triple-threat for Coach Bob Donovan's Parrish Grays, an item which would have made the old man a right proud guy. But the kid who stole the show during last week's junior high jamboree was Steve Bonawitz, halfback for Hank Decker's Parrish Cards. He came romping off the field at one point, and made half the trip with his pants hanging at half mast. He didn't know they were down until he arrived at the bench, but most of the 2,000 present weren't laughing because there were feathers on their seats . . .

Drums Now Beating Hard for Baylor

A thickly-worded, four-page release by the Seattle University athletic news bureau signals the official start of the big push to land Elgin (Rabbit) Baylor an All-American berth in next winter's basketball derby. Baylor, the 6-6 Colored whiz who jumped the College of Idaho will be eligible the coming season, after spending his one year in exile with the Westside Ford entry in a Northwest AAU League last campaign. Baylor tallied 611 points in 18 games, for a 33.9 average, and paced his club to two wins over the Seattle Buchanan Bakers who later went on to cop the national AAU championship . . . The Chieftains open practice next week under new coach John Castellani. Former mentor Al Brightman is now a television commentator in the Seattle area . . . Seattle U must have some sort of magic attraction, as witness the home towns of those now listed for the coming season's freshman team. Two hall from South Bend, Ind. Then there's one each from Missoula, Mont., Pendleton, Ore., Mission, B. C., (Continued on next page.)

Bearcats May Start 7 Frosh in LC Game

The Willamette Bearcats may start seven freshmen against the tough Lewis and Clark Pioneers Saturday at Portland in a grid game between the two schools. Such was the word last night from Bearcat chieftain Ted Ogdahl, whose charges were surprise 30-7 victors over Pacific U. last week.

Possible starters are frosh Denny Sarver, fleet halfback; Tim Campbell, halfback; Terry Kent, end; Bill Wall, tackle; Howard Stroebel, tackle; Bob Harriman, guard; and John Hinds, center.

Only injury on the squad of any consequence is that of Dale Greenlee, regular tackle, who will probably see little action. He suffered a head concussion earlier in the season.

At quarterback either Keith Driver or Benny Holt will get the starting nod. Sophomore Driver started at the post in last week's win over Pacific.

The squad will leave Salem early Saturday afternoon by bus for the 1:30 p.m. Portland tussle. Ogdahl says his lads are bursting with energy and spirit and promise a fight to the finish for the strong Pioneers, favorites to take the NWC crown.

Possible Bearcat starting lineup is ends Kent and Vic Backlund; tackles Wall and Stroebel; guards Harriman and Dennis Mihn; center John Hinds; quarterback, Holt or Driver; halfbacks Sarver and Windy Sequera; fullback Chuck Koani.

Crucial Tilts Dot Schedule

By AL LIGHTNER
Statesman Sports Editor

The high school footballers of the area are up 'n at 'em again Friday, and some of the games openly bare the crucial tag for those outfits pressing toward league and district championships.

In District 8-A-1 action the winless North Salem Vikings take on the ditto Bend Lava Bears here, but the South Salem Saxons, still in the running for the title, have an important date at Lebanon Sweet Home in at Corvallis, and a win for the Spartans will haul them into a first place tie with Albany. The Bulldogs play a non-counter with highly ranked Eugene, at Albany.

The Silverton Foxes, out in front of the Capital Conference romp, play host to the Cascade Cougars Friday night, while the Serra Sabers are at Mt. Angel. Gervais at North Marion and Woodburn at Stayton. Silverton, Serra, North Marion and Stayton loom as winners.

Central Hi's Panthers, the class of the Willamette Valley League, take on defending champion Dallas Friday night at Central in the loop's feature game this week. Molalla is at Estacada and Sandy at Canby for the other games.

Sheridan Eyes Win

In the Yawama League, Sheridan can go into a first place tie with Willamina if the Spartans can spill the Sherwood Bowman Friday night at Sherwood. But the Bowman are also unbeaten in league play. Willamina leads this (Continued page 25, col. 2)

Viks Crippled; Saxons Sharp

A crippled North Salem High grid team will meet Bend here this week, while South Salem's Saxons, pronounced in good shape by their coach, meet Lebanon's surprising Warriors at Lebanon.

Coach Mel Fox of the Vikings said last night that five of his regulars are doubtful participants in the Friday game. They are Jerry Gillman, guard, suffering from a leg injury; Val Barnes, halfback, shoulder injury; Jim Reimann, center, ankle injury; Gary Kanz, end, cut arm, and fullback Don Harris, flu.

Probable Starters

Probable starters in their place, added Fox, are Dean Posvar for Gillman; Mike Patton or Jim McCaffery for Barnes; Herb Graves for Harris; Larry Kay for brother Gary; Leonard Hayes for Reimann.

All of the injured players were mugged up in last week's game with Lebanon, a 6-6 tie. In addition, Mike Kelley, regular Vik quarterback, will see limited action (Continued page 24, col. 6)

Landy Quits Games Trial

MELBOURNE, Oct. 10 (AP)—John Landy, Australia's reluctant racer who has run six of the world's ten fastest miles, pulled out of the Olympic 5,000 meters tryout today and indicated he might not run in the trials at all.

The world mile record holder said his injured ankles would prevent his running in the 5,000 Saturday and that it would be a "miracle" if he could run the 1,500 meters trial a week later.

Landy doesn't have to worry about making the Australian Olympic team, however. He has been assured by the selectors that he could reach the team without running in the trials. His concern now is getting into shape to run in the Olympic games here Nov. 22-Dec. 8.

Ducks, OSC Toss Passes

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Oregon football team practiced in the rain today, the reserves running Washington split-T plays against Oregon's defense in a rugged scrimmage.

The reserves completed several long passes but the running game largely was stopped short. Coach Len Casanova finished off the afternoon with an offensive workout with light blocking and no tackling.

Oregon plans more defensive work tomorrow and will fly to Seattle Friday afternoon, arriving in time for a brief practice at the University of Washington stadium. The teams meet Saturday afternoon in a Pacific Coast Conference game.

OSC Tailbacks Throw

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 10 (AP)—Coach Tommy Prothro used his two single-wing tailbacks as T-formation passers today as the Oregon State football team worked on pass defense against University of California patterns.

The teams play here Saturday in a Pacific Coast Conference game, the first conference test for California after three inter-sectionals. Oregon State has lost its only other PCC game this season.

Tailbacks Joe Francis and Paul Lowe spent much of the afternoon tossing passes. Prothro said a number of sophomores are battling more experienced regulars for first-line positions.

Partnership Plan Discussed . . . Move Begins to Save Senators Baseball Club

By AL LIGHTNER
Statesman Sports Editor

An enthusiastic group of 26 citizens last night met at the Senator Hotel to discuss ways and means of saving the Salem Senators Baseball Club from approaching oblivion, and left the two-hour session fully convinced that the project can be achieved.

Frank Graham, head man of the Eugene Emeralds operation explained in full detail the partnership plan employed by his organization, and it was agreed by all that such a plan, if in effect here, would be the answer to the current operating problems at Waters Field.

The plan simply amounts to this: A number of men form a partnership which agrees to underwrite any and all loss sustained by the operation of the ball club each year. Twenty-eight men formed the Eugene partnership in 1955 and 41 were enjoined this last season. Some had as little as one per cent of the partnership, others as much as 20 per cent.

Successful Drives

Graham also explained how Eugene went about selling season tickets to the Emeralds games, pointing out that a great many "salesmen" worked at it rather than just a few. Hence the successful both years the Emeralds have been in the Northwest League.

It was agreed by those present, which included the entire Senators board of directors, that such a partnership plan be drafted here, and presented to the stockholders during their forthcoming meeting. Elmer Berg, president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce who was in charge of last night's meeting said he would convene with Mayor Bob White and Senators president George Paulus to appoint a citizens committee and chairman to draw up the partnership plan and present it.

The annual stockholders meeting, incidentally, has been postponed indefinitely. The session was slated for Tuesday, October 16, but a new meeting date will be announced by Paulus later. Time is needed to formulate the partnership plan properly.

Under such a plan the present corporation would stand as is, with directors, etc. It would rent Waters Field to the partnership and work out other details.

Offer to Serve

Those who offered to serve on the citizens committee last night were Berg, Rex Adolph, Morry Cohn, E. C. Charlton, Dave Hoss, Al Lightner, Bob Ebersole, Bill Dyer, Clayton Foreman and Oscar Enger.

The 1956 Senators operation lost $15,007.28, it was reported. This does not include a park depreciation (Continued page 25, col. 1)

Overnight Stay In Salem Slated By Cal Eleven

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 10 (AP)—Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf announced California's starting lineup tonight for Saturday's football game against Oregon State but he's undecided about his quarterback.

He said either Joe Contestable or Joe Kapp will start. For the rest, Frank Mattarocci will be at center, Remo Jacuzzi and Don Gilkey at guards, Proverb Jacobs and Harley Martin at tackles, Bill Valentin and Norm Becker, the man leads the nation in catching with 15, at ends, Nat Brazill and Darrell Roberts at halfbacks and Herb Jackson at fullback.

The bears will fly to Salem and stay overnight Friday. They will reach Corvallis Saturday.

Jon Arnett Tops Runners in PCC

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (Special)—Jon Arnett, Southern California halfback, has taken over the rushing lead in the Pacific Coast Conference from his teammate, C. R. Roberts, and ranks second in total offense to Stanford's John Brodie, statistics from the PCC Commissioner's office disclosed today.

Arnett has gained 351 yards rushing and an average of 6.8 yards per play in his first three games to top Roberts' 312 yards. Charles Morrell, Washington State, and Jack Morris, Oregon, each have 224.

Arnett does not rank among the top passers on completions but has pitched for 124 yards which gives him 475 yards total offense. Brodie has 341 yards, all but six from passes. Each has been responsible for scoring five touchdowns. Swinton (Bunny) Aldrich, Washington State, is third with 383 yards.

Brodie has completed 48 of 78 pass attempts for 61.3 per cent and 535 yards, with five having gone for touchdowns. He has had five intercepted. Aldrich has completed 28 passes and teammate Bob Newman 25.

Norm Becker, California, leads in pass receptions with 15 for 193 yards and two touchdowns, while teammate Darrell Roberts, Stanford's Paul Camera and Dick Wallen of UCLA have caught 10 each. Jack Brown of Oregon has intercepted the most passes, two.

Top punter is Southern California's Zampese, whose expert quick-kicking has given him an average of 52.2 yards per punt. Howard Willis, Idaho, has averaged 42.3 and Dick Day, Washington, 41.8.

Bob Herring, Washington, has the most yards on punt returns, 97, and a 19.4 yard average, followed by LeRoy Phelps, Oregon, 62 yards, and Lou Vall, Stanford, 61. Larry Norby, Idaho, has returned kickoff 99 yards for a 24.8 yard average, while Louis Elias, UCLA, has 35 yards and Dave Jones, WSC, 88.

Arnett leads in scoring with 29 points to 19 for Dean Derby, Washington.

Electronic Grid Game Due to Stay?

By AL LIGHTNER
Statesman Sports Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Like the guided missile, electronic-steered football may be here to stay.

George Halas, the Papa Bear of the Chicago Bears and a patriarch of the National Football League, commented today "we just can't ignore" the wired-for-sound fad which has struck the play-for-pay grid circuit.

The enterprising Paul Brown, masterful coach of the Cleveland Browns, started the whole thing several months ago by trying a high frequency radio to communicate with his quarterbacks.

That didn't work so well, not with the Brown quarterbacks having a one-pound receiver tucked in their helmets and a lot of squawking interference.

But since then, a new wireless system has been peddled by an electronics firm (Philo) to the National Football League and the gimmick is catching on. It's a sort of high-gear aid needing a tiny 1-ounce receiver for messages from press box spot-ters.

The Chicago Cardinals, only unbeaten league team (2-0), used it in beating the Browns and New York Giants. Now the Giants, Detroit Lions and Bears are ready to try it and most of the others are interested.

Swaps Snaps Bone in Leg

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—A veterinarian said today that Swaps, the speedy California racehorse, had received two linear fractures midway of the cannon bone on his left leg but there was "a good possibility" the colt would race again.

Dr. George R. Palmer, Jr., and trainer Meshach Tenney examined additional X-rays today.

Gloomy Alston Lauds Yankees

By TED SMITS

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—"They beat the hell out of us," said Walter Alston sadly in his little office a few minutes after the last out of the last game of the 1956 World Series.

"But all I want to say is that this club worked like dogs all year long," the Brooklyn Dodger manager went on.

"They battled from behind. They did a wonderful job as far as I am concerned. They fought the Yankees right down to the seventh game."

Then he paid tribute to manager Casey Stengel and his victorious American League team.

"Casey did a good job—and they got some hitting."

The inevitable question came up—how about Don Newcombe, the big 27 game winner during the season who has yet to win a series game and was shelled from the mound in the fourth?

"Newk had as good stuff as I have ever seen him show," said (Continued page 24, col. 3)

Webb Defeats Cotton in 10

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Spider Webb of Chicago, 10th ranking middleweight contender, defeated Charlie Cotton of Toledo in a Chicago Stadium 10 round bout tonight to gain his 18th straight victory.

Webb, who outweighed his opponent 156 pounds to 154, finished strongly in the last two rounds of the nationally televised bout for unanimous decision.

The International Boxing Club plans to match Webb with Joey Giardello in Chicago Stadium on Nov. 14. Cotton scored two successive victories over Giardello in New York last May.

Judges Spike McAdams and Harold Marovitz each scored tonight's bout 48-43. Referee Frank Sikora had it 48-42. The Associated Press had Webb in front 49-45.
