WHAT IS INFLATION?

One cause of inflation is a much greater increase in the quantity money in circulation relative to the increase in the volume of goods and services. This forces the price level upwards. Price indexes for a period of years show that there have been great fluctuations in the value of money in practically every country. When the purchasing power of the dollar has decreased too much, injury has been done to the investors and creditors as a group. KINDS OF INFLATION

The tragedy of inflation is the loss of purchasing power on the part of those who have been the most thrifty in saving money and building up assets and income for a rainy day. These are the holders of bonds and preferred stocks, the holders of insurance annullie and those who have amassed large cash assets. It is characteristic of inflation that the time required for it to take hold is much longer than most people imagine. The most dangerous period is usually when must be remembered that today we have a 52-cent dollar and that the cost of living is still going up. It is quite possible that within the next ten years prices may be much higher than they are today.

Ever since the inception of our national government, money and its value has been a concern of various administrations. It is one of our major problems at the present time.
