By CHARLES IRELAND
Valley Editor, The Statesman
SALEM HEIGHTS, Nov. 20—Petitions calling for a new city of Salem Heights were handed out at a meeting here tonight.

which would be the southern boundary. To the east, the area would be bounded broadly by Southern Pacific right-of-way and Fairview Home, cutting west to 12th Street near Oak Hill Avenue.

Some 60 residents of the area attended the meeting. Gardner said a commission type of government "without a mayor" was contemplated if residents of the area favor incorporation. He said approximately 2,000 signatures were needed.

British Facing Prospect of Chilly Holidays as Oil Rationing Decreed

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The prospect of a cheerless and chilly Christmas was brought home to Britons today with the imposition of oil rationing.

shortage due to blocking of the Suez Canal. The order, rationing oil, brought with it the specter of austerity that hung over the nation's larger and industry during World War II and its aftermath.

Rationing will begin Dec. 17, Fuel Minister Aubrey Jones announced in the House of Commons to the jeers of opposition Laborites.

'Intellectual' Falls Heir to British Regime

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The reins of the British government have fallen temporarily into the hands of Richard Austen Butler, 54, a frosty and precise intellectual with a big ambition.

Butler, now Prime Minister Eden's top lieutenant, took over some of his chief's duties and responsibilities when Eden fell ill. He may one day take over them all.

IT SEEMS TO ME

By Charles F. Spurgeon

Speaker at the Salem Knife and Fork Club Monday night was Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota. In discussing the current political trend the senator described it as both parties crowding the center line of the political highway. Differences between the two big parties are now minimal. Voter decisions turn on personalities rather than political philosophies. This situation will change, he predicted; by 1960 there will be cleavage over issues. He was not very positive what the divisive issues would be, but he mentioned the familiar one of greater or less centralization of power in federal government.

It is very true that American political forces since about 1937 have been centrifugal rather than centripetal—an avoidance of extremes and a pressing toward the center. Democrats have disclaimed radicalism, and Republicans have denied they were forces of reaction. Nobody has been talking about "making America over."

Actually, however, this is not a new phenomenon in the history of American politics. For considerable periods of time the United States has functioned under the
