

U.N. Truce Watchers Patrolling Suez Zone

By RONALD THOMSON
LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A team of 12 U. N. truce observers with white jeeps took up posts in the 600-yard wide no-man's-land in the Suez Canal zone today. They will keep tabs on the cease-fire between British-French and Egyptian forces pending arrival of the new U. N. police force.

Nasser insists that the international army have no duties in the Suez Canal zone, that British-French forces withdraw from Port Said immediately, and that the U. N. force be confined to policing the 1949 armistice line between Egypt and Israel.

Despite three days of top level planning, there still was no single field commander named for the U. N. force, composed of Norwegian, Danish, Canadian and Colombian troops.

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman served notice that France expected the police force to occupy "at least symbolically" the entire canal zone, not just the northern end held by the British and French.

By the account of the Middle East News Agency, Egypt's national news distributor, President

IT SEEMS TO ME
By Charles A. Sprague

The line forms on the left. As was expected, the public school interests are first and foremost in their request for additional state revenues. They got a boost from the interim committee on education Monday. It voted four to two to recommend a boost in the basic state school support from $50 to $120 per census child.

Another proposal to go to the Legislative Assembly with the recommendation of the committee is to create a $7,000,000 state fund for use in school construction among distressed districts.

Various proposals are also afloat with respect to district financing. The Portland school board, conscious of the problem its adjacent "bedroom" districts face for lack of valuation, proposes a county equalization arrangement.

Final awarding of the contract had been held up pending approval of the Salem school district's bonding program. Funds for the music wing were included in a $2,900,000 bond issue approved by the voters last February.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, discussing American foreign policy, said today "the real question is where do we go from here."

The Senate's Democratic leader added that "apparently we are still searching for a long-term policy and we will not be able to breathe easily until it is found."

He told a Capitol Hill news conference he considers the use of U. N. police forces in Egypt as only a temporary expedient to prevent the outbreak of large-scale war.

Concerning the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said: "NATO remains the best method by which the free nations of the North Atlantic community can

Family Car
By Wally Falk

"Of course not, he didn't make me a bit nervous."

Mentalist Wins $5,000 Bet

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 (AP)—Jack Swimmer, mentalist, holds paper listing his predictions of election outcome. The paper, dated Oct. 10, was taken from sealed box today. His figures were exactly the same as Associated Press results. He had posted $5,000 check that his figures would be accurate. (AP Wirephoto)

Election Predictions, Kept in Locked Box, Prove Accurate

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 (AP)—A mentalist won a $5,000 bet that he could forecast to the last digit the number of votes cast for President Eisenhower in the nation, California and Los Angeles County, the County Board of Supervisors said today.

Jack Swimmer on Oct. 10 posted a $5,000 check with the county Board of Supervisors to back his bet.

The money and secret prediction were kept by the county in a locked box until today.

Board Clerk Gordon Nesvig first unwrapped the small wooden box, unlocked it, then took out a smaller brass container. He unlocked the smaller box and from it took Swimmer's predictions.

The locked up figures were: National vote for Eisenhower, 33,974,281; California state, 2,875,637; Los Angeles County, 1,218,482.

The Los Angeles mentalist said he felt so good about his "small part" in getting out the vote that he was contributing the $5,000 to charity.

In Los Angeles Paper Swimmer and the supervisors agreed shortly before the box was opened that the figures to be used for comparison with those in the box would be from the 9 a. m. edition of the Los Angeles Times of Friday, Nov. 9. After the opening, the supervisors said Swimmer's figures agreed down to the last vote with the Associated Press tallies, as printed in the Times edition. The supervisors put up no money in the contest and stood only to gain $5,000 for charity.

Swimmer's figures were handwritten on a piece of paper taken from the box, which had been locked in the county treasurer's safe. He was at least four feet away from Nesvig when the clerk opened the box.

POWER OUTLOOK BRIGHT
PORTLAND, Nov. 13 (AP)—Bonnieville administrator William A. Pearl today told the Portland area Bonneville Regional Advisory Council that the Pacific Northwest's power outlook is bright through 1965.

public parks and playgrounds and on public golf links. This affirmation left no doubt that the Supreme Court was outlawing segregation on all bus systems. Earlier this year some question had arisen when the court simply dismissed an appeal from another decision overturning a South Carolina segregation law. That left the decision in effect but led to confusion—ended today—as to the Supreme Court's intent.

Negroes in Montgomery have conducted a long boycott of city buses as a protest against segregation. One of the things they resorted to was operation of a car pool to carry those who used to use the buses. Circuit Judge Eugene Carter today granted a temporary injunction to stop the Negroes car pool. However, a Negro leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., predicted the 11-month-old boycott of segregated buses will end at a Negro mass meeting tomorrow night, called as a result of the Supreme Court decision.

In neighboring Mississippi, Gov. J. P. Coleman said his state would continue to segregate Negroes and whites on public conveyances, despite the Supreme Court order. "Our attitude about the decision will be the same as about the school segregation cases," Coleman said.

The Oregon Statesman

FOUNDED 1851
106th Year 2 SECTIONS—16 PAGES
The Oregon Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Wednesday, November 14, 1956
PRICE 5c No. 232

Nehru, Ike to Confer

Talks Planned By Year's End In United States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower agreed today to meet Prime Minister Nehru of India before the end of the year to review Middle Eastern and other urgent world problems.

Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehra, disclosed that final arrangements for the conference, were completed this morning during a brief call on President Eisenhower at the White House.

Informed diplomats said mid-December seemed a likely date for the talks which originally were set for last July but postponed because of Eisenhower's intestinal operation.

Eisenhower's main aim, they said, will be to seek by personal diplomacy to improve strained relations with the Indian government. These relations recently have been jarred further by India's refusal to join in a U. N. denunciation of Russia's military onslaught against Hungary.

The prospects were that Eisenhower would meet Nehru either at his Gettysburg farm or at Camp David, the presidential mountain retreat in nearby Maryland. In inviting Nehru last July, Eisenhower had tentatively picked Camp David as the conference site, believing an informal conference, minus the usual big staff of advisers, offered the best hope of a better understanding with the Indian leader.

Negotiations for sale of Salem radio station KOCO to the Fisher family, operators of Oregon radio and television stations, were revealed Tuesday.

Application to the Federal Communications Commission seeking transfer of ownership from founder Loring Schmidt to Salem Broadcasting Co., was made in Salem Tuesday.

The new corporation would include Schmidt, C. O. Fisher of Eugene and his sisters, Jane Fisher of Eugene, and Mrs. Nancy Harrison of Roseburg.

Negotiations for sale of the station to a Salem group called the Kingwood Broadcasting Company, announced last July, had been discontinued, Schmidt said.

The Fishers involved in the new transaction are all children of Carl H. Fisher, whose recent request to activate Salem's choice television Channel 3, was denied by the Federal Communications Commission.

The Fishers now operate radio stations at Pendleton and Hood River, and radio-television interests at Eugene and Roseburg. C. C. Fisher, the son, is now president of radio KUGN in Eugene, and is state secretary of the Oregon State Broadcasters Association.

He and his father said Tuesday they planned to "extensively expand facilities and improve the services of KOCO," when they acquire ownership.

They said they expected the FCC to act on their application "within several weeks."

Doctors employed at the state mental and tuberculosis hospitals were granted emergency salary increases of $60 a month Tuesday by the state board of control.

Charles W. Terry, state civil service director, told the board that the increases were necessary in order to retain the doctors and to recruit new ones.

The new salaries, he said, will be comparable to those paid by California institutions, but below those paid in Washington state.

The pay raise affects 38 doctors at the State Hospital, Fairview Home and State Tuberculosis Hospital here and the two mental and TB hospitals in Eastern Oregon. They now receive between $275 and $915 a month, plus maintenance allowances.

To keep superintendents' salaries above the newly raised doctors' salaries, the board also voted to raise them by eliminating a $75 monthly subsistence charge now made against them.

Mansfield Backed For No. 2 Demo Post in Senate
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A move among Democratic senators to install Sen. Mansfield of Montana as their new "whip" won public support today from Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

The endorsement of Mansfield by Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, seemed to pretty well assure the Montanan of getting the No. 2 party post when the chamber convenes in January.

The whip is the leader's right hand man, working mostly behind the scenes to line up votes on pending bills but also pinch hitting in the top spot when the leader is absent.

Dag Seeking to Personally Take Relief to Budapest

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold disclosed tonight he has approached Communist Hungarian authorities on the possibility of his personally shepherding U. N. relief supplies into western Budapest.

Hammarskjold, who delayed a Middle East trip for 24 hours to concentrate on rushing U. N. supplies and representatives to Hungary, talked with Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath.

A U. N. spokesman said Hammarskjold offered to go personally to Budapest to get the U. N. relief program in motion. He is waiting for an answer.

Eugene Firm Plans to Buy Station KOCO

Negotiations for sale of Salem radio station KOCO to the Fisher family, operators of Oregon radio and television stations, were revealed Tuesday.

Application to the Federal Communications Commission seeking transfer of ownership from founder Loring Schmidt to Salem Broadcasting Co., was made in Salem Tuesday.

The new corporation would include Schmidt, C. O. Fisher of Eugene and his sisters, Jane Fisher of Eugene, and Mrs. Nancy Harrison of Roseburg.

Negotiations for sale of the station to a Salem group called the Kingwood Broadcasting Company, announced last July, had been discontinued, Schmidt said.

The Fishers involved in the new transaction are all children of Carl H. Fisher, whose recent request to activate Salem's choice television Channel 3, was denied by the Federal Communications Commission.

The Fishers now operate radio stations at Pendleton and Hood River, and radio-television interests at Eugene and Roseburg. C. C. Fisher, the son, is now president of radio KUGN in Eugene, and is state secretary of the Oregon State Broadcasters Association.

He and his father said Tuesday they planned to "extensively expand facilities and improve the services of KOCO," when they acquire ownership.

They said they expected the FCC to act on their application "within several weeks."

Doctors employed at the state mental and tuberculosis hospitals were granted emergency salary increases of $60 a month Tuesday by the state board of control.

Charles W. Terry, state civil service director, told the board that the increases were necessary in order to retain the doctors and to recruit new ones.

The new salaries, he said, will be comparable to those paid by California institutions, but below those paid in Washington state.

The pay raise affects 38 doctors at the State Hospital, Fairview Home and State Tuberculosis Hospital here and the two mental and TB hospitals in Eastern Oregon. They now receive between $275 and $915 a month, plus maintenance allowances.

To keep superintendents' salaries above the newly raised doctors' salaries, the board also voted to raise them by eliminating a $75 monthly subsistence charge now made against them.

Mansfield Backed For No. 2 Demo Post in Senate
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A move among Democratic senators to install Sen. Mansfield of Montana as their new "whip" won public support today from Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

The endorsement of Mansfield by Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, seemed to pretty well assure the Montanan of getting the No. 2 party post when the chamber convenes in January.

The whip is the leader's right hand man, working mostly behind the scenes to line up votes on pending bills but also pinch hitting in the top spot when the leader is absent.

Mansfield would succeed Sen. Clements of Kentucky, who was defeated for re-election by Republican Thurston Morton.

IKE PLAYS GOLF ROUND
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower took the afternoon off today for his first round of golf in nearly two months.

More of the cold weather that brought out scarfs and mittens Tuesday is expected in Salem tonight as the weatherman predicts a low of 32. Last night's low was 35.

There will be little chance of clearing today and clouds are forecast to be followed by rain late Thursday.

Six-Year Pacific Highway Jobs to Cost $71 Million

4-Lane Salem Bypass, Albany-Eugene 'Beeline' Due

More than $71 million of federal money will be spent on four-laning Highway 99E in the next six years, Oregon Highway Commission announced Tuesday.

The estimate includes construction of another two lanes on Salem Bypass and extension of a straight-line, four-lane highway from Salem to Eugene, plus several shorter projects between Eugene and the California state line.

A 12-year program, aided by Oregon's expected $642-million share of a $1-billion federal aid highway program over that period, calls for four-laning of the entire 99E route from Washington to California.

The 9.3-mile Salem Bypass project will cost $1,838,000 of the $71,534,000 six-year total, W. C. Williams, state highway engineer, estimated.

Construction between Salem and Eugene will include an entirely new road east of the present road for a 44-mile stretch from a point north of Albany to Judkins Point, near Eugene. This will cost an estimated $20,879,000, exclusive of right of way, Williams said.

Two lanes will be added to the present Salem-Albany route. Two miles of this were completed last summer, from the south end of Salem Bypass to Ilahae Junction, and 2.3-mile extension was placed under contract last week for completion next summer.

Also completed last summer was the four-lane Baldock Freeway from Portland to Salem.

Eugene Area Projects
Projects south of Eugene scheduled for the next six years are: Judkins Point to Goshen, 11-mile conversion to four-lane freeway, $1,206,000; Rice Hill to Chenoweth Park, 4.7 miles of new road, $1,391,000; Myrtle Creek to Canyonville, 9.2-mile conversion, $5,113,000; Jump Off Joe to Louise Creek, north of Grants Pass, 4.1 miles of new road, $1,915,000; Louise Creek to Grants Pass, 3.1-mile conversion, $377,000.

A two-mile section from Goshen to Cottage Grove was completed recently. Under construction is a 3.45-mile stretch from Roseburg to Myrtle Creek and a 1.23-mile section at Ford's Bridge, near Canyonville. A contract has been let for 1.79 miles from Ford's Bridge to Canyonville and the remainder of the route from Myrtle Creek to Ford's Bridge is expected to be under contract by January.

South of Grants Pass, the department plans to buy right of way in the next six years for a 22.9-mile route between Grants Pass and Rock Point, near Gold Hill, and build 14.9 miles at an estimated cost of $8,133,000, and buy right of way for 17.3 miles from Seven Oaks to Ashland and start construction on the $8-million project.

Tree Knocks Truck From Road; 1 Dead
EUGENE, Nov. 13 (AP)—A tree crashed into the old Willamette Pass Highway today, knocked a truck from the road and killed the driver.

Two persons were injured as the truck plunged into the middle fork of the Willamette River. A following pickup truck ran into the tree, and the driver of that vehicle also was injured.

Dean Thompson, about 35, of the Oakridge area, was driving a panel truck near Hell's Gate Bridge about 5 p. m. when the tree fell, killing him. Dick O'Brien and his son Dewey, were riding with Thompson. Dewey suffered a broken leg, his father lesser injuries.

Injured in the pickup truck was Eddie Roberts, Oakridge logging contractor. He was treated at an Oakridge clinic for minor injuries.

Ike Economic Adviser Quits
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Dr. Arthur F. Burns resigned today as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers—a group that keeps President Eisenhower posted on the economic state of the nation.

The White House announced the resignation, effective Dec. 1. It said Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, one of three members of the council, will become chairman.

Today's Statesman
Page Sec.
Ann Lenders 11 II
Classified 14, 15 II
Comes the Dawn 4 I
Comics 12 II
Crossword 13 II
Editorials 4 I
Home Panoramas 6, 7 I
Markets 13 II
Obituaries 12 II
Radio-TV 12 II
Sports 9, 10 II
Star Gazer 6 I
Valley News 11 II
Wirephoto Page 12 II

Sold A Housefull
Want-Ad brings 150 calls in 6 days ...

SACRIFICE by owner - leaving town. Deluxe Hotpoint built-in range, 18" oven. Dishwasher, built-in. $1,000.00. Bookcase, rug, 10000 items. Ph. 5-XXXX.

Solve problems the easy way. Place a Statesman Want-Ad. Ph. 4-6811.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 13—Mrs. William Koch, 97-year-old great grandmother with two children living, three grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, feeds wedding cake to her 77-year-old husband whom she married here tonight. (AP Wirephoto)