Drop in County Dairy Cattle Noted

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman
Marion County folk should be greatly concerned over the number of dairy herds going out of production here in this county during the past two months. Ben A. Newell, Marion County agent, said Monday.

"The sale of dairy cattle herds and plans of owners to go out of production is serious, and should be the concern of everyone," Newell said, as he pointed out that during the past two months 350 herds have gone out of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing rolls, chiefly through the route of auction sales. This is a loss of seven herds. High feed costs and labor problems account for much of this reduction. Reduction will be felt October production of the 50 herds representing 2,315 cows was above September. Each cow averaged 33.2 pounds of butterfat and 732 pounds of milk. While production per cow has continuously increased in recent years, keeping the output rather steady, this will not continue—cannot continue—at the rate that dairy cows are going the market way, Newell insisted.

Rating highest production for the month in Marion County DHIA, Newell reported, was a Holstein cow owned by the State Prison farm. She made 825.5 pounds of fat and 21,686 pounds of milk during the 365-day period. C. J. Duda, Mt. Angel, was among the top group with another Holstein, that gave 18,750 pounds of milk and 740.5 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Frank Poepping's registered Guernsey, Sticker, gave 600.4 pounds of fat and 10,360 pounds of milk at the Poepping Mt. Angel Dairy Farm.

Phillips Rates Again
James Phillips, Silverton, who has been in the top running for the past few years, remained there this week, when his registered Jersey, Lorette, made 612.2 pounds of fat and 11,101 pounds of milk in 10 months. Another in-station cow, a registered Jersey at MacLaren, Woodburn, made 600 pounds of fat and 10,840 pounds of milk.

The Phillips herd, with 37 registered Jerseys topped all Marion County herds with 47.1 pounds of fat per cow and 817 pounds of milk for the past month. His was one of seven herds that averaged over 40 pounds for the month. Frank Graisinger, Gervais, with 72 registered Jerseys averaged 44.5 of fat and 782 of milk, while Felix Muller, Jefferson, with six registered Jerseys was third with 43.9 pounds of fat and 687 pounds of milk. The State Prison Farm herd was fourth. The 143 Guernsey and Holstein cows were milked three times a day and made 42.4 pounds of fat and 1186 pounds of milk.

—Also in the top running were C. J. Jorgenson, Jefferson, whose 25 milking Shorthorns averaged 41.9 pounds of fat and 1064 pounds of milk; James Dougherty, Woodburn, with 36 Jerseys, and Buf-ford and Orville Brown, Woodburn, with 57 Guernseys. Each of the two latter herds averaged 40 pounds of fat.
