Dancers

Kovach and Rabovsky, who, with their ensemble of ballet dancers will appear at the Fine Arts Building on the Willamette Campus Thursday night. This is the first of the winter Distinguished Concert series.

Ballet to Open Willamette Series

The ballet team of Kovach and Rabovsky, will open the 1956-57 Willamette University distinguished artists series on Nov. 15 at 8:15 p.m. in the University Fine Arts Auditorium.

Kora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky, Russian-trained, Hungarian-born ballet dancers, made headlines when they escape from behind the Iron Curtain three years ago. Fleeing from East Germany during a ballet performance, the dance team then performed as guest artists with the Ballets de Paris and London's Festival Ballet, finally making their American debut on Ed Sullivan's television show. They have since danced on that program a number of occasions, appeared with the Festival Ballet on its American tour a year ago, and have just returned from an extensive tour with their ensemble through South America and Western Europe.

In addition to the Kovach and Rabovsky concert Nov. 15, the distinguished artists series will present Jose Iturbi, pianist, Dec. 13; Cesare Valletti, tenor, Jan. 24; and the Vienna Choir Boys March 8.

Tickets for the series may be purchased through Stevens and

North Salem Annual Fall Concert Nov. 16

North Salem High School's choral, instrumental and speech groups are working to present the seventh annual fall concert, Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. This year's theme, "Autumn Jubilee," is a variety show featuring everything in the fall season from football to a playette.

North's newly formed speech activities class, advised by Glen Smith, will perform for the first time in the yearly program by presenting the William Soroyan play, "The People with Light Coming Out of Them."

Three members of the speech group, Jan Van Someren, Jim Snell and Louis Parker, will also present an adapted version of the

Robert Frost poem, "The Death of the Hired Man."

North's acapella choir, directed by Howard F. Miller, will sing several appropriate numbers about Thanksgiving and a number of old Broadway hits will be sung by the Girls' Glee.

Marches and novelty numbers will be presented by North's band, led by Russell Wittmer and under the direction of Richard McClintic. The string orchestra will play concert music ranging from "Symphony in C" by Haydn to "Deep Purple."

Harmonettes to Perform
North's "Harmonettes," Helen Manke, Margaret Bolt and Darlene Goodman, will present an episode from a typical high school hayride. Denoting the fall social gatherings, Jan VanSomeren will perform several pantomimes.

Joy Brown, Louise Henderson, Jim Wright and Paul Dodson are working with the faculty advisers to plan the program. North's Stagecraft club will handle lighting and props.

Other committees are: Scenario, Louise Henderson, Steve Jackson, Louis Parker, Mike Youngquist, Richard Ronk and Bob Brown; tickets, Nancy Otto and Herb Shipman; programs, Steve Billings; and publicity, Mary Linda Doerfler and Dave Patch.

Tickets will go on sale Monday at Stevens and Son, jewelers, Meier and Frank's and at the North Salem High office. They will also be sold the evening of the program at the door. Proceeds
