

N. Salem, Bulldogs Tie, 13-13

By BOB SCHWARTZ
Statesman Sports Writer

ALBANY, Oct. 26 (Special)—A fighting band of underdog North Salem Vikings battled a highly favored Albany Bulldog team to a 13 to 13 tie in a District 8A-1 clash tonight at Memorial Stadium in Albany.

The Viks, although outgained, out first downed and outwitted, scared the molekisks right off the Albany backers by going ahead in the last period with a 16 yard romp by Herb Graves.

Albany scored first when John Wilson loosed a screen pass to Pat Emmons who then rambled 33 yards for the TD. Emmons' kick for the extra point was good and the Bulldogs led 7 to 0 with one minute left in the first quarter.

Salem hit paydirt when Mike Patton took Emmons' punt on his own 23 and, after kicking it around, streaked down the left sideline for 77 yards and the score Patton had fine downfield blocking on his jaunt. Bob Reeves' drop kick for the extra point was good and the Bulldogs led 7 to 0 with one minute left in the first quarter.

WU, Linfield Slate NW Battle Tonight; Holt Directs 'Cats

The battle for second place in the Northwest Conference comes to a lead tonight at 8 o'clock when the Willamette Bearcats entertain the Linfield Wildcats at McCulloch Stadium. At present, Coach Ted Ogdahl's Bearcats hold an edge with a 2-1 conference record, compared to Linfield's 1-1 mark.

Ogdahl announced last night that there was a good chance that the Bearcats would be minus quarterback Keith Driver, who is suffering from a skin infection. Driver, the sophomore from North Marion, led the Bearcats to a 13-7 victory last week over College of Idaho. Because alternate quarterback Benny Holt was sick, Driver had to play on both platoons of the WU two-rotation system.

Things will be reversed tonight. Ogdahl said that Holt will call all plays unless injured. If needed, freshman Tom Weston of Beaver-ton will replace Holt.

Only loss of the season suffered by Linfield was a 19-17 squeaker to Lewis and Clark, the NWC leader. Linfield has the conference's leading passer, Ron Parrish the sixth leading ground gainer in Bob Flood, and a line which held nationally-ranked George Sullivan of Whitman to 58 yards, well below his average of 133.

Willamette held only a short workout yesterday during which the team sharpened its timing on offensive plays.

Besides Holt, the starting Willamette backfield will have Windy Sequera and Earl Jambura at halfbacks and Denny Sarver at fullback. The second unit of the platoon system will have Holt again plus Dale Shumway and Tim Campbell at halfbacks and Chuck Koani at fullback.

Prineville fans will fill their share of seats at McCulloch Stadium tonight. The city has ordered 200 tickets held for them. Big reason for this is because Linfield's Parrish is a Prineville boy—but so is Willamette's Shumway and he has the ability to provide hometown fans plenty of thrills if Linfield ever for a second lets him break away.

Santiam Bows To Jefferson

JEFFERSON, Oct. 26 (Special)—The Jefferson Lions continued on their undefeated way as they rolled to a 19-0 win over the Santiam Wolverines.

Ron Sims opened the Lion scoring in the first period on an eighty-yard plunge to climax a Jefferson drive. Frank Marlett added the extra point, and Sims kicked the second TD with a six-yard run. Final Jefferson score came on a 15-yard romp by Dave Hart.

Jefferson led in first downs 8 to 5. The game was played on a muddy field in a cold, driving rain and was marred by a number of extra points.

Eagles Roll Over Mt. Angel, 32-0

STAYTON (Special)—Stayton scoring was confined to the first and last periods but it was enough to give the Eagles a 32 to 0 win over Mt. Angel in a Capital Conference game tonight.

Two spectacular plays opened the Stayton scoring. Dick Garland slanting off tackle for 72 yards and Marlyn Sheldon returning a punt for 80 and a TD. Bob Rogers converted after the second touchdown and Dale Horrook wrapped up the period scoring with a six yard tackle smash.

In the final stanza Jim Morgan scored on a 12 yard thrust and Kenny Ware passed to Pete Brusasco for 10 yards with Morgan kicking the extra point.

Wolves, Raiders Clash In Crucial OCC Battle

OREGON COLLEGE, Monmouth, Oct. 26 (Special)—The Southern Oregon Red Raiders and Oregon College Wolves, both aspiring to stay alive in the Oregon Collegiate Conference football race, clash here tomorrow night at eight o'clock in a game that will see the loser tumble from the chase.

Coach Al Atkins' Raiders, a big and powerful team with the nation's No. 1 small college passer at the helm, will be favored to beat Bill McArthur's Wolfpack. But it may not be easy, as the Wolves last week toppled Portland State in an upset, and are primed to add another this week.

Bill Seymour, 190-pounder, is the sharpshooting SOCE quarterback, and his favorite targets are 195-pound Larry Schweinfurt and 185-pound Norm Hedgpath, both ends

The three important college football games in this area Saturday will find this group of aerialists in action if the forward pass is necessary. From left to right are Linfield's Ron Parrish and Willamette's Benny Holt, who tangle in McCulloch Stadium (8 p.m.); Don Long, brilliant UCLA sophomore who has completed better than 50 per cent of his casts for Red Sand-

Podres Gets Medical Discharge From Navy

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Oct. 26 (Special)—Johnny Podres, the brash young left-hander who was Brooklyn's pitching hero in the 1955 World Series, received a medical discharge from the Navy today, seven months after his induction.

A three-man board of medical survey found Podres, 24, physically unfit for further military service because of a back ailment—a form of arthritis of the spinal column—from which he has suffered for years.

He was reported tonight to have left Portsmouth—presumably, though this could not be confirmed, from his home in Witherbe, N.Y.

Podres' release was greeted with jubilation by Brooklyn vice president Buzze Bavasi, only team official who did not accompany the National League champions on their tour of Japan.

"All I hope is that the injury isn't any worse than when we went in," said Bavasi. "I plan to talk to him at the beginning of next week—maybe Monday—and I'll find out if he'd like to play winter ball."

"I know it's too late for him to take the trip to Japan, because I figure it will take at least a couple of weeks for him to get in any kind of condition . . . but I would like to get him a spot in the Puerto Rican Winter League where he can pitch once a week and we can keep track of his progress."

Stopped Yanks Twice

The back trouble that led to Podres' discharge this afternoon plagued him throughout the 1955 National League season but didn't subtract from his effectiveness in the World Series that fall. Twice, as the Dodgers won their first world championship, Podres stopped the New York Yankees—first by 8-3 in the third game, after the Yanks had won the first two, and then 2-0 in the decisive seventh game with a crafty eight-hitter.

Originally classified 4-F for the draft in 1952, Podres was reclassified 1-A by his draft board in Tidewater, N. Y., last December.

He reported to Brooklyn at the Dodger spring training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., last February but was inducted into the Navy March 19. He was sent to the Bainbridge, Md., naval center for basic training, then to the Norfolk, Va., naval station.

Podres pitched for the Norfolk navy tars during the past summer and seemingly was handicapped by his back ailment, which Navy doctors identified as spondylitis, a form of arthritis affecting the spine.

On Sept. 19, however, he was called to the Naval hospital here for treatment.

Bahama KO's Gonzalez in 3

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Yama Bahama, a sharp shooting kid from Bimini in the Bahama Islands stopped Tony (Coco) Gonzalez of East Orange, N.J., on a technical knockout in 59 seconds of the third round tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Bahama weighed 153½, Gonzalez 159 pounds.

The end came suddenly after two slow rounds in which Bahama, whose real name is William Butler, concentrated on setting up Gonzalez with his fine jab.

A smashing right to the jaw dropped Tex early in the third. He got up slowly and just beat the count as he wobbled away from the referee toward a neutral corner.

Chasing him without a letup, Bahama slammed both hands at the dazed Gonzalez. A final attack sent Tex sprawling on the ring apron, draped over the bottom rope. Referee Rudy Goldstein wisely halted matters and awarded the TKO to Bahama, the 2 to 1 favorite.

Later Goldstein ruled it was a knockout under a new interpretation of the rules which permits the referee to make a decision if, in his judgment, a fighter would be unable to continue.

Horses to Run Richest Race

CAMDEN, N.J., Oct. 26 (Special)—Nineteen names were dropped into the entry box today at $1,000 apiece for the $300,000-plus Garden State Stakes, a modern version of the Goldrush to be staged tomorrow at Garden State Park.

Bold Ruler, speedy-dark bay beauty owned by the Wheatley stable of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, is the favorite in the mile and one-sixteenth cavalry charge for 2-year-olds.

Lady Luck smiled on Bold Ruler in the world's richest horse race, for in the draw for post positions the son of Nasrullah got the No. 1 rail spot. This brought an immediate drop in odds from 2 to 1 to 8 to 5 on the Belmont Futurity winner.

Record Race Price

With 19 going to the post, and paying an additional $1,000 to start the race, the Garden State purse will reach a record $319,210. The gross value to the winner with no deductions for nonmatinee or starting fees will be $189,565.50.

Section champions from coast to coast are in the star-studded lineup, and the expected crowd of some 40,000 may see next year's Kentucky Derby hero in action. The race will be televised (CBS) with radio (NBC) monitor and post time is 4:05 p. m. (CST).

There are three two-horse entries in the glitter gallop, the Calumet Farm's Barbizon and Iron Liege, the Mrs. Ada L. Rice pair of Buddy and Take Note, and Nashville and Blue Spruce, from the Langdon Farm of Liz Whitney Lunn.

Sublimity Bows William and Mary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (Special)—George Washington, pushed all over Griffith's Stadium mud in the last half, barely managed to hold onto an early lead and beat out William and Mary tonight, 16-14, to rise to the top of the Southern Conference football standings.

The Colonials shot ahead on a 16-point second quarter and that proved just enough margin to preserve their undefeated record.

Bobby Epps Back With Grid Giants

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (Special)—Bobby Epps, the New York Giants starting fullback last season, rejoined the National Football League club today but he will not play Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles at Yankee Stadium.

Epps was discharged from the Army Wednesday having completed six months active service. He is a reserve second lieutenant.

Pitt Panthers To Test Ducks Before 35,000

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (Special)—The University of Pittsburgh Panthers, rated an improved team by Coach Johnny Michelosen, meet the University of Oregon Webtoons in an intercollegiate football game at Pitt Stadium tomorrow.

Michelosen says his team "has better timing as a whole and the boys are working better together."

Commenting on Oregon, Michelosen said:

Pitt Panthers To Test Ducks Before 35,000

Line Smaller, Faster

"Their line is smaller than any of the ones we've faced so far, so it's probably faster too."

Some 35,000 spectators, including 7,500 high school pupils and 20 high school bands, are expected for the contest, which the weatherman says will be played in clear and cool weather.

Pitt enters the game with a 3-1 record, its only loss a 14-0 upset at the hands of California. Oregon has a less impressive 2-3 record.

Casanova Homecoming

The game will be a homecoming of sorts for Oregon Coach Len Casanova. He coached the Panthers in 1950. Len put his speedy team through a workout at the stadium today—minus the services of quarterback Jack Crabtree, standout passer who had to remain on the west coast with a twisted knee.

Pitt's left tackle, Bob Pollock, has a twisted ankle that will prevent him from starting and may keep him out of action altogether.

Weightlifters Slate Finals

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 26 (Special)—Paul Anderson, 23-year-old Georgian often hailed as the strongest man in the world, leads 22 American weightlifters into final trials for the U. S. Olympic team tomorrow.

The 340-pound strongboy, holder of all world heavyweight records, is seeking his third Olympic crown. He's heavily favored over defending Olympic champion John Davis of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Jim Bradford of Washington, D. C.

Anderson jerked a record 457 pounds during a recent tour of the Soviet Union, a feat that earned him the accolade, "Eighth Wonder of the World" from the Russians. American rivals have dubbed him the "Humphrey" Pennyworth of Weight Lifting.

Two team berths already have been filed by featherweight Isaac Berger and bantamweight Chuck Vinci, both of York, Pa. They are the only entrants in their respective classes.

Sooners - Irish Rate Top Clash; Others Play Bowl Deciders

By HUGH FULLERTIN JR.
The Associated Press

About this time of the season college football players and coaches begin dreaming of roses, cotton and oranges and of games to be played more than two months hence. And some of today's games may determine the teams that will be playing in those New Year's Day bowl games.

But the one that is attracting the most attention brings together a team that can't go to a bowl this season and one that wouldn't if it could—Oklahoma and Notre Dame. Oklahoma, seeking its 35th consecutive victory in a record string and the top national rating it lost to Michigan State last weekend, is barred from the Orange Bowl by the Big Seven rule stating a team can't go two years in succession.

Sooner Strong Club

Otherwise the Sooners would be a cinch. They've outclassed two conference foes and likely will outclass the rest. Although this is the perfect setup for an upset, it's hard to imagine them losing to a battered Notre Dame team that may not have the services of Paul Hornung at quarterback.

Hornung has been troubled by a painful dislocated thumb and coach Terry Brennan says he'll wait until game time before deciding whether to start Paul at quarter or shift him to half.

Oklahoma's ineptibility lends considerable importance to the clash between Colorado, the Big Seven leader, and Nebraska, the kind of team which could make trouble for the Buffaloes. If Colorado (3-0) wins today, it only needs to get past Missouri to earn the bowl bid.

Pitt enters the game with a 3-1 record, its only loss a 14-0 upset at the hands of California. Oregon has a less impressive 2-3 record.

Rose Bowl Hopes Ride On Outcome

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 26 (Special)—Oregon State will get its chance tomorrow to edge ahead in the Pacific Coast Conference race for the Rose Bowl.

It will take an Oregon State victory over UCLA here combined with a Southern California victory over Stanford at Palo Alto to put the Oregonians in front, but that result is just possible.

The Staters worked hard, and occasionally in secret, this week to prepare a trap to end UCLA's string of 19 coast conference wins. Second Last Year

Coach Tommy Prothro, who was again guided by his team to a second-place finish behind UCLA last season, and is aiming to even the score for last year's 33-0 loss at the hands of his former boss, Red Sanders.

Prothro says his team is stronger than last year, and UCLA's offense is weaker. Oregon State will be at full strength except at blocking back, where Ted Searle will be missing. He broke an ankle against Washington State last weekend. Reserves Gerry Laird and Gary Lukehart are ready there, along with Frank Negri, switched from end to add strength in the backfield.

Scenes Favor UCLA

Comparative scenes would indicate UCLA is about one touchdown better than Oregon State, but the Staters will have the incentive of playing on their home field before a Homecoming Day crowd. UCLA (Cont. page 16, col. 6)

Troy Tackles Indians Today

PAALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 27 (Special)—Southern California's hard-driving Trojans battle the passing Stanford Indians tomorrow before a crowd expected to be the largest to watch the two play here since 1929.

Generally clear weather was forecast. Rain could have hurt the Indians' hopes of winning via the passing of quarterback John Brodie. Southern California's running game, featuring halfback Jon Arnett and fullback C. R. Roberts, wouldn't find wet weather so damaging.

A crowd from 65,000 to 75,000 is anticipated, the largest for a USC-Stanford game here since an afternoon 27 years ago when 90,000 showed up.

Trojans Want Win

There's little doubt that USC coach Jess Hill, the players, fans and alumni want to win this one big. USC ran afoul of Pacific Coast Conference penalties that put the school on probation and rendered it ineligible for the official championship or the Rose Bowl bid.

The Indians rank as favorites for the trip to Pasadena and Trojan fans have not forgotten that Stanford President J. Wallace Starling cast the only vote against easing ineligibility penalties.

By an 8-1 vote the penalties were moderated, so seniors involved in illegal pay cases could play five more games. Arnett, the leading rusher in the conference, heads a list of seven USC seniors who must wind up their collegiate careers tomorrow.

They could do it on an undefeated and untied note with a victory over Stanford. In four games to date they have beaten Texas, Oregon State, Wisconsin and Washington.

Stanford has won its two conference games, against Washington State and Oregon plus one against independent San Jose State. They lost to both Michigan State and Ohio State of the Big Ten.

Judge Orders Court Hearing

DETROIT, Oct. 26 (Special)—Circuit Judge James A. Moynihan ordered the American Power Boat Assn. today to "present your witnesses before this court for a hearing on its merits" of a suit brought by Detroit Horace Dodge to have the 1956 Gold Cup Race declared "no contest."

No trial date was set, but Judge Moynihan told Bert Robb, APBA attorney, to have his witnesses ready "as early as possible, adding:

"The defendant's (APBA) in this suit have not shown their respect for this court and its interest to settle the matter. Therefore, I order you to present your witnesses before this court for a hearing on its merits."

Jurisdiction Questioned

The APBA has insisted Judge Moynihan's court lacks jurisdiction to rule on the race.

Dodge filed the suit after his speedboat, My Sweetie Dora, had been "bumped" from the Gold Cup qualifiers by boats allowed to qualify the day of the big race, Sept. 1. Dodge said under Gold Cup rules qualifying runs on the day of the race were prohibited. Only the 12 boats with the fastest qualifying times got into the three-hour race.

The APBA didn't come up with a Gold Cup winner until yesterday—55 days after the disputed race was run.

It gave the cup to Miss Thriftway of Seattle, which finished first in the deciding heat but was disqualified by the committee supervising the race. The committee then named Miss Pepsi of Detroit as winner.
