Mongrel With Plastic Patch Wins Honor

BOSTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A mongrel dog with a plastic patch on his heart was honored today as "Dog of the Year."

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's heart consultant, fastened an elegant new silver collar on the 44-pound, black and white mongrel, Airplane, in ceremonies at Children's Medical Center.

Joanne McLaughlin, 4, recovering from a week-old heart operation made possible by surgical research on Airplane's heart, aided Dr. White.

Airplane was named by the National Society of Medical Research as "Dog Research Hero of the Year." The award was established six years ago in recognition of services to humanity rendered by animals in medical progress.

A new surgical technique for repairing small holes between the left and right ventricles of the heart was developed by experiments on Airplane's heart.

Many children are born with this heart abnormality but are not adversely affected usually until they reach age of six or older. Uncorrected, the defect may result in death.
