And no doubl but what some of the visiting of grads will pause to look back on the long and att-fluctrious career the school has had in football. Many have been the Bearcat grid greats and near-greats of the past. Perhaps you'd like to be reminded of some, and of a few other incidents that can to-day be found in dusty files and in the tremendous memory of in the tremendous memory of Pref. Les Sparks who has been a prominent figure in WU athletics for over 30 years. Let's have a leck: It begen in 1594 when Wil-lamette played its first football and had a first record of 1 win, 'est and 1 the. Five of these 'est and 1 ffe. Five of these games were against the Solem YMCA and the hest WU could do was a 6 to 6 lie. Their first and only outside game that year was against Pacific U., and the local boys won the only game of the reason, 18 to 4. Since the boys in these days were unawate of those days were unaware of the luxurious things as foothelmeis, we quote from the Mark Savage's bald spot was a of the all time greats for the Bearcais. John was All-Northwest Conference in 1932, '33, '34 and 1935. Oravec also was on the College All-Stars in 1935, He came back to help Spec coach in 1936 and 1937. John is still around town and works as a football official.

On the great 1935 feam were six Bearcais who made the Conference All-Star team. They scored 85 points and had but 6 scored against them in league play.

Willamette has been called by many, "The Little All-Aemircan School." In 1934 the first Little All-American team was picked and Loren Grannis, a guard for the Bearcats, was chosen. In '35 it was Oravec, and then Weisgerber in 1936 and Ellioit (Tootie) Becken in 1937. George Abbott made it in 1938 and Joe Holland in 1939. We skip a year and find the great guard Tony Fraiola on the squad in '41. The next and also the last was Mary Goodman, who made it in 1944. In 1940, Al Waldon and Fraiola were on the second team, as was Ogdahl in 1942.

In this brief summary of the WU football years we've no doubt overlooked many famous names and incidents. Such was not our intention. We are merely having a rather quick look back over the years, just as many of the Homecoming visitors will be doing this weekend.
