

Hungarian Leaders Confirm Paralyzing Strike Continues

By LYNN HEINZERLING
VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 18 (AP)—The government imposed on rebellious Hungary two weeks ago by Russian tanks confirmed tonight that strikes are still paralyzing many parts of the nation. It threatened stern measures to liquidate armed groups and "terrorists."

Gyorgy Marosán, minister of state in the Janos Kadar government, told Hungarians over Radio Budapest today that "Western imperialists" now were agitating for prolongation of the strike.

The strike, which apparently has brought a large segment of Hungarian industry to a standstill, was started by rebelling workers to enforce their demands for independence, freedom from Russian dictation and the restoration of Premier Imre Nagy, Titoist Communist, to power.

7-Year Old Directs Famous Symphony

By W. G. ROGERS
