High Court Cites Commie Aims in Rejecting Appeal For Practice by Attorney

Frank Victor Patterson, Portland, lost his appeal to practice law in Oregon Wednesday when the State Supreme Court ruled against him.
Justice Hall S. Lusk wrote the

Federal Aid For Columbia Bridge Studied

The Secretary of Commerce, through the Bureau of Public Roads, has been requested jointly by the highway departments of Washington and Oregon to investigate the possibility of financing the $14,500,000 Columbia River interstate bridge project between Portland and Vancouver, Wash., from interstate funds under the new federal highway program.
Oregon state highway engineer W. C. Williams said such a program would eliminate the necessity of imposing tolls.
Williams said the present plan of financing was determined in 1935 before the enlarged highway bill was enacted and at a time when funds available were totally inadequate to meet the costs of the new bridge construction from current revenues of the two states.
Bonds in the amount of slightly more than $9,000,000 have been sold, a contract has been awarded the bridge, and work is underway.

"He did not in our opinion tell the truth either to the board of bar examiners or in his testimony before the panel of judges about the real character and aims of the Communist party and his belief in them. That alone is sufficient to support the finding that he is not within the meaning of our statute a person of good moral character and as such entitled to admission as an attorney."

'Ike Day' in State Named By Governor

Gov. Elmo Smith Wednesday designated this Saturday as Ike Day in Oregon "as a means of calling special attention to the responsibility of good Americans to vote, regardless of party."
The day is being observed nationally in tribute to President Eisenhower's 66th birthday which falls on Sunday, Oct. 14.
Gov. Smith pointed out that the National Ike Day committee has taken public service as its theme for the day.
"The right and responsibility to vote is one of the most basic personal expressions of public service for American citizens," Gov. Smith averred.
"Citizens of Oregon will want to pay tribute to him for his dedication to our nation and for the example he has set for devotion to God, family and his fellow man," the Governor said.

Harry Levy Rites Today

Services for Harry M. Levy, prominent Salem resident who died Tuesday, will be held today at 1:30 p. m. in the Virgil T. Golden Chapel.
Ritualistic services will be held by Salem Lodge No. 4, A.F.&M.
The panel also found against Patterson.

State Traffic Death Toll Up This Year

Oregon's traffic death toll in the first nine months this year totaled 305, or 10 more than in the same period of last year. The State Traffic Safety division reported Wednesday.

State Delays Hearing on Auction Yard

An administrative hearing by the State Agriculture Department against a Salem livestock auction yard owner as to why his license should not be suspended or revoked, was postponed Wednesday.
The hearing was delayed at the request of Earl Gillaspie, owner of Gillaspie's Livestock Auction Yards, 1615 S. 25th St. New date for the hearing is Oct. 24.
