Town, Country Church Confab Scheduled Next Week on OSC Campus

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman
CORVALLIS, Oct. 11 — Spot-lighting the need for local churches to learn more about their surrounding communities, Oregon's 10th annual Town and Country Church conference will open here Monday at Oregon State College. Theme of this year's public interdenominational conference is "Knowing the Community."
The theme will be carried out in the program which will revolve around reports on three sociologi-

200 Delegates Here for Youth Conference

First Methodist Church will be host this weekend to some 200 youth delegates and counselors at the annual "President's Palace" sponsored by the Methodist Oregon Conference Board of Education.
The featured speaker at the conference will be the Rev. Craig Harper, newly appointed director of youth activities for the Oregon Conference. He will speak following the banquet this evening.
The conference is a training session for local M.Y.F. presidents and vice presidents and adult youth workers. The program for today is set up in workshop areas with emphasis on Christians Witness, Missions, MYF Fund, Fellowship and plans for the local MYF councils.
The conference started last evening with a supper at the church followed by a get-acquainted period, singing and a worship service in the sanctuary. The conference concludes on Sunday morning with an 8 o'clock communion service, and the delegates attending the 9:30 worship service at the church.
Arranging for the conference are Charles Foster, conference M.Y.F. president, Carolyn Showalter and Jim Friday of Willamette University. Marcia Humphrey and Beverly Fulton of First Methodist M.Y.F.

Congregation Plans Dinner For Sunday

SILVERTON, Oct. 12 — Dale Moore, junior at Northwest Christian College, Eugene, will be so-just at First Christian church Sunday at Silvertown. Following the worship hour the monthly fellowship dinner will be held with the quarterly business meeting of the congregation after the dinner.
A Parent-Teacher coffee fellowship has been planned for Calvary Lutheran Church Sunday school at 4 p.m. Sunday in the church social rooms. The junior class will present the program and all congregation members are invited to attend.
Fellowship dinner will follow the morning services at Trinity Lutheran.
The Rev. H. G. Randolph, chaplain of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Portland will conduct services at Immanuel Lutheran Church Sunday.

Men to Use Hunting Theme

Men of First Baptist Church of Salem will sponsor a program centered around big game hunting in Africa on Tuesday evening, October 16, in the church. The Rev. Ben Owen, who spent four years in Ethiopia and surrounding territories, will show pictures taken in the big game section of the African continent, and will speak regarding the big game hunt. The dinner meeting will be scheduled at 6:30 p.m.
Guest speaker at the High School youth service at the church on Sunday will be Mr. Charles Weinberg who will leave shortly for Tokyo, Japan, where he will teach at the Japanese Christian Academy in that city.
Pastor Lloyd T. Anderson will address both the morning and evening congregations of the church on Sunday.

Homecoming Service Planned

OAK GROVE, Oct. 12—The Rev. Melville T. Wire, pastor, has announced a homecoming church service at 11 a.m. Sunday at Oak Grove Methodist Chapel. A covered-dish dinner will follow in the grange hall.
The message will be given by the Rev. Clark E. Zinz of Oregon City, former pastor at the church.
